THE GERMANS COUNTER DESPERATELY

While continuing to deliver hard blows upon the German lines in the Scarpe river region, east of Arras, where their offensive was resumed yesterday, the British have pushed home a telling thrust in another sector of the great battlefield.

Striking south of the Bapaume-Cambrai road, Gen Haig's forces gained ground last night along a wide front. Of greatest moment, however, was the success of the drive in reaching the important waterway between St. Quentin and Cambrai, the St. Quentin canal.

The canal was cut at a point east of Ephehy, near Vendhuille. In reaching it here the British pressed to within approximately two miles of Lecatelet, a railway junction point on the canal, to the south towards St. Quentin.

Pushing along the Peronne-Cambrai railway further north Gen. Haig's troops captured the villages of Beaumont and Villers-Plouich, which places them bare three miles from Maroing, another important railway center, three and one-half miles southwest of Cambrai.

On the main line of the Arras battle front, extending twelve miles from Croiselles north of Gavrelle, the British have not only maintained their positions against the desperate counter attacks the Germans are delivering in an effort to

GERMAN REVOLT IN BRAZIL SAID TO BE IMMINENT

Rio Janeiro, April 24.—Telegrams received here from Parana, confirm reports that the Germans in southern Brazilian states are concentrating in the state of Santa Catharina. It is believed a German insurrection in the south is imminent.

Deputy Jose Nabuco de Gouveia, of Rio Grande do Sul, returned to Rio Janeiro today and said he was able to confirm reports that the recent disturbances in Porto Alegre were caused by Germans. He declared that the native population was incensed and was determined to crush the Germans if they did not desist from their efforts to make trouble.

RUSSIANS STIRRED BY TORPEDOING OF A REFUGEE VESSEL

London, April 24.—Dispatches from Petrograd today state that the Russian socialists are greatly exercised over the sinking of a German submarine of the steamer Zara, which was taking home a number of Russian refugees. The Zara sailed on April 11 and was torpedoed in northern waters two days later.

Among those on board the Zara were Peter Karpovich, leader of the progressive movement among the students in Petrograd university, who lost his life, and M. Jensen, leader of the Lettish social democratic committee in London. Karpovich was sentenced to Siberia in 1901 for shooting

Washington, April 24.—Domination of the gasoline industry by Standard Oil interests, the federal trade commission reported to the senate today, has been largely responsible for high gasoline prices of the last two weeks.

The report, written after an exhaustive investigation into the entire petroleum industry declares interlocking stock ownership prevents any real competition among the various Standard Oil companies and the commission recommends legislation to permit re-opening of the "oil trust case" to obtain modifications of the supreme court's dissolution decree.

No conclusive evidence was found, it is stated, that collusion exists among the Standard companies in violation of the decree, but the commission's findings have been transmitted to the attorney general.

of Southern Continent.

London, April 24.—The Berlin newspapers publish an interview with Alfred Lohmann, president of the Ocean Navigation company, which operated the original German merchant submarines, in which he declared that the Anglo-Saxon races were plotting against the economic domination of the world. After asserting that the United States was already contemplating a post-bellum economic war, Herr Lohmann continued:

"This fact shows that a combination of the Anglo-Saxon races has laid down a new world economic foundation—an Anglo-Saxon economic blockade against which Europe must arm herself in time.

Monroe Doctrine for Europe.
"If President Wilson has finally dropped the Monroe doctrine, we must create such a doctrine for Europe. Through the abandonment of the Monroe doctrine, the dream of the United States of winning over the central and South American republics and founding a greater America outside of English influence, has vanished.

"Mark well that Chile maintains her neutrality. Mexico remains America's sworn enemy and Argentina will, in spite of the Buenos Aires incident, draw her political inspiration from Madrid and not from Washington. Pan-Americanism is dead but, instead, the Anglo-Saxon blockade becomes economically welded. Americans of Spanish blood will not side with the Anglo-Saxons for Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines are not yet forgotten.

Great Britain a Thug.

"The power which was able to cut off Europe from the world market and tenaciously pursue a war of starvation is not only the deadly enemy of the central powers but the thug of the whole European continent, including Russia and the Asiatic hinterland. The English channel marks the future economic division between Europe and

PUBLISHERS MEET IN ANNUAL COUNCIL

Association Are in New York.

New York, April 24.—Editors, publishers and advertising men from all parts of the United States and from Canada are here for the annual convention of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers' association held this week at the Waldorf-Astoria. The members of the Associated Press met this morning and the opening session of the A. N. P. A. will be held tomorrow.

One of the most important questions for discussion is that of the war censorship. George Creel, of the public commission on news, has addressed the convention, asking for aid and co-operation.

The high price of news print paper also will be discussed. The annual report of the bureau of advertising of the A. N. P. A. shows that the newspapers of the country during 1916 gained $15,000,000 over last year, while the magazines showed a gain of $9,000,000. A gain of 10 per cent in newspaper advertising was reported for the first three months of this year over the corresponding period in 1916 in spite of the fact that a record breaking figure was established in that year and in spite of conditions "that are unfavorable." The committee recommended the adoption of a plan to bring about an agreement against free publicity.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Lieutenant General Bridges, a member of the British commission, declared here today in a talk with newspaper correspondents that the British democracy had become "almost fanatical" over universal military service. The volunteer service under which the empire entered the war, General Bridges said, has cost the lives of the most valuable citizens, crippled industrial mobilization and immeasurably set back England's efforts in the war.

BOYS MAKE RUSH TO BECOME SPUD GROWERS

Fathers Are Bringing Sons

At least eighty boys between the ages of 14 and 17 years will have a healthful occupation this summer. Boys have been making a grand rush to the county agent's office enlisting as potato growers. In many instances fathers have brought their sons asking that their names be filed as applicants.

Any young boy who wishes to have a pleasant summer vacation occupation and one which will net results in cash should hurry to make application as only fifteen or twenty more are needed.

Flowing is proceeding rapidly on the twenty-acre tract east of the city. Half of the sod has been turned over by the big tractor. As soon as this tract has been made ready for planting the machinery will be moved to the grounds south of the city.

The county agent states that a survey of the potatoes in the country has been made and it is stated that if all the potatoes which are now in the country were planted the crop would not be enough more than needed.

ASK AMERICAN WRITERS TO GO OUT OF BERLIN

London, April 24.—1:12 p. m.—The German foreign office has notified the American correspondents who have remained in Berlin that their presence in Germany is no longer desirable, according to the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at The Hague. WAR ENVOYS OF FRANCE ARE IN UNITED STATES

Minister Viviana, Marshal Joffre and
on American Soil.

WILL REACH WASHINGTON WEDNESDAY

Washington, April 24.—The French commission has safely landed in the United States. This official statement was made early today by the government: "The department of state is advised of the safe arrival of the French commission."

The commission which includes Marshal Joffre and Former Premier Viviani, arrived early this morning on board a speedy steamship of the French line which was convoyed across the Atlantic.

The vessels were met off the coast by American torpedo boat destroyers and escorted to a port.

The naval and military attaches of the French embassy at Washington and American naval and military officers together with a representative of the state department, immediately boarded the French vessels and extended a welcome to American shores.

Later the state department issued this further statement: "The department of state is advised that the French mission will reach Washington tomorrow morning. The precise time and place of arrival will be announced later."

Story of the Arrival.
The Associated Press correspondent who accompanied the party from France, sends the following dispatch from the port of arrival:

As the ship bearing the French commission came into port today, American war ships broke out French colors from their masthead and American bands played the French national anthem. American and French sailors lined the rails of their respective ships. No salutes were fired. The voyage across the Atlantic was without event.

Warships passed out ahead of the French steamer into the danger zone, which, in this case, is one of the haunting places of German submarines.

After three years war service the celebrated liner which bore the party is a mixture of former elegance and rough temporary fittings. Horse racks and troughs line the main promenade deck, powder and shells are stored in some of the roomy private cabins, fore and aft, near the five and a half inch guns. Racks of repeating rifles are upon every landing. Life preservers are piled handily near the stairways. The same skipper who commanded the liner in the New York-Havre passenger service still is in command. Part of the guard turned back the second night out, but the remainder stayed with the party all the way over.

Brush Up on America.
The principal event of each day was the arrival of wireless news summaries. Books on America came out in surprising numbers and many of the mission could probably pass an examination in American history and

ROME LEARNS KAISER URGED TO ABDICATE

Rome, April 24.—Via Paris.—The Corriere de Italia, the clerical organ, declares that it is able to confirm reports published in the Spanish newspapers that the immediate following of the German emperor is exerting pressure on him to abdicate.

The paper says that at a recent meeting of the Hohenzollern family members, bolder than the rest, intimated that the emperor might save the situation by following the example of Emperor Nicholas. The German emperor, it is stated, is now in a state of pale and after observing that the general opinion was against him left the room muttering:

"We shall see."
The same evening he summoned another family council. The chancellor and some of the ministers were present but whatever passed remains unknown. Little importance is attached to this story in Italian political circles. In these quarters it is thought the story has a German origin and is put out with the intention of influencing

J. B. SHOAFF BADLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

Thrown from a Buggy That Had Been Hit by an Automobile.

James B. Shoaff, of 1123 Columbia avenue, was removed to St. Joseph hospital Tuesday, suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Shoaff and his grandson, Fred Shoaff, were returning from a trip into the country, and when about six miles from the city, were stopped by a man driving a car who inquired the way and distance. Mr. Shoaff was driving a horse, and while replying to the other traveler, Mr. Bowman, of Kendallville, drove up from the rear and hit the buggy with enough force to throw Mr. Shoaff out. He was rendered unconscious. The horse fortunately did not run and the child was uninjured. Mr. Shoaff landed on his head and back and injured both badly though no bones were broken. Bowman rendered all assistance possible, bringing both the man and child to their home and remaining to find the result of the physician's examination. Mrs. Shoaff felt that she would be able to nurse her husband all attention needed, but his recovery is slow and he is suffering much pain as well as from the shock, so it was deemed best to remove him to the hospital. Mr. Shoaff is a pioneer resident of Allen county, and his acquaintance is large and his friends are many.

SERVICE FOR

longer a war of expeditions, but is a case of nation against nation. Men, women and children are equally drawn into its vortex, the women and children being forced into industry and fed on half rations in order to supply the men at the front. War has become an immensely democratic business, and needs the full effort of every member of the community, directed along the lines most necessary to be served. General Bridges, while unwilling to be drawn into a discussion of specific American questions, talked freely of the difficulties which had beset England when at the beginning of the war she converted herself from a peace to a war basis and began the immense increase in her army from a small force to one of the greatest in Europe. "No officers to train volunteers," said General Bridges, "was the sending to Europe of practically our whole trained army as an expeditionary force. This robbed us of all training officers for our new recruits and it was only through returned wounded officers and the withdrawal of others that we were able to build the skeleton for our new forces. At the same time we allowed most of our better class youths, university men in many cases, to enter the ranks, which withdrew them from the officers class and placed that responsibility on far less well equipped persons. The wastage of the best blood of the nation was enormous. "It is my opinion that if it had not been for Kitchener's immense personality we should have had conscription within a few months. If Lord Roberts' proposal for universal service had been enforced, we should have saved enormously, not only in men but in industrial efficiency. The great majority of army officers would have done anything to have gotten rid of the volunteer system with which the country was at first saddled. "Eight months to train divisions," General Bridges estimated eight months as the necessary time to train a division. Individual recruits, however, may be made fit to go to the front in a short space of eleven weeks, provided they are distributed in proportions of fifty amongst two hundred trained men. War service is at least five times as valuable a training as peace service, he estimated. "Artillery must be in great preponderance," General Bridges said, "before an attack can be initiated. The bayonet, however, is still essential to finally rout the enemy out of his trenches. I estimate that the present successes on the western front are due to a British preponderance over the German artillery of at least 4 to 1. "There is absolutely no doubt as to the outcome of the war; the only question is as to its length. "Praise for French as Fighters. General Bridges commented briefly on the difficulties of making good

were present at the examination conducted Tuesday afternoon. The major will swear the successful candidates into service. Captain Went to Decatur. Captain Ray McAdams, commanding officer of Company E, went to Decatur, Tuesday afternoon, where he will assist in swearing in a large company organized in that city by Charles Dunn, a previous service man. It is stated that there are nearly 150 recruits awaiting to be examined and mustered into service.

Recruiting Continues. Recruiting in Company E and Battery D continues slowly and both organizations have nearly reached war strength. However, many men will have to be discharged on account of dependents which will cut a big hole in the number.

Late Tuesday afternoon no orders of any kind had been received by local officials. They refuse to make any statements as to when they expect to depart for the mobilization point.

Send Ninety-One.

Ninety-one recruits were sent from the Fort Wayne station, on Monday. A goodly per cent of that number was from Fort Wayne. The home city of the northern Indiana recruiting station is improving in its enlisting spirit, Captain Ryan says.

Officers' Reserve Corps. Orders have been received by Capt. George Byrde from the war department asking that he use all efforts in having men within a radius of fifty miles of Fort Wayne enlist in the officers' reserve corps. He was also appointed examining officer. Young men who qualify for this branch of the service will go to Fort Benjamin Harrison on May 8, where they will be taught the military game. After attending the school at this place they will be given an examination to receive a commission in the army. This is an excellent opportunity and it is believed many will avail themselves.

Organize Training Camp. The Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver club is considering the feasibility of organizing a training camp to be placed at the disposal of civilians so that a military training somewhat along the line of that obtained at Plattsburg and other camps, although on a much smaller scale, can be obtained by Fort Wayne citizens without going away from town.

The club members are anxious to find out how much use will be made of such a camp, and would like to have anyone interested send his comments to either E. A. Wagner or G. R. Gavelin, in care of General Electric company.

Darwin Myers, of Home avenue, and Lloyd Heston Allen and Maurice Rohan, of Highland, left Monday to go into training for the coast artillery branch of the regular army.

A special train with about a dozen coaches filled with soldiers passed through Fort Wayne Monday evening, going west on the Nickel Plate railroad.

geography. Such is the confidence of the French cabinet in M. Viciani that they gave him no written instructions. Joffre's fellow members in the mission had an opportunity during the voyage to come into intimate contact with him. Although social in his attitude Joffre is a silent man by habit. He joined in the conversation at table by occasionally telling anecdotes of the battle front. Sometimes he would unexpectedly utter a judgment upon an important phase of the military situation in Europe. His habit was to listen to the talk about him, smile appreciatively and sometimes add a remark. The marshal has been known to listen in silence for five hours to a general's exposition of a situation.

Something About Joffre. Those who have worked with Marshal Joffre find the distinguished quality of his mind to be equilibrium of faculties. He likes to assemble the facts and by a stroke of logic reach to the heart of a problem. A paper will be submitted to him. He will read it without remark, laying it upon the table, take it up next day, strike out, reduce the remainder to an admirable condensation. Thus, his orders on the battle of the Marne do not make altogether four type written pages. Joffre kept his small staff very busy on the ship working on documents relating to his present station in Washington of aspects of the military situation. Neither he nor his staff have been taking a holiday. The marshal is prepared, if President Wilson should ask, to lay before him the exact military situation. He will, if requested, indicate what, in his judgment, America might do.

Old Warrior Glad to Be Here. "I look forward with extraordinary interest to the experiences I am likely to have in America," said Marshal Joffre to the staff correspondent of the Associated Press, who accompanied him on his mission. "First of all I shall meet your president, whom we have learned to look upon in Europe as one of the greatest statesmen of our time, great in his gifts of leadership, in his practical every day stem the tide against them at this vital spot, but have made additional progress east of Monchy-le-Trou and near Roex. The solid nature of the British gains, despite the violent German efforts to nullify them, is shown in the report of another particularly heavy counter attack delivered this morning on the village of Gavrelle, on the Arras-Douai road, captured yesterday, which the British successfully withstood. All the German counter strokes were delivered "with great determination and regardless of losses," says the British report.

Along the Aisne and in the Champagne the French are playing their part in the great battle by keeping up a heavy artillery fire while preparing for their next important infantry movement. Incidentally, in local operations they improved their positions at some points, notably in Chemin des Dames plateau. In Mesopotamia the British are continuing their victorious progress up the Tigris valley. After fighting a hot battle with the Turks south of Samarra, seventy miles northwest of Baghdad, they occupied Samarra station, making important captures, including sixteen locomotives and 225 railway trucks. The pursuit of the Turks is being continued northward on the Tigris.

Sofia reports the repulse by the Bulgarians of a British attack in Macedonia between the Vardar and Lake Doiran, which followed drum fire preparation. The little news that trickled across the German frontier indicates that the authorities have gained the upper hand over the strikers by the drastic method of militarizing the munition industry and forcing strike leaders into the fighting ranks. It is too early and information is too meagre to say whether these stern measures of repression have definitely crushed the startling storm of discontent which has swept over the German empire.

The only news from Austria in some days is to the effect that the pan-German leaders have emerged as victors in the struggle for control of the government. The news is vague, however, and comes by a roundabout route. Reliable information as to conditions in the dual monarchy is absolutely lacking.

BRITISH GAIN GROUND.

London, April 24.—(2:03 p. m.)—The British gained ground on a wide front last night, south of the Bapaume-Cambrai road. They reached the St. Quentin canal at one point. Further north the villages of Beaucamp and Villers-Polouch were captured. The positions gained by the French front yesterday, says the official statement today, were maintained and further progress was made east of Monchy and near Roex. More than 1,500 prisoners were taken in yesterday's operation and many more are coming in.

DISCOUNTS ALLIED ADVANCE.

Amsterdam, April 24.—Major Morant, writing in the Tages Zeitung, says that the results of the French offensive are hitherto completely unimportant. Major Morant writes: "The possession of single portions of terrain such as trenches, villages and borders of woods, no longer plays a decisive role, in deeply echeloned and fortified zones. The aim of the German defense is, even at the cost of abandoning the dead together with war materials and portions of positions, to maintain our own strength while destroying that of the enemy and preventing him from attaining his strategic aim, which is to break through. For this purpose it is necessary to keep the fighting lines mobile." The writer considers that by yielding at some points the Germans may force their opponents to fight without the support of their heavy artillery and consequently expose them to destruction by the German infantry and artillery fire. These tactics, he claims give repeated opportunities for German counter attacks with reserves, who are outside the range of the enemy fire. He concludes: "Tactical success in modern battles is not judged by the gain of single portions of terrain or the amount of booty, but depends on the complete physical and moral disorganization of the enemy, owing to their loss of strength through the destructive efforts of artillery fire. This aim has been attained by the Germans in the gigantic struggle on the western front. The first and greatest attacks of the English and French failed, being choked by the blood of the attackers. Further attempts will be made to break through, and fresh fighting is ahead of us, but our troops look forward to it with undiminished confidence."

DISCUSS BELGIAN RELIEF.

London, April 24.—11:20 a. m.—A meeting of expert official advisers to the food controller and experts from the Belgian relief commission was held this morning at which the relief members gave an account of the bread card system employed in Belgium. It was said that upon the result of this conference depended largely whether the food controller would institute a rationing system for Great Britain or would rely merely on the control of supplies.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

BACK IN SCHOOL.

Bluffton, Ind., April 24.—Boys of the senior class of the high school have all returned to their classes as the result of a settling up of class color troubles. Last Wednesday, after the senior class colors were found in the trunk of the high school, Principal R. W. Johnson dismissed the boys of the senior class until the ones placing the colors on the building were found out. Sunday six boys made a statement that they had participated in putting the colors up and in the signed statement said that they did not do it other than in the act of a prank and not to cause trouble in the school curriculum. Four other boys signed the statement this morning.

PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATION.

Bluffton, Ind., April 24.—A salute of thirteen guns marked the formal opening Tuesday of the great Wells county patriotic demonstration in Bluffton. The first discharge of big gun artillery was at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and the other five-minute intervals. William Fields had charge of the military salutes and he fired two-pound discharges of dynamite. The detonations carried for many miles and informed residents throughout the county districts that the program of the day had opened and summoned them to participation in the patriotic event.

CITY DRAFTS RICH AND POOR TO TILL SOIL FOR MORE FOOD.

School boys and girls of Excelsior, leaving their games, cut seed potatoes for planting in the municipal gardens.

(Staff Special.)

Excelsior, Minn., April 24.—Excelsior has adopted the conscription idea to raise more food. All available land has been conscripted and all available citizens drafted to work the land.

The plan is the newest thing in the matter of helping win the war by raising more food, and is working successfully. It offers an idea for other cities.

Leading citizens of Excelsior saw the city was facing food shortage and high prices. They formed a committee and began conscripting land and gardeners. Every man able to handle a hoe, who did not enlist in the army or navy, was drafted.

The committee listed all unused land in and near the city, took census of every man, woman and child, and from this list excluded those who had back-yard gardens or were physically unable to work in a garden. It assigned a tract of land to each of the rest.

Wealthy inhabitants have bought seed for the poorer folk. Mrs. August Berg, mother of six children and wife of a man dying of cancer, got an acre of land, eight bushels of seed potatoes, and the town's leading men are helping her get her garden planted.

Business men take their garden tools instead of golf club to office and store and after work make a bee-line to the municipal garden.

The richest man in this city wouldn't dare sit on his front porch these evenings or play golf. His neighbors would call him a "slacker!"

The rich man's wife has discontinued playing bridge; she's taking canning lessons. So is her daughter.

T. W. Little, of the agriculture station in St. Paul, was secured to give daily lessons on gardening and canning.

High school students stay in after classes and cut seed potatoes for the city's garden service army.

The cabbage and tomato vine are supplanting the rose and lily in Excelsior.

Leading citizens are acquiring technique with the hoe, and housewives are figuring on the chance of stocking their cellars so generously, winter visits to the grocery store will be rare.

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME SLIM

Fat persons will be interested to learn that they may easily reduce their weight without starvation diet or tiresome exercise. Fat all you need, but chew your food thoroughly, so that you will not overtax your assimilative organs, get fresh air and take a few drops of oil of korein four times a day.

Oil of korein (five drops to the capsule) may be obtained from the drugists. This preparation is absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and is purposed (in connection with the other simple directions) to reduce fatty accumulations in the system.

If you would like to obtain a test of oil of korein, free, by mail, with an interesting booklet, write to Korein Company, 180 C. Arcade, East 28th street, New York, N. Y. The free booklet is entitled: "Reduce Weight Happily," and will delight you. How to reduce pursty abdomen, double chin, large limbs, obesity, hips and other overcast parts of the body.

Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight. Footsteps become lighter, the skin more firm and smoother in appearance, work seems easier, and a more buoyant feeling takes possession of the whole being as superfluous and unhealthy fat disappears.

If you are ten to sixty pounds over normal weight, you should give this treatment a trial. You will probably find that it is just what you need. A steady and very noticeable reduction may be expected.

Funds Cut to Half.

From the day in which it was decided that the sum of $225,000 would be ample to give Fort Wayne a municipal assembly hall of a size, appointments and architectural character that would answer every public need and reflect credit on the community there has been a train of events that constantly decreased the purchasing power of that much money.

To begin with, the sum decided upon as sufficient was determined by the probability that nothing would have to be spent for a building site. Public opinion declined to accept any situation that the city itself had to offer, either on the municipal ground along Clinton street or in any of the parks. Thirty-five thousand dollars already has gone for a site that itself is inadequate for the purpose, though the location is most eligible.

Since the financial plans were made the costs of labor and building materials have constantly risen. They are higher today than ever and the prospect seems certain that the peak has not been reached.

All things taken together, it is no exaggeration to say that an assembly hall possible of realization from the funds available can at best be but 50 per cent. of the building that was in mind when the project first took definite form. Will such a result be a realization of the public ambition and enterprise that gave impulse to this project and dictated an almost unanimous declaration of purpose when the bond issue was voted on?

We believe there ought to be delay of this enterprise until normal times and conditions return. It will deprive Fort Wayne of the use of the assembly hall for a period, but what the community has made shift to get along without for decades it can get along without for another year or two. The gain will be great and disappointment will be escaped.

Doing Well-Do Still Better

Fort Wayne is responding well to the country's call for greater food production, but the response should be general. This is the one material and direct way in which everybody can add something to the nation's resources of defense in a crisis when defense will be put to the test. Only the strong young men can go to the fighting line. Only those who have money can invest in bonds. Only the wealthy have incomes that can be conscripted. But everybody can do something toward increasing the food supply.

It should be borne in mind that America, in common with the rest of the world, has a serious food shortage. The necessity of greater food production was acute and perfectly clear before the advent of war made an increase of foodstuffs an imperative condition of national security. Now that war has put the nation under stern compulsion to defend itself in every way that can add to the national security, increase of food crops transcends the mere question of economic wisdom and becomes an inescapable duty of patriotism.

This task of duty is not one that entails any sacrifice. Every man and woman and boy and girl who engages in this work will get the benefit of it. Those who merely raise food crops for their own consumption will save money by it and those who raise food crops for the market will make money by it. Every pound of food thus produced will add that much to the country's defensive resources and make America stronger and greater and more useful to a whole world that is suffering from the shortage of food.

Fort Wayne is doing well, but must do still more. Those who have soil of their own and are able to cultivate it should do so. Those who have soil and are unable or unwilling to work upon it owe the use of it to those who will make it produce.

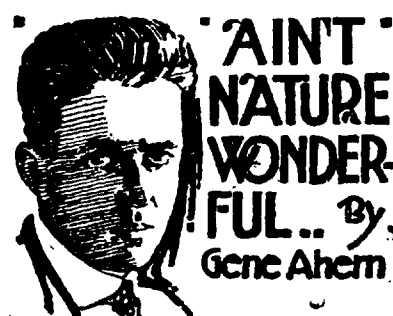

Germany's future will be determined largely by the character of the counsel that the ruling powers accept in this crisis of war and politics. If the word of the Reventlows is to stand above the aspirations and demands of the great mass of the people in whom the spirit of democracy has been stirred and quickened, the future will not be happy for the people nor secure for the dynasty.

A good many years ago a certain great citizen said that America was so fertile that "if you but tickled it with a hoe it laughed with a harvest." That same land is still just as ticklish. Try it.

Sketches from Life :: By Temple

"Please, May I See My Daddy?"

THE MYSTERY MYSTERIOUS.

(Chapter Two.)

"Smyth!" The word came as a whisper as Lawrence Idarey, the great detective, lifted the almost empty flask to his lips again.

"Have you a blotter?" Smyth dropped the wheelbarrow and fumbled through his pockets.

"No," replied Smyth. Idarey looked weary. "But he's an idiot," rejoined Smyth as he searched the lining of his cap.

"That will answer the purpose," silently answered Idarey in a hoarse voice. Quickly the great detective put the pick in his right hand pocket and took a mallet and a small hammer from his disguise trunk as Smyth held the lantern so that the rays fell left handed.

In a few short seconds Idarey had the disguise on.

"Hand me that gyro camera in my bag under the feather duster," he ordered of Smyth, his genial assistant.

"Very good, sir," returned Smyth, his genial assistant, as he feverishly delved into that bag of mysteries owned by Lawrence Idarey, the great detective.

The thoughts ran amuck through Smyth's brain as he searched for the camera. "I wonder what's up now," he asked himself as he held the camera forth to Idarey as the great detective emptied the flask.

LAKESIDERS WOULD BLOW UP PORTABLES

Vast Number of Women Ask School Board for Better Accommodations.

Women in Lakeside broke the news to the school board at its meeting Monday afternoon that they wished the portable school buildings now in use in their section of the city would be blown up. The object of the delegation was to ask the board for better accommodations in Lakeside. In particular they wanted the board to erect an addition to the present building so that the seventh and eighth grade pupils could go to school there and not be forced to cross the river.

There was much need of the demonstration for the school board after listening to the various phases of argument informed them that they knew the needs of the Lakeside school and had already decided to begin work on the building next spring.

The school board had other visitors. Eight women and one man from the Franklin school district were also given encouragement and were told that they should return home feeling satisfied that the board would also grant their wishes for improved school accommodations.

The houses located on the lots east of the Hoagland school, east of the South Wayne school, and the two houses west of the Bloomingdale school, will be placed on sale. These properties in addition to all vacant lots owned by the board will be turned over to city planning.

The board ordered the placing of outside drinking fountains at the Hoagland school and also ordered that all playgrounds should be put into condition at once.

LITTLE GIRL'S SKULL FRACTURED BY AUTO

Youngest of Three Accident Victims in Critical State.

Ruth Hewen, six-year-old daughter of Earl J. Hewen, 226 West Superior street, suffered a fractured skull and severe body bruises when she was struck by an automobile while playing in the street before her home, Monday afternoon. She is in the St. Joseph hospital, where her condition is pronounced as critical.

William Klinger, 507 West Main street, manager of the Klinger Trucking company, was driving the automobile which injured the girl. Klinger was arrested Monday evening on a charge of assault and battery. He is at liberty under $500 bond, signed by Perry Stahl. His case was continued in police court Tuesday morning until condition of the child could be definitely determined.

Klinger says the small girl ran against the side of his machine when he was driving slowly along the street. He tells that the girl was standing near the north curbing of the street when she suddenly turned and struck against his car. Klinger stopped his machine and returned to aid in caring for the child.

The man's story is corroborated by Hazel Ross, 5, daughter of Mrs. Raymond Claycomb, 320 West Superior street, and Mildred Ramsey, 9, 327 West Superior street. They tell that they were playing along the street when the accident occurred. They say that the little playmate ran against the automobile and was hurled to the pavement.

Dr. E. H. Kruse was summoned to examine the child. At first it was believed that the girl was crying piteously because of fear and that the wounds about her face and arms were the extent of her injuries. Later the physician found that her skull was fractured and ordered her removed to the hospital. The ambulance of the Fort Wayne Transfer company, which was summoned, took part in a collision with the automobile of Dr. Charles J. Rothschild, while enroute to the hospital. The machines were slightly damaged.

An operation was performed on the child on Monday evening. She seemed to rally well from the ordeal. As yet her condition is uncertain, however.

Other Accidents.

Helen Bennett, 8, daughter of Mrs. R. C. Bennett, 19 Bank block, had her left leg fractured when she ran against the automobile driven by Michael Fenton, 1307 Barthold street, late Monday afternoon. The accident occurred on Lafayette street, between Wayne and Berry streets. Fenton took the injured child to the Lutheran hospital, where she is being cared for.

The auto driver reported that he was turning into the alley at the west of Lafayette street when the girl ran against the side of his car and was knocked down. He stopped his machine promptly and assisting the child to the automobile, hastened with her to the Lutheran hospital.

William Ormsby was knocked down and received a deep cut above his right eye when he was hit by a heavy auto truck. Ormsby was standing in the doorway of the Klinger Trucking company barn, on North Clinton street, when Charles Stahlhut, driving a machine for the Brown Trucking company, attempted to turn into the building and hit Ormsby.

LEADING MEN ASK WAR PROHIBITION

Say Grain Used in Making Booze is Needed for Food Purposes.

Washington, April 24.—If the action of the democratic caucus favoring war prohibition threw the liquor interests into consternation, as the report goes, it also brought to the prohibition ranks a large number of prominent and influential men who are in favor of the dry policy during the war on strictly business and economic grounds.

"I am firmly convinced," said F. A. Vanderbilt, of the National City bank, of New York, "that a national prohibition measure would be of transcendent importance in its effect upon national spirit, conserving and increasing our food supply, releasing labor for other productive channels when the need is acute. The plants could be quickly brought to industrial uses for which the need is so pressing."

Howard Elliott, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad said: "Favor national prohibition during the war. Effect on health, efficiency and economy would be very great."

David R. Forgan, president of the National City bank, of Chicago: "Prohibition during the war would help meet the food crisis, promote health and efficiency. I am for it."

Gov. Brumbaugh, of Pennsylvania: "Absolutely for war prohibition. Conditions demand it."

Gov. Alexander, of Idaho: "Experience demonstrates prohibition one of the greatest economic measures. Am very much for it."

Gov. Catts, of Florida: "National prohibition would prevent serious diseases in army, save food and increase production."

Gov. Bilbo, of Mississippi: "The crisis of war demands every man at his best. I am for national war prohibition."

Gov. Capper, of Kansas: "Patriotism demands it."

Gov. Harris, of Georgia, has called a conference of all governors to meet in the city of Washington, May 4th to consider what action the states should take to meet the food crisis, and fortify for the strain that war will impose on all their resources.

GLAD TO LEARN OF IT.

April's changeable weather causes colds that lead to expensive doctor bills—bills that could be avoided if the cold were checked in time. C. Smith, 1421 21st St., Akron, Ga., writes: "I got one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and my cough and cold is about well. I was glad to learn of a great medicine like that." Foley's Honey and Tar enjoys such a splendid reputation that it is often imitated. Of course, no substitute or imitation is as good as the genuine. Dreier Drug Co.—Advertisement.

BY A GARDENER.

You will find it advantageous to grow small quantities of certain specialties which will add to the attractiveness of the family fare. Among these may be mentioned okra or gumbo, mustard greens, and parsley.

Soups, stews and gravies may be improved by a little okra. Gumbo soup can become a meal, almost, by itself. Cut into slices and spread alternately with rice and tomatoes in a casserole, with butter, in which curry powder and salt has been mixed. Baked three hours, it is an appetizing dish.

The young pods of this plant are the part used. The heat pods are grown on young plants, but if the pods are removed before they are allowed to ripen, the plants will continue to produce them until killed by frost.

The seeds of okra should be sown in the open about the middle of May or may be started in berry boxes in the house before then.

Mustard greens may be sown thickly and the leaves are soon ready for picking. Sown again in late summer for winter greens.

Parsley, too, may be sown thickly, in rows or scattered broadcast. This may be grown between rows of late vegetables, and may follow early vegetables for a late crop.

RABBIT TRAPPING HAS BOOM IN AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, Australia, April 24.—Rabbit-trapping and exportation of refrigerated rabbits has experienced a boom as a result of the war. Heretofore the rabbits have been a curse to Australia and millions of pounds sterling have been expended in an effort to eradicate them.

Lately, however, the commonwealth authorities have been taking an active interest in rabbits for consumption both in Australia and abroad. The view that the rabbit is a pest which should be exterminated is not being encouraged. Steps have been taken by the government to have the poisoning of the animals suspended, and trappers are being urged to maintain the output for consumption.

Undoubtedly this policy is a result of the war strain upon food supplies in Great Britain and among the other entente allies. A month or two ago the British government notified the commonwealth government that it had decided to buy the whole of the surplus of Australian refrigerated rabbits for the season of 1917. The transaction will involve about $2,500,000. Last season Australia exported 10,296,000 pairs of rabbits, showing the extent of the supply which Great Britain has contracted to take.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Rose Aiken, of Decatur, Ill., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stegel, of Jones street.

Mrs. Elmer Rauh, of Dayton, O., and little daughter, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Ida Rothschild, of Jackson street.

Mrs. Julia A. Lange and daughter, Juliette Marie, returned Monday evening from a three months' trip through Florida, via New York city.

Miss Elizabeth Felker, of Washington boulevard, is to leave on Wednesday for Lansing, Mich., to spend the summer.

Miss Elinor Carpenter, of 441 East Taber street, has returned from an end of the week visit in Kokomo and Peru.

Mr. Youngs, of Lakeland, Florida, who had been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Pixley, has gone on a business trip to Buffalo and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Evans have returned to Toledo after a few days' visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kuhns and Mrs. A. S. Bond.

Mrs. Jack Schloss, of St. Joseph, Mo., is expected in the city on Wednesday, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Marx Frank, of Washington boulevard west.

Mrs. E. Rosenthal and daughter, of Washington boulevard west, have as guests the grandchildren of the family, Miss Jeanette Brunswick and Robert Rosenthal, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam E. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Taylor are planning to go to Ann Arbor, Mich., to attend the May music festival which will be held the first week in May.

The Twentieth Century club luncheon will be held on Thursday, at the Wayne hotel, with Mrs. W. K. Wilder as toastmaster. The club numbers twenty-six active members.

Miss Marian Cutting, of Indianapolis, is visiting Miss Josephine Henderson, 554 Columbia avenue for two weeks, and is here to attend several social affairs of the present week.

Mrs. Paul Newell Turner, of New York city, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Sperry, of Fairfield avenue, for five weeks, expects to leave on Thursday for the east.

Mrs. Lillian Wilson and Mrs. Lillian Giebel, violinists, will play at the session of the Grand Chapter of Order of Eastern Star.

Miss T. Koehler, of Maumee avenue, entertained a few friends at a dinner party on Monday evening in honor of two visitors, Messrs. Gates Hayer, of South Bend, and Philip Eickenberry, of Chicago, who are on their way to the Aero training camp at Ft. Thomas, Ky.

The dancing party at the Anthony hotel Tuesday evening appears to be the most important social event of the week. Very clever arrangements have been made by the Sophie B. Wright circle, who have the party plans in charge, in the way of black and white decorating and many costumes to carry out the two colors promise originality and beauty.

People have decided at the last moment to go.

One of the loveliest of before-the-wedding parties was the one Miss Vera Nipper gave on Monday evening at her home in Wallace street, to honor Miss Mary Eckrich, who is to be wed in May.

The much favored colors of pink and white were expressed in many roses, baskets of candy, pink candles in tiny crystal holders, pink ice cream with white cupid, white cake with pink frosting and a cascade of roses for Miss Eckrich. Miss Eckrich was also showered with gifts.

The evening was spent principally in visiting with some variety in the way of music and games. Participating were Misses Norah Klotz, Loretta Eckrich, Bernadette Eckrich, Theresa Drup, Ella Streibig, Mrs. John Poiry, Mrs. John Eckrich, Mrs. Clem Klotz, Mrs. Arthur Harris, Mrs. Ed Wakelem.

A Country Party.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Oswald, who live on Hilly Grass road, not far from the city, were given an agreeable surprise party on April 20 by friends of the neighborhood, who learned the day was the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald.

Preparation had been made for refreshments, music, games and a silver gift for the surprised host and his wife.

There were present to enjoy the anniversary gathering Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stolle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Will Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lowther, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prange, Mr. and Mrs. George Honauer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Honauer, the Misses Lizzie Stolle, Alma and Esther Kariger, Bertha Henning, Myrtle Bayers and Messrs. ARTISTIC SEWING IS MADE POSSIBLE

Any Woman Can Make Her Own Pretty Clothes if She So Chooses.

All the women who could get within hearing, heard in the basement of the Wolf & Dessauer store this morning, an illustrated talk on sewing and dressmaking by Miss Olive Elrich.

While Miss Elrich is demonstrating the Free sewing machine and her work is all done on a machine of that make while she is lecturing, there is much information crowded into one of her talks that will help any woman who ever sews or who wants to learn to sew, it will make no difference how good a sewing machine she may have at home. It is the gain in efficiency and dispatch and the new ideas that enter one's head that counts. Incidentally if one gets the impression that the Free sewing machine excels any other make she ever saw demonstrated, she will be likely to take advantage of the offer the agent for the manufacturer, who is not Miss Elrich, makes for the week.

Miss Elrich's manner of making buttonholes, alone, is worth a price of admission, if there was one charged. To learn how to make buttonholes in your tailored gown or on the thinnest chiffon or georgette crepe you want, on a sewing machine, is in itself a wonderful thing in sewing. Miss Elrich is a fascinating talker, but so practical and easy to understand that everyone goes home to talk about her, as well as her work. An interesting thing happened this morning. Miss Elrich was demonstrating how to make a dress from squares of cloth. She made a model and had besides a life size dress of the same pattern for illustrating. Miss Elrich gave credit to the Woman's Institute at Scranton, Pa., for the design, saying the gown was the work of a New York met certain requirements she had been seeking and her investigation led to her finding where the gown came from. Miss Elrich made a slight alteration of the skirt, using two square pieces of cloth for the skirt instead of one, and goring the tops a little. As she concluded her demonstration Ora Cne arose from the audience and surprised Miss Elrich as well as everyone else by saying that the design had originated at his home here and was worked out by his sister, Mrs. John Anderson. Mr. Cne also stated that he had used the Free machine for some time, but that his interest in the talk this morning arose from the fact that he read that Miss Elrich was to make a dress from squares of cloth and he was curious to know if the original design was his.

But to get back to the buttonholes, and the placket, and the hemstitching the children's clothes and all the other things that Miss Elrich tells about and shows you how to do, in these days of the h. c. l., demonstrate to any woman that there is a way to be well dressed without much of the worry incident to big bills or the home dressmaking that has never satisfied her. Miss Elrich talked and heard this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and will be heard on Wednesday, the last day, at 9:30 and 2:30 o'clock.

Correct dry cleaning is our business. Peerless, phone 6095.

PROMINENT WOMEN DOING RED CROSS WORK

Interest is Far Beyond Expectations of Those in Charge.

Leading Fort Wayne women are actively engaged in Red Cross work and the interest that is being manifested is far beyond the expectations of those in charge.

New classes in the making of hospital supplies are to be seen at headquarters every day to deposit their dollar entitling them to membership. With this sort of spirit being shown it is thought certain that the securing of a base hospital for Fort Wayne will be easily accomplished.

Members of the hospital supply class Monday afternoon were Mrs. Oscar Fox, Mrs. C. M. Nizer, Mrs. Ed Gilmartin, Mrs. Roger L. Fisher, Mrs. E. C. Miller, Mrs. Guy Scott, Mrs. Edwin J. Fisher, Mrs. James Shields, Mrs. Hannah H. Mohr, Mrs. Clem App, Miss Helen Magee, Miss Margaret Smith, Mrs. J. M. Van Camp, Mrs. C. A. Stockbridge and Mrs. R. L. Spald.

Tuesday morning's hospital supply class included the following: Miss Sadie Fleming, Mrs. Frank Stouder, Mrs. R. L. Magee, Mrs. H. H. Gortner,

Perfection Biscuit Company Allow Employees to Quit an Hour Earlier.

Without reducing the pay whatsoever the Perfection Biscuit company has ruled that its employees can quit work an hour earlier than usual and go home and do their garden work. The order goes into effect April 25 and will continue until May 4. This is the first company in the city which has decided to co-operate with its employees in regards to raising garden produce.

The statement as issued by the company is as follows: "The United States government and the governor of the state have called for co-operation with the National Food Relief committee by planting and cultivating gardens of vegetable food products. This movement being promoted throughout the entire country and we should consider it a patriotic duty to respond."

"In order that each of our employees who have any gardens may get their planting in at once we will shorten

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

ANTWERP NEWS.

Antwerp, Ohio, April 24.—When turning a corner Sunday, the auto in which John Cleveland and sons, Earl and Mitchell, and John Majors and George Noys were riding, turned over, the latter receiving a broken arm, the others escaping with some bruises only. The injured man was taken to the St. Joseph hospital, where the fracture was reduced.

Lacy Traylor, Isaac Boice, David Barnhart, Harry Curins, William Jordan and Earl Seelye motored to Toledo and return Sunday. Burton Hessel, the accommodating clerk at the Grant & Co.'s grocery, went over to Fort Wayne Sunday, firmly convinced it was his duty to enlist and do his bit for his country. Not being able to get assigned to the cavalry or infantry division, there being no opening except in the light artillery, he returned home to await a more favorable opening.

Died, at her home here, after a lingering illness, Mrs. Merica Doering, aged 75 years. The deceased is another of our pioneer residents that has been called, her life having been spent in this vicinity. She was a woman of noble qualities, beloved by all, and her passing is grieved by all. Funeral from her late home, Monday at 2:30 p. m., Rev. George B. Sessions, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiated. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Miss Lizzie Brown, of Fort Wayne, came Monday for a visit with her brother, Allen Doering, and family, out at the farm home, west of town, this week.

Mrs. Ossie Yaney went to Fort Wayne, Saturday to visit friends for a few days.

Mrs. E. J. Kigar, of Fort Wayne, is spending a few days here this week, caring for her aunt, Mrs. Susan Zuber, who is an invalid, being confined to her home with rheumatism.

Jean Marlin, one of our respected residents, aged about 65 years, met with what might have resulted in a fatal accident Saturday. When crossing the street he was run down by a motor truck. The front wheels ran over his body, and when he was extricated he was found to be pretty badly bruised. He is now able to be around. Cline Majors and Ted Hawkins notified.

HOW SUBMARINES CAN REACH PACIFIC.

This shows the 14,000-mile route German submarines must follow to reach the Pacific coast, where they are now reported operating. The star indicates the German-settled southern states of Brazil, where it is possible a relay base is operated. Chile, on the west coast of South America, furnishes the American nitrate supply, which would be threatened by any considerable number of U-boats. Pacific bases are suspected on the Mexican coast or various uninhabited islands.

The really wonderful thing about all specials offered by the Outfitters, is that, not only do we make homefurnishing sensations from a price standpoint, but we offer our liberal credit terms on the special prices we make. For instance we know of no occasion when such a lot of good furniture was ever offered for such a low price and DELIVERED INTO YOUR HOME ON THE SMALL PAYMENT OF $1.50. On our plan you can enjoy a home of convenience, elegance and comfort and pay for it while you have the advantage of its possession.

The Value and Why We Can Offer It to You

This entire five-piece outfit is worth every cent of $25.00. On our visit to the furniture market, along with the other score or more of stores in our buying chain, this body of buyers contracted with a prominent manufacturer to take many hundreds of these sets provided his price was right. Naturally on such a big order the manufacturer's price would be cut to the lowest possible figure. Our allotment of these sets quickly sold out and we now offer our re-order.

Detailed Description of This Living Room Set

First we want to emphasize that every piece in this set is exactly like the illustration. It will look exactly like that in your home. The model is massive, the design being along the popular and dignified straight lines prevalent in the always good mission furniture. The finish is dark brown fumed oak; the upholstery of durable Spanish Drill Leather. The chairs and rocker are roomy, arms broad and depth of seat conducive to comfort. The table has broad top and undersheft for magazines and papers.

REFRIGERATORS

The New 'Ice Berg' for Better Food Less Ice

Made of seasoned hardwood; extra heavy overlapping doors; golden oak finish; insulated with Bird's Patent Sheathing; ice chambers lined with galvanized sheet steel; provision chambers lined with steel and white porcelain enamel on steel; genuine bronze locks and hinges; tinted woven wire shelves; corrugated galvanized steel ice rack; galvanized steel pan and pan boards; removable drain pipe; automatic drip pipe; automatic drip trap; self-retaining nuptle wheel casters; perfect cold dry air circulation. By the simple force of gravity, the cold air falls to the lowest point of the Refrigerator, entering the provision compartment, then displaces the lighter air, forcing it up through the air flues into top of ice chamber, as shown in sectional view. When coming in contact with the ice and zinc under it, all the moisture and impurities are condensed, passing off through the drip pipe. This dry, pure air then passes into the provision chamber, again forcing the air up into the ice chamber to be again relieved of its impurities by coming in contact with the ice, thence down into the provision chamber, thereby keeping up a positive circulation of Pure, Cold Dry Air, the three necessary conditions for the preservation of perishable articles. Taken in every aspect of quality and economy in ice consumption, the New Iceberg, in any of the many models is the refrigerator you want for use this summer.

One More Player Added to the Roster of the Fort Wayne Club

SIGN FIRST SACKER
KELLEY OF WESTERN

New Infielder Expected to Make Good on the Central Club.

By the signing of Mike Kelley, Irishman, firstsacker and all around big fellow, the roster of the Fort Wayne Central league club has been made larger by one. Manager Carl Vandagriff agreed to the figures asked for the initial batsman and wired him to report immediately. He has been with the Sioux City team in the Western association, having worked there throughout the training season.

Kelley was in the interstate last season with Siegfried and several other local candidates. Every one of these players are strong for him and believe he will be a valuable addition to the club. He is but 22 years old, and stands 6 feet 2 in a pair of four-bit socks.

There is an understanding that with the coming of Kelley Rooney will be switched to the outfield. He has alternated on the initial sack and in the garden for some time, and he is much a thorn on the right field bunk as he is on the base line. Furthermore he can swat that pill, and should be a great help as a member of a wrecking crew.

Another player who is due to show up most any time is Pitcher Cummins, star right from a season in the Three-I. He was bought from Shreveport in the Texas league, mainly because she flatly refused to play in the south.

Following next Sunday's games, one with the Lincoln Life club here and the other with the Kendallville Reds at Kendallville, the first cut will be made and some players will hand in their meal tickets. Monday the club will leave on an exhibition trip which will land them in Evansville on Wednesday night ready to open the season Thursday. About sixteen players will be carried on the trip and through the first couple weeks of the league season, after which the outfit must be cut to thirteen men.

STUDENTS ENTER THE ANNUAL NET TOURNAMENT

High School Tennis Meet
Scheduled to Start Second Week in May.

Entries for the annual tennis tourney of the high school are being turned into the committee in flocks. The lists were opened yesterday and are scheduled to close Friday night, at which time it is expected that all the racket artists will have signed up. Contrary to the usual custom, an entrance fee is being charged this year. It is not very large, however, 15 cents per person per event, and the proceeds will be used to buy cups for the winners.

Singles and doubles for both boys and girls and mixed doubles will compose the list of events, with trophies up for each one. The committee composed of Weckling, Stevens, Barnett, Helen Hatcher and Katherine Kampe is convinced that this year's meet will make all former tourneys look miserable. The members plan to start the first round during the second week in May.

There is a gang of interest in the net game among the students and the school tournament has come to be an annual event of much importance. This will be the fifth one staged in that many years, and if it is anything but a success it will be a big exception.

KILBANE MAY TAKE WELSH'S
WORLD TITLE.

(By Paul Furman.)

The lightweight championship of the world is again at stake. May 1 Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, the most perfect fighting machine in the world, will meet Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion, the world's cleverest defensive boxer.

In spite of the fact that Kilbane will give away at least twelve pounds, Welsh is facing the most serious threat to his title since he won from Willie Ritchie in London in 1914.

Kilbane is the most dangerous fighter in the world today. He combines bewildering speed with a terrific punch and is one of the shrewdest ring generals the game has ever produced.

Kilbane is at his best against the greatest fighters. His greatest bouts have been against men who have threatened his title. Now they are all eliminated. Kilbane is a drug on the market in his division. He is too good for the other 123 pounders. There is only one thing for him to do—break into the lightweight division.

Johnny has fought several lightweights, including Richie Mitchell, Benny Leonard, Joe Mandot, Jose Rivers and others near the top of their class. In most cases he was returned the winner.

Welsh has been able to retain his title through his defensive tactics. A shrewd boxer, he has seldom risked an opening which his opponent might take advantage of. Only once since he won his title has he engaged in a twenty-round title bout, winning this on points from Charley White at Colorado Springs last summer.

Welsh is not a generally given credit with "packing a punch," while Kilbane's has been in evidence on numerous occasions.

His last bout of consequence was with George Chaney, who had left a path of ruined boxing reputations behind him to get a chance at the champion. Chaney lasted just three rounds with Kilbane.

Ten-round bouts have fallen into disrepute because, without decisions, it is so much easier for a couple of fighters to stall through without risking anything. Still to really try, that the public has been made a goat time after time. But this should be different.

Kilbane has everything to win and very little to lose. A defeat at the hands of Welsh would not take his title. But should he defeat Welsh he would be the holder of the title in both feather and lightweight divisions. This would mean thousands of dollars.

Kilbane will try. He doesn't fear Welsh. He is after that title.

Welsh will try, too. He will not take any chances on losing the sincere worth thousands of dollars a year to him.

Watch for May 1. It may be a red letter day in boxing history.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Cincinnati, April 24.—An awful mauling was passed around among our mangled Cubs yesterday afternoon. The Reds pared down a three-run lead, then overhauled the limping machine and kept right on.

White hit 10 to 4 finish. Fred Toney, strong man, and Chicago castoff, was the eminent victor. Score: R.H.E. Chicago 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—4 11 1 Cincinnati 0 0 0 0 4 3 0 3—10 13 1

Batteries—Prendergast, Hendrix, Carter and Elliott and Wilson; Toney and Wing.

CARDS ARE BLANKED. St. Louis, April 24.—The fast going Cardinals were stopped by the Pirates yesterday, who shut out the home team to 0-0. Score: R.H.E. Pittsburgh 0 1 1 0 0 0 0 0—2 7 0 St. Louis 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 3 2

Batteries—Cooper and Fischer; Watson and Snyder.

DOGGERS WIN AGAIN. Philadelphia, April 24.—The Dodgers won from the Phillies yesterday 3 to 1. The score: R.H.E. Philadelphia 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 6 1 Batteries—Cadore and Meyers; Oeschger, Mayr and Killifer and Adams.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION. Indianapolis, April 24.—The Indians won from the Athletics yesterday 3 to 1. The score: R.H.E. Indianapolis 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—3 4 2 Athletics 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 12 5

Batteries—Kantlehner, Dawson and Gossett; Davis, Main and Clemens.

TOLEDO HITS RIGHT. Toledo, April 24.—The Toledo team won from the Columbus team yesterday 4 to 3. The score: R.H.E. Toledo 0 0 2 0 0 0 1 0—4 13 0 Columbus 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—3 9 2

Batteries—Vague and Bresnahan; George, Lowdermilk and Coleman.

WELSH

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Boston, April 24.—New York took a 9 to 6 victory from the Red Sox yesterday.

Poster relieved Shore in the ninth and passed Gilhooley. High's single, Malsel's double, an error and a sacrifice completed the winning rally. In the fifth every member of the Yankee infield made an error.

It was "Barry day," in honor of Jack Barry, Red Sox manager. Delegations from Worcester, Barry's home; Meriden, his birthplace, and Holy Cross college, where Jack played before going to the big league, attended the game. Score: R.H.E. New York 0 0 0 2 0 0 2 2—9 5 Boston 0 0 1 1 3 0 1 0—6 11 4

Batteries—Cullup, Love and Alexander; Shore, Foster and Cady.

BUSH DESERVES SHUTOUT.

Washington, April 24.—Joe Bush defeated the Senators yesterday 4 to 3. In the eighth the locals scored three runs off one hit, a pass and two errors, but the Athletics in the ninth hammered Gallia to all corners of the lot. Bush should not have been scored on. Score: R.H.E. Washington 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—3 3 2 Athletics 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 6 1

Batteries—Bush and Meyer; Dumont, Gallia and Henry and Almsmith.

Speaking of Sport
Lurid Larry Says:

St. Paul ball club has a player named Bohne. We can't help but admire his frankness.

Second-hand vaudeville stuff seems to go big at ball games. Seems to us that some of the "fans" are wasting a lot of good talent though.

Recruiting sergeants roosting at the marriage license counters are about as popular as the home club pitching when he forces over the winning run with a pass.

Joe Cantillon won't have to worry about his players being drafted. Uncle Sam doesn't want men over 50.

"Anyone who says I'm a slacker is a liar," says Jess Willard. Jess probably is safe, probably nobody would care to resent the "short and ugly."

The marriage license slacker has put a crimp in the mother-in-law joke. Fred Welsh says he wants to recruit a regiment. If Fred would fight in the war as he fights in the ring the Kaiser ought to worry.

Having just bearded another batter, Boris Shorn saved his customary denial and says he did it purposely.

Batteries—Shackelford and Deberry; Coehren and Barry.

SHUTOUT FOR SAINTS. St. Paul, April 24.—The Saints won from the Minnesota team yesterday 3 to 0. The score: R.H.E. St. Paul 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—3 3 2 Minnesota 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 3 2

Batteries—Brennan and Ovens; and Vague, E. Williams and Yank.

LANDS EIGHTH PLACE

Displaced by Bakers' Club.

Last night's bowling in the state tourney landed but one club in the roll of leaders. The Ideal Bakers of Terre Haute, with a count of 2,653, landed in eighth place, pushing the Berghoff Brewing association back to a tie for ninth and tenth. The Bakers started with a good big 972 and got 928 in the second. There they blew, however, and finished with a small count which kept them from a higher place.

Next to the Ideal club last night came the Kerner Colts of Ligonier, with 2644. Among the ten Fort Wayne teams which bowled during the session the Bohne Hatters were high with 2526.

The schedule for today started with two-man teams at 10 o'clock this morning, and the doubles were scheduled to hold full sway all during the afternoon and evening. The schedule for tonight is as follows:

TWO-MEN TEAMS—7:00 P. M. Alley—

BRITONS USE MUCH TOBACCO.

London, April 24.—Despite the government's restrictions against tobacco importations, last year showed a heavy increase in the amount consumed in Great Britain. A total of 48,600,000 pounds sterling was spent last year for 130,700,000 pounds of tobacco, as against 40,000,000 pounds sterling on 126,000,000 pounds the previous year. England's tobacco expenditure per head for the year was $5.25.

WINONA LAKE MAN DIES.

Warsaw, Ind., April 24.—A telegram was received Monday morning by C. C. Dukes in which he was informed of the death of Leslie Bendisley, formerly of Winona Lake, at Logansport. Paralysis was the cause of death.

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox (which you can get at any druggists) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemical dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After a canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement.

CITIZENS URGED NOT TO FORGET CLEAN-UP WEEK

This is clean-up week. Health officers of the city and civic organizations interested in this movement are anxious that citizens do not forget it. With the coming of the spring months the usual trend of thought runs toward house cleaning and this year promises not to be an exception.

In keeping with the plan of planting every available place in foodstuffs many unsightly fences, backyards and outbuildings can be hidden from view by planting vines and flowers. Fort Wayne citizens are urged to begin their "cleaning up" campaign at once and help make Fort Wayne beautiful and sanitary.

COMMITTEE CHARMEN NAMED BY PRESIDENT

County Organization of Farm Efficiency League is Completed.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., April 24.—Will Lawrence, president of the Whitley County Farm Efficiency League, has completed his county organization by naming heads of various committees, who will appoint township assistants, and hold township and community meetings. The chairman of the committees follow: Corn production, Whitley County Corn Growers' association; potatoes, G. B. Widdfield; home gardening and vegetable crops, Prof. C. E. Spaulding; fruits, Albert A. Bush; livestock, Perry Gandy, Churubusco; dairy products, Rob McNaghy; food conservation, Ladies' Auxiliary; home projects, by boys and girls, to be

In charge of the county agent, when appointed; horses and mules, Elma Horse Breeders' association; labor bureau, Supt. A. R. Fleck, until a county agent is appointed. In the last named bureau, men desirous of work and farmers needing help can negotiate and fill each others' desires.

Charles Cochran, et al., have filed a partition suit against Ira Roath, et al., through Attorneys Gates & White-leather, have instituted similar proceedings against the plaintiffs, on the same land.

Sam Ruch, of Chaffee, Mo., and his son, Walter, student in the University of Chicago law school, spent Sunday here with the former's father, Joe Ruch, and family. Mr. Ruch, a wealthy lumberman of Chaffee, is captaining a company of volunteers who will answer the nation's second call for men. Walter Ruch has applied for a place on the officers' reserve corps.

Ruben Idle, a young man 20 years of age, escaped from the school for feeble-minded youth at Fort Wayne, Sunday, beat his way here, applying to Sheriff James Bodley for a night's lodging. Close questioning disclosed the identity of the young man, who was taken back to Fort Wayne, Monday, by a warden of the home.

Will Hoose, west of the city, was interceded by an officer late Saturday evening when a local resident chided him about wearing an American flag, and called him a coward, thus arousing Hoose's indignation to the fighting point.

Frank Moriches and wife, who operate a farm west of the city, Saturday, sold a hog to a local dealer that weighed 645 pounds, for which they were paid $59.95, or at the rate of 11 cents, a high price for heavy porkers. Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Waugh, north of the city, who has been a railroad brakeman out of Los Angeles, Cal., for several months, writes his parents that he left April 17 to accept a government position at Skagway, Alaska.

C. W. Brown, of Noble county, a resident near Merriam for nearly sixty-five years, celebrated his ninetieth birthday anniversary Sunday, and several grandchildren, and so on down to one great-great-grandchild, were present to enjoy an elaborate dinner.

Noah Stump and Lewis Wolf went to Fort Wayne to the Lutheran hospital, Monday, the former to have X-rays taken for a bone infection, and the latter to have a similar examination made for a fractured arm.

The heirs of the late George A. Pontius have sold their interest in the J. H. Keiser & Co. drug store to Homer Eberhard who, with J. H. Keiser, senior partner, will manage the store from now on. Mr. Eberhard is a graduate of Purdue university pharmacy school, and has been connected with the store six years. Thomas T. Pontius, representing the Pontius heirs, withdraws from the store to manage the local Dicks—Pontius sealing wax factory.

Edward L. Lawson, blacksmith of Sweetzers, Grant county, and Mrs. Barbara Ressler, of Columbia City, were wedded Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock by Rev. J. T. Bean, and they will reside in Sweetzers.

Lorber Bros., proprietors of the Mead Clock and Suit company, who have operated successfully in the Tuttle block for four years, in order that they may enlarge, will, after May 15, occupy the Eyanson room on West Van Buren street, recently vacated by the Buren jewelry store.

CHOICE LOTS WITH A WATER FRONTAGE

Natural Beauty of Jacobs Property to Be Kept for Residential District.

Choice lots with a beautiful healthful water frontage, heretofore were only dreams of Fort Wayne people. Realization of this very thing is near at hand and before the summer has gone by many home seekers will have an opportunity to become owners of lots fronting a small stream filled with ripples, small dams and fresh water pools.

ARTHUR SHURTLEFF
Boston Landscape Architect Who Will Plan the Jacobs Tract.

The John H. Jacobs property, bounded by Centlivre park, Clinton street, Jacobs avenue and the tracks of the Fort Wayne & Northwestern Railway company, will be developed into a choice residence district. This movement is being promoted by the Wildwood company, plans for which were announced at a banquet held at the Commercial club, Monday evening. Arthur Shurtleff, the widely known Boston landscape architect, explained the possibilities of this tract of forty-six acres and by use of the stereopticon showed how other cities have developed similar pieces of land into most beautiful residential districts. Mr. Shurtleff will have personal charge of developing this new addition.

Spy Run creek, which extends through the entire length of this property will be beautified and the natural beauty of the entire addition will be retained as far as possible. Mr. Shurtleff gave an address at the gathering of stockholders which sparked with the enthusiasm of a man who is glad to find conditions such as they exist in the Jacobs property.

E. J. Little, sales manager for the Wildwood company, presided at the meeting and as the opening event of the program he introduced Fred B. Shoaff, who explained that the tract of land was only one mile from the heart of the city.

Lee J. Ninde, president of the company, spoke after Mr. Shurtleff's address and gave the practical details of the new plan. He gave L. F. Curdes the credit of being the father of the modern city planning. Mr. Ninde also stated that it was the plan of the company to have the tract developed to such an extent that the lots would be placed on sale by the middle of June this year with all improvements completed.

Mr. Curdes then responded to a request to make some remarks after which Walter H. Ingham, as a representative of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange, spoke in words of highest praise of the movement inaugurated by the Wildwood company in supplying this progressive city with another spot of beauty. The speaker explained that it was due to the efforts of the real estate men of this city that Fort Wayne is one of the most beautiful cities in the entire state.

GRACE ENDS FOR ALIEN ENEMIES TO GIVE UP ARMS

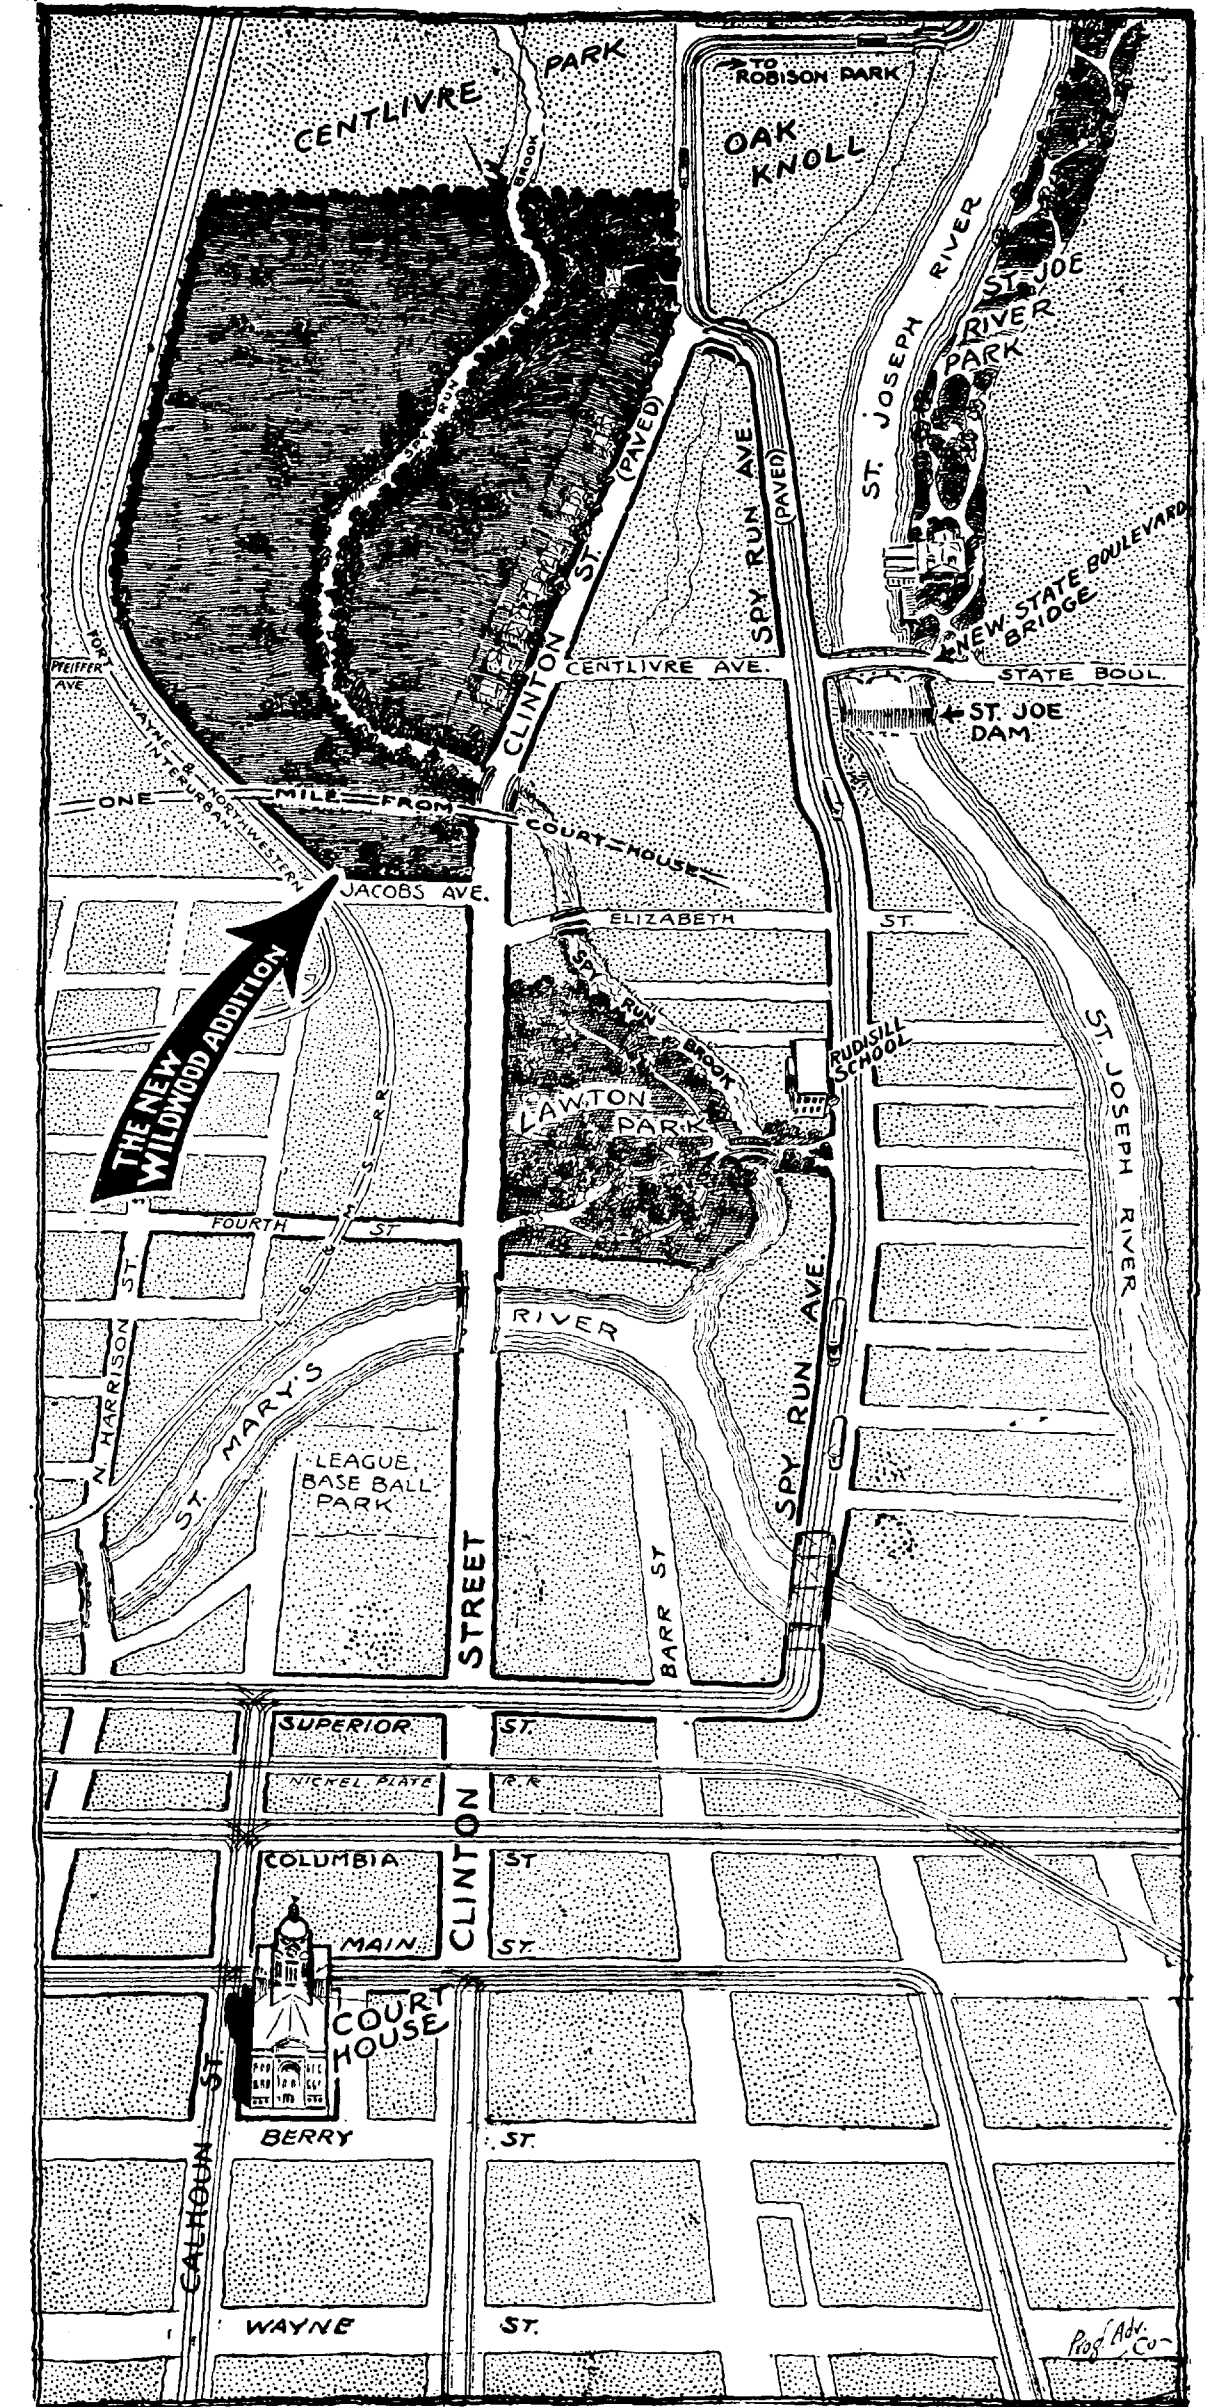

New York, April 24.—The country's alien enemies in New York are notified that this is the last day of grace allowed them to surrender weapons, munitions of war, air craft, wireless apparatus and other forbidden possessions enumerated in the president's proclamation. United States Marshal McCarty made it plain, however, that there will be no seizure and search of persons or houses except where the federal authorities have reason to believe an attempt has been made to violate the president's ruling. After today all enemy aliens found with weapons or other forbidden articles in their possession will be liable to seizure and internment without warrant and without recourse to any legal form.

MAYOR HOSEY NAMES KILBOURNE CHAIRMAN

Real Estate Man Has Charge of Examining Candidates for Army.

Edgar H. Kilbourne, real estate man and captain of the Arab patrol of Shriners, was appointed by Mayor William J. Hosey as chairman of the Fort Wayne committee which will have charge of examining applicants for training camp positions. The appointments were made Monday evening. Kilbourne will take up his duties once. He will appoint several men as other members of the examining committee. The work of the group of men will be to stimulate interest in training service and to receive and examine applicants for the camp training. The young men who are accepted will be sent to Fort Benjamin Harrison, at Indianapolis, for three months of instruction in military technique. At the end of that period they will be given a rigid test to ascertain whether or not they are fitted for appointment as officers of the reserve corps.

MANY MARRIAGES.

Hartford City, Ind., April 24.—Although there has been no open charge here that young men are hiding behind women's skirts to escape army service, the fact remains that since the conscription bill has been introduced in congress there has been a noticeable increase in the number of marriage licenses issued. The record for April averages almost one a day, six having been issued yesterday.

MODERN "PAUL REVERES"

Motorcycle men of the United States marine corps ready to leave San Francisco on a recruiting expedition into California mountain districts. These modern "Paul Reverses" will sound the call to arms in rugged spots where many would not venture, and come to bring back a "Yankee" of hardy mountaineers for Uncle Sam's war needs.

Sham Fights, 10,000 Feet in Air, Prepare Uncle Sam's Fliers for Real War Work.

SHAM BATTLES HAVE TAKEN THE PLACE OF JOY RIDING OVER UNCLE SAM'S SCHOOL FOR FLIERS.

BY J. H. DUCKWORTH.

Mineola, Long Island, N. Y., April 24.—Fiercely fought battles in the air are common occurrences nowadays at the army flying field, Mineola.

Sham fights, 10,000 feet up, to prepare Uncle Sam's airmen for real war's the daily program. Aerial joy-riding has been forbidden.

Under direction of the commander of the field, Capt. Carberry and Raynal J. Bolling, major in the officers' aerial reserve corps, thrilling war games are being practiced.

Familiar as the farmers of Long Island are to the sight of airplanes, they have been scared more than once recently in the early dawn, while on the way to New York with their garden truck, at the sight of aerial squadrons raveling at 100 miles an hour with exhausts wide open, being chased and fired upon by other flying squadrons.

So realistic are these encounters that it has looked as though German aircraft had somehow found their way across the Atlantic, as Admiral Peary has said they can, and were attempting to raid New York.

The most important game has for its object the training of men to find hostile airmen about to make an attack and to head them off.

Half a dozen swift machines are sent up with secret orders. They disappear, then, according to instructions, wing their way back by different routes.

The defenders in the meantime have gone aloft to locate the invaders. If the defender gets above and behind an attacker before the latter has reached the hangars, he is credited with having "downed" him by machine gun fire.

NEVER SPOKE ENGLISH.

Hartford City, Ind., April 24.—German Hurrie, 86 years old, native of Germany, and a glass blower of considerable note over the country, is dead after a short illness. The widow, who is past 87, survives. Although in this country thirty-five years neither Mr. nor Mrs. Hurrie were able to speak one word of English.

BELIEVED THEY COULD BEAT TRAIN

Failure Resulted in Accident and Death at a Bucyrus Crossing.

As a result of trying to beat a freight train at the Mansfield street crossing in Bucyrus and failing to notice the approach of the Pennsylvania Broadway Limited, No. 28, Joseph E. Roberts, aged fifty-five years, was killed instantly and Homer Smith, aged twenty-three, so badly injured that he died three hours later. Roberts was a farmer and owner of a livery barn and Smith was employed by him as a farm hand. They were riding in an automobile and when they neared the Pennsylvania tracks, they saw a freight train approaching. Thinking he could beat it to the crossing, Roberts speeded up the car, not noticing the approach of the passenger train. The automobile arrived on the crossing just as the passenger train did and it was picked up and hurled aside by the engine, killing one man and fatally hurting the other. The towerman was on the ground to fix the gate lights for the night and made an effort to stop the men in the automobile by waving the lantern, but they paid no attention to him and drove ahead. The accident happened at 6:14 and Smith died at 9:27 o'clock. Conductor M. O. Ginty and Engineer Frank Simmonson had charge of the train.

CONSIDERED FOOD PROBLEMS.

Fort Wayne Federation of Labor to Help Relief Committee.

One of the most interesting features of the proceedings of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor at the meeting last night was the part relating to the food relief committee movement. Delegates to the sessions of the committee will be sent to work in unison with the main committee in the movement. The delegates will be charged with a visit at the federation meeting last night by R. B. Hanna, Adam Rinehart, Attorney T. E. Ellison and W. F. Graeber, who explained the movement and invited co-operation of the federation. L. L. Norford resigned the office of corresponding secretary because of his duties at the vocational school and a desire to take up a more advanced educational course for himself. A. C. Berger, of the Electrical Workers, was elected Mr. Norford's successor. J. J. Conway was elected as his designee as a delegate from the Federation of Labor to the state meeting at Anderson, because he had been elected a delegate from the Structural Iron Workers. The federation elected the following delegates: S. W. Burrows, Chris Hahn, J. J. Perrey, Henry J. Hoeftje and Mrs. Joseph Lacey. They went on record as endorsing the scout movement and measures intended to abolish gambling in food stuffs. The credentials of the delegates from Cooks and Waiters' union were received and the five delegates seated.

HORTON WORKS HAS FLAG.

Banner and Pole Dedicated With Impressive Ceremonies.

The children of the Nebraska school were enthusiastic participants in a flag and pole dedication at the plant of the Horton Manufacturing company, on Ouse street, at noon Monday, when they sang "America" as the banner unfurled, releasing a number of little flags to float down and be eagerly picked up as souvenirs by those who witnessed the ceremonies. The pole, a well proportioned and pretty steel staff, located on the grounds near the office building, reaches seventy-eight feet above the surface of the earth and the flag that adorns it is 8x12 feet in dimensions. The staff was furnished by the company and was raised in position Saturday. The flag was purchased with money contributed by the 100 or more employees. It was pulled to its position on the pole by J. C. Peters, manager of the company, and was unfurled by Miss Eva Erwin, a stenographer in the company's office. Attorney W. H. Barry, a member of the Horton Manufacturing company, introduced by J. C. Peters, Battery D was present and fired a salute of three guns as the flag was unfurled. The entire program was well arranged and carried out and was one of the prettiest patriotic demonstrations of the times.

SHOPMEN TO BE GARDENERS.

Shop Management Gets Them Started in Right Direction.

The large attendance and the interest displayed in the matter at the noonday meeting in the machine shop yesterday and the one at the east car shop today indicates that the shopmen are taking hold of the proposition to cultivate the vacant grounds at their homes with a view of adding to the country's food supply later in the season. At each meeting there was a big attendance and an expressed interest which was very encouraging to Master Mechanic E. Griest, who conceived the idea of the noon lectures and got A. J. Hutchins, county agent to deliver them. He will deliver a lecture on the same subject at the Pennsylvania planing mills at noon, Wednesday. Many of the shopmen said they had available space for gardening purposes, which was either allowed to lie idle or was used in part for flower beds. They will immediately, they said, put it out in foodstuffs, such as potatoes, beans, corn and tomatoes.

ENGINES FOR NICKEL PLATE.

Lima Works Delivers Three Big Freighters This Week.

Three more of the Mikado type of engines were delivered to the Nickel Plate at Lima today by the Lima Locomotive works, making six delivered so far on an order for eight. The engines received today were numbered 505, 506 and 507. They are for use on the Buffalo division, which has been short on power until delivery on this order commenced. These engines are equipped with all modern improvements, including superheaters.

ATTRACTING ATTENTION.

The indications point to a "full house" at the social room of the First Presbyterian church, Thursday night, when J. T. Anthony will deliver a lecture on "Conduction and the Generation of Steam." This lecture will be the third number of the educational events in the series planned by President E. E. Griest and Secretary Pearce, of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., and it will be one of the most interesting and profitable to the hearers, for Mr. Anthony will not only tell them how to manage the furnaces in the locomotives, the shops and the private home, but will also tell them how to distinguish the good from the bad coal before using it. The association cordially invites any man interested in such matters to attend the lecture.

ORGANIZING DRILL CLUB.

The members of the Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver club who are employed in the General Electric works have started upon a bridge with a view of holding two drills each week. The first will be early next week. It is the intention to admit members of the Rifle club who are not employed at the big works if any desire to join, but it is expected that the greater portion of the club will be employees of the General Electric.

OUT ON BRIDGE INSPECTION.

The maintenance of way officials of the Grand Rapids and Indiana company started upon a bridge inspection over the line at 7 o'clock this morning, traveling on a motor car. They will make a thorough inspection and may be engaged at it the balance of the week. In the party are Division Engineer R. G. Jones, Master Carpenter H. M. Large, Bridge Inspector J. W. Carpenter and Supervisor D. R. Rice.

NEW BRIDGE OVER CLOVER LEAF.

W. S. Danes, superintendent of bridges, of the Pennsylvania company, has started upon a visit to the new bridge over the river at Toledo. The old bridge is to be replaced by the new one as soon as it arrives on the ground.

CARUSO GOING EAST.

Caruso and his band, twenty-four people, passed through the city this morning, traveling in a special car. They came in over the Wabash on train No. 28 at 10 o'clock and left over the Pennsylvania on train 40 at 12:30 o'clock. They came from Kansas City and are going to New York.

PREPARING FOR INVENTORY.

The inventory of the locomotives and cars of the entire Wabash system was started upon a week ago by division storekeepers and others who will be connected with the work are now preparing for it. Division Storekeeper G. T. Owens, of the Peru division, is at Montpelier and Delray in that capacity today.

HAVE ELECTRIC LIGHTS NOW.

The office of Yardmaster Charles F. Lyons and the office of Track Supervisor R. A. Blair, in the Nickel Plate yards, are now lighted by electricity and the coal oil lamps, long in use there, have been relegated to the dump heap. The linemen have nearly completed installing the electric lights.

HAD A FINGER INJURED.

As a result of an accident at 6 o'clock last night J. T. Fox will not be able to work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop for a week or more. He was removing a conveyor from an engine, when the second finger of his left hand was caught between the conveyor and the tender and crushed.

MACHINISTS THREATEN STRIKE.

The machinists in the Conneaut shops of the Nickel Plate, the papers in that city state, threaten to strike if their demand for 45 cents an hour and the abolition of the physical examination rules are rejected. The company offered a compromise on a basis of 40 and 42 cents per hour, which has been rejected.

SUFFERING FROM BLOOD POISONING.

From an insignificant pimple on his chin developed a severe case of blood poisoning on the face of Brakeman H. Holzworth, of the Nickel Plate. He is now improving, but will be unable to work for several days because of the malady.

HAD CALENDAR PARTY.

The Bosco club had a social Monday night, when they staged a calendar party. There was a continuous roar of laughter as the parts were acted out and the affair was one of the most enjoyable the club has given for some time.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Master Mechanic W. G. Black, of the Nickel Plate, was in the city yesterday. He resides in Chicago.

C. H. Jockel, a fluweider at the Pennsylvania shops, resigned to join the hospital corps.

B. F. Telley, a machinist in the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is sick and off duty.

J. M. Zollars, of the Pennsylvania planing mills, is off duty on account of sickness.

J. F. Roelle is not on duty at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop because of sickness.

Westbound passenger train No. 1 on the Nickel Plate was in two sections yesterday because of heavy business.

R. H. Foellinger has taken employment as a messenger in the Pennsylvania division storekeeper's office.

John R. Pulver, chief clerk in the shipping department of the General Electric works, is sick and off duty.

Clarence Quinn, late of the Overland factory at Toledo, has taken employment at the dynamo assembler at the General Electric works.

Clair Cour and Charles Larson are new bench hands in the small motor department of the General Electric works.

G. W. McCoy, a blacksmith's helper, who had a toe crushed, is reported for work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

C. A. Szink, a painter at the Pennsylvania shops, is sick and off duty.

R. A. Rein is also sick and absent from the paint shop.

Kenneth Laughlin, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, reported for work this morning, having recovered from an injury to one of his hands April 6.

Machinist Charles W. Rodenbeck, who had a foot hurt April 16, has recovered and reported for work at the Pennsylvania airbrake room.

Night Engineer E. G. Pitt, who was sick nearly a week, resumed his duties in the Pennsylvania erecting shop last night.

Conductor C. F. Goodyear, who took a prominent part in the Shriner doings of the past week, reported for duty on the Nickel Plate yesterday.

Conductor C. W. Adams, who was sick, was able to resume work on the Nickel Plate yesterday. All of the patients are better, but not all are well.

C. N. Brenner, chief clerk in the Pennsylvania Central motive power office at Toledo, was in the city on business for the first time today.

A. H. Korber, general boiler inspector of the Nickel Plate, has been looking after that duty at the local round house for a day or two.

Nickel Plate Brakeman E. H. Bell has gone to the country home near Columbus City to visit to see his father, who is quite sick.

Yard Conductor T. J. Hayes, of the Nickel Plate, is at Rome City fixing up his cottage for the summer outing campaign.

Elmer Misner, formerly employed in the Pennsylvania planing mills, has taken a position as brakeman on the G. R. & I. road.

Miss Ada German, stenographer in the engineering department of the General Electric works, is sick and off duty.

Theodore Titus, electrical engineer of the Pennsylvania Northwest system, is in Chicago on business for the company.

L. D. Nordstrom is back at his desk in the engineering department of the General Electric works after spending three days at Lake James, where he has a cottage.

Nickel Plate Fireman R. E. Dams is taking a few days' lay off to attend to some private matters. Fireman R. S. Lee is also taking a few days' rest.

Fireman W. O. Brown, of the Nickel Plate, and his wife were summoned to Peru Saturday by news of the death of her father. They will remain there to attend the funeral.

Fred T. Huston, assistant engineer of motive power of the Pennsylvania Northwest system, went to Cleveland last night on business for the department.

Gang Foreman F. H. Fell, of the receiving department of the General Electric works, added Charles Reese, B. Bachman and R. Ryan to his working force this morning.

E. Young, formerly employed at the Knitting mills, has taken employment as a rivet heater at the Pennsylvania boiler shop. Millard Dorsey is a new laborer at the boiler shop.

The whitewashing gang is at work at the Wabash shops. Today the interior of the round house was coated and tomorrow the apparatus will be moved to the main shop.

Machinist William Jeffries, of the Wabash, has been transferred to Tilton, Ill., to do some special work for the company that will consume about two weeks.

Frank Quinn, sick two weeks, and C. Griest, sick two or three days, reported for duty at the hand screw machine department of the General Electric works this morning.

Misses Esther Hobcock and Nora Krick are new winders in the small motor department of the General Electric works. They formerly worked in the department of Foreman Hatch.

Miss Ruth Conrad has been employed as a clerk by Foreman Jacob Trautman, of the small motor department of the General Electric works. She succeeds Isabelle Roy, resigned to take employment elsewhere.

Engineer T. E. Grubb and Engineer B. Maurer, of the Nickel Plate, are sick and off duty.

Agent Ray Phillips and the employees of the New York Central depot have caused an American flag to be raised over the passenger station. Yardmaster C. D. Rose and his force have a pole ready to raise over the tower the yards as soon as they can get a flag.

P. F. Merritt, from the Pennsylvania purchasing department office at Pittsburgh, will be in the city tomorrow on business with the division storekeepers, who are holding a meeting in the committee room at the Banker's office.

The track and bridge inspection of subdivision D, of the Pennsylvania, which began last week, will be finished this evening, when F. H. Mitchell, assistant master carpenter; C. R. Ladd, bridge inspector, and some of the supervisors complete the trip from Pierceton to Fort Wayne on a hand car. Mr. Ladd has engaged in other work and could not accompany the party today.

Transportation has been issued to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Suter to Toledo and points east. The fact indicates that Mr. Suter, who is single, intends to get married and it is presumed the wedding will take place tonight. Mr. Suter is a pipefitter at the Wabash shops and the young man who performed the daring feat of climbing the eighty-foot steel pole at the shop to put the flag rope through the pulley.

THREE FRANKFORT MEN CHANGE PLEAS

Say Guilty to Charges in Federal Court of Election Frauds.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—When three Frankfort, Ind., men charged with conspiracy to violate the election laws changed their former pleas of not guilty to the United States district court here today, the number of men from that city admitting their guilt was brought to five.

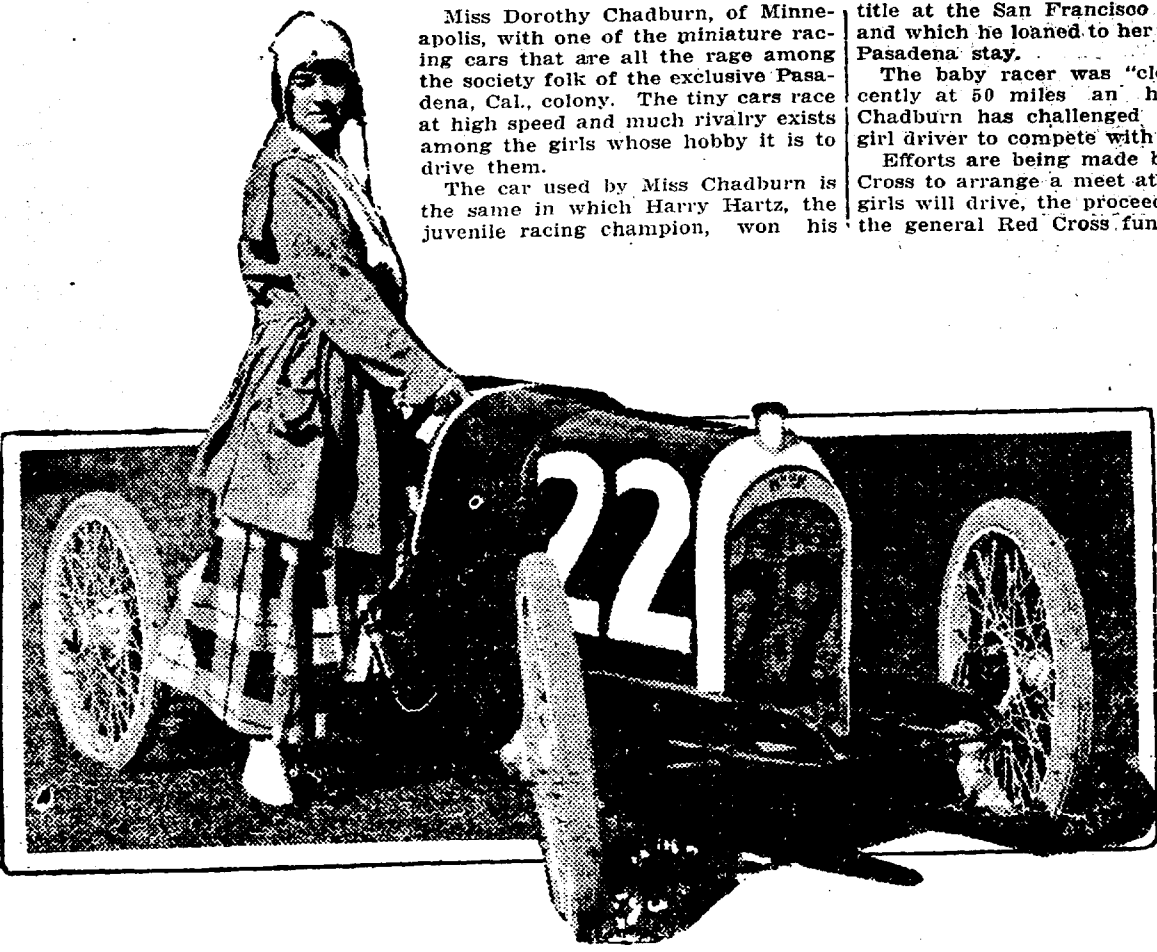

The three who pleaded today were Henry Wolf, former street commissioner; Bartlett Russell and John Gibbon, in whose homes it is charged Wolf made arrangements to buy votes in Frankfort. Three other Frankfort men, indicted at the same time, either have not pleaded at all or denied their guilt. Dr. Oscar W. Edmonds, candidate for mayor last year, has been ill and has not appeared in court.

George Hart, now of Montgomery county, and Eula K. Metzger have pleaded not guilty. Sentencing of the men who have admitted their guilt was deferred by Judge A. B. Anderson.

At the same session of court a demurrer filed in behalf of Henry E. Drier, of Evansville, treasurer of the Vanderburgh county republican committee, was sustained as to the third count of the indictment, which was similar to the charges in the case recently before the United States supreme court. The demurrer, however, was overruled as to the first two counts, which are similar to the charges in the Terre Haute cases of 1913.

Drier's further pleadings, which will be filed this afternoon, it was said, would either a plea in SOCIETY GIRLS DRIVE SPEEDY BABY RAGERS.

Miss Dorothy Chadburn, of Minneapolis, with one of the miniature racing cars that are all the rage among the society folk of the exclusive Pasadena, Cal., colony. The tiny cars race at high speed and much rivalry exists among the girls whose hobby it is to drive them.

The car used by Miss Chadburn is the same in which Harry Hartz, the juvenile racing champion, won his title at the San Francisco exposition, and which he loaned to her during her Pasadena stay.

The baby racer was "clocked" recently at 50 miles an hour. Miss Chadburn has challenged any other girl driver to compete with her.

Efforts are being made by the Red Cross to arrange a meet at which the girls will drive, the proceeds to go to the general Red Cross fund.

SHOVEL SNOW TO START VACANT LOT GARDENS.
St. Paul Citizens Get Vacant Land Ready for Early Cultivation.

One of the eager gardeners of St. Paul is E. E. Hunter, here shown with his son, Wayne, shoveling snow off a vacant lot to get the ground dried for early planting.

St. Paul, Minn., April 24.—St. Paul men and women are in such a hurry to make gardens many are shoveling snow off vacant lots so they'll get an early start.

The St. Paul Daily News started a vacant lot gardening campaign the day after the winter's biggest snowfall. It promised to get vacant lots, rent free, have the plowing done without charge, give free seeds and teach amateur gardeners how to grow vegetables in backyards and on vacant lots.

Owners offered hundreds of lots in all parts of the city. One real estate agent gave 100 vacant lots, and offered prizes to the gardeners who raised the best crops on them.

The only thing demanded of the vacant lot gardeners is that they use the ground for vegetables and keep weeds down. Of course, they are permitted to grow flowers, too. That would help beautify the city.

The St. Paul association, leading commercial organization, and its city planning committee are taking care of vacant lot applicants. The real estate board raked the city with a fine tooth comb for vacant lots and got them.

Every mail brought numerous applicants for vacant lots. Hundreds telephoned asking lots to reserve for them. Eager gardeners searched their neighborhoods for desirable lots, going so far as to shovel off snow to see if the soil was good gardening soil.

The chief of police has promised protection against garden thieves and St. Paul boy scouts have offered to do garden work all summer for aged folk and widows with children too small to work in their gardens.

Other St. Paul newspapers have joined the movement and are offering prizes for the best gardens. Merchants also are encouraging vacant lot and backyard gardening.

It is a great community effort to produce foodstuff in an effort to lower the cost of living next summer and autumn. St. Paul's newest slogan is, "Every vacant lot a garden."

QUIETUS PUT ON RUSH FOR LICENSES

War Department's Notice
Has Put Damper on the Clerk's Business.

It may be that all the so-called slackers have now taken unto themselves wives or it may be that the recent announcement from the war department that all men who were single at the time war was declared are subjects for service has caused an awful falling off in the number of marriage licenses issued.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE BUSY.

Deputy Auditor J. H. Johnson and Jay Brown have been kept busy the past few days answering telephone calls and questions as to the ownership of vacant lots. In several cases they say that as high as fifteen people have inquired who the owner was of a certain lot. Women and men are constantly filing in and out of the office.

DESERVED TWELVE TIMES.

Charging that he deserted her twelve times since they were married in 1901, Minnie Ellison has sued William H. Ellison for divorce. She also avers that the defendant at various times threatened to kill her and compelled her to go out and work for her own living. She asks that the court also restrain the defendant from visiting, molesting or talking to her at her home, 121 Wallace street. She also asks that the Brown Trucking company be enjoined from paying the defendant any of his back wages. Colerick & Hogan are her attorneys.

MARRIAGE SHORT LIVED.

Married on February 3, this year, Emil W. Fabian has sued for divorce from Mary Fabian alleging that the defendant has treated him cruelly and that it is no longer possible for him to live with her. Smith & Douglas are his attorneys.

WANTS $1,500 ALIMONY.

Mrs. Nettie Owen Fry has sued Fred H. Fry, a city policeman, for divorce asking for the custody of two children and $1,500 alimony. R. Earl Peters is her attorney.

MONEY TO GERMANY.

As set forth in his last will and testament, Michael Fremiller asks that $800 of his estate be given to his brother, Frederick, who resides in Ger-

ASSOCIATED PRESS
NO LONGER NEUTRAL

President Noyes Makes a
Fervid Address at the Annual Meeting.

New York, April 24.—The annual meeting of the Associated Press was held here today. In an address to the members at a luncheon held after a business meeting, Frank B. Noyes, president of the association, said: "In the past it has been necessary on like occasions for me to explain the constraint the Associated Press was under to observe the strict neutrality on all controversial points due to the varied and manifold opinions of its membership."

"Today, thank God, this is no longer necessary but the contrary is true, for no trace of neutrality is coursing in our veins—but red blood and red blood alone."

"Today neutrality has been cast aside and we, in common with all true Americans, are standing with our cousins to the north and those across the sea who under many flags are battling 'that government of the people by the people for the people, shall not perish from the earth.'"

"Never have the splendid ideals, not alone of our country, but of the world of democracy, been more greatly stated than on a night but a few weeks past in the capitol building at Washington. Calmly, deliberately, wisely, our chosen leader has assembled behind himself a united nation, anxious to do its full part in this terrible ordeal by battle, taking its place side by side with those others whose blood and treasure have been so freely spent, 'highly resolved that these dead shall not have died in vain.'"

"In every past great national crisis that we have met, God has raised up a leader truly great who has typified America, her hopes and ideals. In this day of national peril, He has not failed us."

"I give you the health of the president of the United States—Woodrow Wilson."

POWDER WORKERS KILLED.

Birmingham, Ala., April 24.—Three powder workers were killed in an explosion today in the Coalburg plant of the Aetna Explosives company, near here. The cause of the blast is not known. The victims were blown to pieces. Several were believed to have been injured. Officers of the company ordered an investigation.

AMEND ESPIONAGE BILL.

Washington, April 24.—The administration espionage bill, amended so that it would interfere in no way with newspaper criticism of the government, according to Chairman Flood, was ordered reported favorably today to the house.

Guard President
Even by Telephone

To be sure of President Wilson's safety, each guard at the gates of the white house has a telephone box from which he may call for help, if needed, by being connected direct with the president's special detective headquarters.

War Department's
Chief Chemist

Dr. Parsons has been transferred from the bureau of mines to the war department where he is chief chemist. He is studying explosives to perfect a better powder to be used by United States troops and sailors in the war. He is famous for his work on radium.

EXPECT AN ADVANCE IN WHEAT WEDNESDAY

Cereal, Being Exported, Has Had a Raise in Larger Markets.

If wheat lives up to its late record and the expectations of Fort Wayne dealers it will figure in another rise Wednesday. In the large market centers of the country the grain was up 7c to nine Tuesday and this is always the cue for local prices to start a new ascent. The rise is attributed to the extra large amounts being exported at the present.

Outside of there being a possibility that wheat would rise in another twenty-four hours, nothing out of the ordinary occurred Tuesday. The business in the retail department was somewhat more slack than usual and the receipts on the whole-sale market were light. Twenty loads were received at the city scales, seven being hay, five corn and the other eight oats. The hay sold at $14 to $15 a ton. This is $1 lower on the bottom price than that of Monday. The corn brought $1.63 to $1.65, while the oats sold for 72¢ to 73¢.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS. Chicago, April 24.—Values took a decided upward swing today in the wheat pit, influenced largely by unfavorable advice regarding foreign crops. There were also reports that much Illinois winter wheat was being plowed up. Opening prices, which ranged from ½¢ decline to a ½¢ advance, with May at $2.31½ to $2.32, and July at $1.98 to $1.98½, were followed by sharp gains all around. After opening ½¢ off to a gain of ¼¢ the market scored a general rise to well above yesterday's finish. Oats reflected the strength of other grain. Advances of hogs and cereals carried provisions along.

BRITISH ARMY MAKES IMPORTANT GAIN

DRIVES HOME A FRESH THRUST EAST OF ARRAS

Haig Reaches Important Waterway Between St. Quentin and Cambrai in France.

THE GERMANS COUNTER DESPERATELY

While continuing to deliver hard blows upon the German lines in the Scarpe river region, east of Arras, where their offensive was resumed yesterday, the British have pushed home a telling thrust in another sector of the great battlefield.

Striking south of the Bapaume-Cambrai road, Gen Haig's forces gained ground last night along a wide front. Of greatest moment, however, was the success of the drive in reaching the important waterway between St. Quentin and Cambrai, the St. Quentin canal.

The canal was cut at a point east of Epehy, near Vendhuille. In reaching it here the British pressed to within approximately two miles of Locatelet, a railway junction point on the canal, to the south towards St. Quentin.

Pushing along the Peronne-Cambrai railway further north Gen Haig's troops captured the villages of Beaucamp and Villers-Plouich, which places them a bare three miles from Maroing, another important railway center, three and one-half miles southwest of Cambrai.

On the main line of the Arras battle front, extending twelve miles from Croiselles north of Gavrelle, the British have not only maintained their positions against the desperate counter attacks the Germans are delivering in an effort to

LOADS BLAME ON STANDARD
Federal Trade Commission Makes Report on Gasoline Prices.
RESPONSIBLE FOR SOARING OF COST
Commission Would Have Old Anti-Trust Suit Again Brought to Court.

Washington, April 24.—Domination of the gasoline industry by Standard Oil interests, the federal trade commission reported to the senate today, has been largely responsible for high gasoline prices of the last two weeks.

The report, written after an exhaustive investigation into the entire petroleum industry declares interlocking stock ownership prevents any real competition among the various Standard Oil companies and the commission recommends legislation to permit reopening of the "oil trust case" to obtain modifications of the supreme court's dissolution decree.

No conclusive evidence was found, it is stated, that collusion exists among the Standard companies in violation of the decree, but the commission's findings have been transmitted to the attorney general.

Prices are declared to have been

GERMAN REVOLT IN BRAZIL SAID TO BE IMMINENT

Rio Janeiro, April 24.—Telegrams received here from Parana, confirm reports that the Germans in southern Brazilian states are concentrating in the state of Santa Catharina. It is believed a German insurrection in the south is imminent.

deputy Jose Nabuco de Gouveas, of Rio Grande do Sul, returned to Rio Janeiro today and said he was able to confirm reports that the recent disturbances in Porto Alegre were caused by Germans. He declared that the native population was incensed and was determined to crush the Germans if they did not desist from their efforts to make trouble.

RUSSIANS STIRRED BY TORPEDOING OF A REFUGEE VESSEL

London, April 24.—Dispatches from Petrograd today state that the Russian socialists are greatly exercised over the sinking by a German submarine of the steamer Zara, which was taking home a number of Russian refugees. The Zara sailed on April 11 and was torpedoed in northern waters two days later.

Among those on board the Zara were Peter Karpovitch, leader of the progressive movement among the students in Petrograd university, who lost his life, and M. Jensen, leader of the Lettish social democratic committee in London. Karpovitch was sentenced to Siberia in 1901 for shooting

AMERICA IN WORLD PLOT

Schemes Post-Bellum War for Trade Says Herr Lohmann.
GERMAN SHIPPER HAS A NIGHTMARE
But Sees Wreck of Pan-Americanism by Enmity of Southern Continent.

London, April 24.—The Berlin newspapers publish an interview with Alfred Lohmann, president of the Ocean Navigation company, which operated the original German merchant submarines, in which he declared that the Anglo-Saxon races were plotting against the economic domination of the world. After asserting that the United States was already contemplating a post-bellum economic war, Herr Lohmann continued:

"This fact shows that a combination of the Anglo-Saxon races has laid down a new world economic foundation—an Anglo-Saxon economic blockade against which Europe must arm herself in time."

Monroe Doctrine for Europe.
"If President Wilson has finally dropped the Monroe doctrine, we must create such a doctrine for Europe. Through the abandonment of the Monroe doctrine, the dream of the United States of winning over the central and South American republics and founding a greater America outside of English influence, has vanished."

"Mark well that Chile maintains her neutrality. Mexico remains America's sworn enemy and Argentina will, in spite of the Buenos Aires incident, draw her political inspiration from Madrid and not from Washington. Pan-Americanism is dead but, instead, the Anglo-Saxon blockade becomes economically welded. Americans of Spanish blood will not side with the Anglo-Saxons for Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines are not yet forgotten."

Great Britain a Thug.
"The power which was able to cut off Europe from the world market and jealously pursue a war of starvation is not only the deadly enemy of the Central powers but the thug of the whole European continent, including Russia and the Asiatic hinterland. The English channel marks the future economic division between Europe and

PUBLISHERS MEET IN ANNUAL COUNCIL

Associated Press and National Association Are in New York.

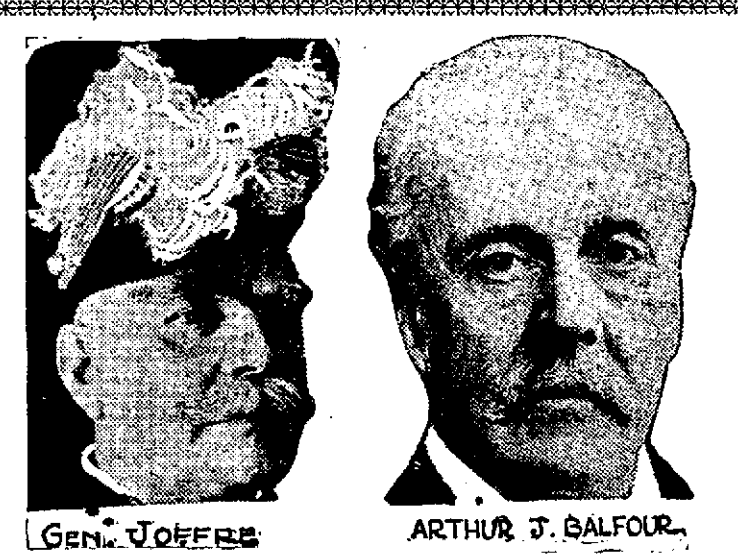

New York, April 24.—Editors, publishers and advertising men from all parts of the United States and from Canada are here for the annual convention of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers' association held this week at the Waldorf-Astoria. The members of the Associated Press met this morning and the opening session of the A. N. P. A. will be held tomorrow.

One of the most important questions for discussion is that of the war censorship. George Creel, of the public commission on news, has addressed the conventions, asking for aid and co-operation. The high price of news print paper also will be discussed. The annual report of the bureau of advertising of the A. N. P. A. shows that the newspapers of the country during 1916 gained $15,000,000 over last year, while the magazines showed a gain of $9,000,000. A gain of 10 per cent in newspaper advertising was reported for the first three months of this year over the corresponding period in 1916 in spite of the fact that a record breaking figure was established in that year and in spite of conditions "that are more or less unsettled." The committee recommended the adoption of a plan to bring about an agreement against free publicity.

TURKS SUFFER NEW REVERSE IN WEST ASIA

London, April 24.—2:02 p. m.—The Turks in Mesopotamia have been driven from their position between Samarra and Irbil, the war office announced. The British pursuing them occupied Samarra station yesterday, capturing sixteen locomotives and 234 railway trucks.

SERVICE FOR ALL IS BEST

So Says British General Who is Here to Talk of the War.

BRIDGES TELLS OF ENGLISH WEAKNESS

British Democracy Almost Fanatical Now Over Universal Service.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Lieutenant General Bridges, a member of the British commission, declared here today in a talk with newspaper correspondents that the British democracy had become "almost fanatical" over universal military service. The volunteer service under which the empire entered the war, General Bridges said, has cost the lives of the most valuable citizens, crippled industrial mobilization and immeasurably set back England's efforts in the war.

BOYS MAKE RUSH TO BECOME SPUD GROWERS

Fathers Are Bringing Sons to County Agent to File Names in Contest.

At least eighty boys between the ages of 14 and 17 years will have a healthful occupation this summer. Boys have been making a grand rush to the county agent's office enlisting as potato growers. In many instances fathers have brought their sons asking that their names be filed as applicants.

Any young boy who wishes to have a pleasant summer vacation occupation and one which will net results in cash should hurry to make application as only fifteen or twenty more are needed.

Planting is proceeding rapidly on the twenty-acre tract east of the city. Half of the sod has been turned over by the big tractor. As soon as this tract has been made ready for planting the machinery will be moved to the grounds south of the city.

The county agent states that a survey of the potatoes in the country has been made and it is stated that if all the potatoes which are now in the country would be planted the crop would not be much more than normal.

RECRUITS TO BE SWORN IN

Young Men Who Enlisted in Signal Corps Undergo Examination.

CAPT. RAY M'ADAMS AT DECATUR TUESDAY

Will Swear in Company Organized in That City by Charles Dunn.

All young men who signified their intention of joining the signal corps were examined Tuesday afternoon in the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity rooms in the Old National bank building by Examining Officer Lieutenant Trent Stout. The young men who pass will be sworn into service Tuesday evening.

Major H. F. Hill, Jr., Captain L. W. Knowlton and Lieut. Bert S. Hawkins arrived in the city at noon Tuesday and

ASK AMERICAN WRITERS TO GO OUT OF BERLIN

London, April 24.—1:12 p. m.—The German foreign office has notified the American correspondents who have remained in Berlin that their presence in Germany is no longer desirable, according to the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at The Hague. The American newspaper men it is added have therefore decided to leave for Switzerland or Scandinavia.

OLD EXECUTIVE RULE PUT AWAY TO AID IN WAR

Washington, D. C., April 24.—To permit experienced federal employees to assist state and munition organizations engaged in mobilizing and conserving the country's resources President Wilson, by executive order, has suspended the rule of more than forty years by which federal employees are prohibited from accepting other employment.

WAR ENVOYS OF FRANCE ARE IN UNITED STATES

Minister Viviana, Marshal Joffre and Others of Commission Landed on American Soil.

WILL REACH WASHINGTON WEDNESDAY

Washington, April 24.—The French commission has safely landed in the United States. This official statement was made early today by the government: "The department of state is advised of the safe arrival of the French commission."

The commission which includes Marshal Joffre and Former Premier Viviani, arrived early this morning on board a speedy steamship of the French line which was convoyed across the Atlantic.

The vessels were met off the coast by American torpedo boat destroyers and escorted to a port.

The naval and military attaches of the French embassy at Washington and American naval and military officers together with a representative of the state department, immediately boarded the French vessels and extended a welcome to American shores.

Later the state department issued this further statement: "The department of state is advised that the French mission will reach Washington tomorrow morning. The precise time and place of arrival will be announced later."

VAST STORE OF EGGS HELD BY SPECULATORS

Chicago, April 24.—About 200 carloads of eggs, approximately 38,000,000 are on railroad trucks in Chicago today, and they are being held by speculators, according to Herbert A. Emerson, who is on his way to his home in New York, from the Pacific coast, where he investigated food conditions for John J. Dillon, commissioner of the state of New York.

Mr. Emerson said that the Pacific coast states this year, instead of importing eggs as they have done usually, will have a surplus of 75,000 to 100,000 cases. This will release the supply from the northern and middle-western states which has been going to the east in past years, and will turn that supply toward the east. Mr. Emerson said he had no evidence of an "egg trust" but said he is sure there is a "mighty close understanding" among the big dealers.

AMERICAN AIR FIGHTER LOSES LIFE IN FRANCE

Paris, April 24.—2:25 p. m.—Corporal Ronald Hoskier, of South Orange, N. J., one of the stars of the American flying corps, has been killed in an aerial combat in the offensive that is now in progress.

ROME LEARNS KAISER URGED TO ABDICATE

Rome, April 24.—Via Paris.—The Corriere de Italia, the clerical organ, declares that it is able to confirm reports published in the Spanish newspapers that the immediate following of the German emperor is exerting pressure on him to abdicate.

The paper says that at a recent meeting of the Hohenzollern family one member, bolder than the rest, intimated that the emperor might save the situation by following the example of Emperor Nicholas. The German monarch is reported to have turned pale and after observing that the general opinion was against him left the room muttering: "We shall see."

"We shall see" he summoned another family council. The chancellor and some of the ministers were present but whatever passed remains unknown. Little importance is attached to this story in Italian political circles. In these quarters it is thought the story has a German origin and is put out with the intention of inducing opinion.

J. B. SHOAFF BADLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

Thrown from a Buggy That Had Been Hit by an Automobile.

James B. Shoaff, of 1123 Columbia avenue, was removed to St. Joseph hospital Tuesday, suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Shoaff and his grandson, Fred Shoaff, were returning from a trip into the country, and when about six miles from the city, were stopped by a man driving a car who inquired the way and distance. Mr. Shoaff was driving a horse, and while replying to the other traveler, a Mr. Bowman, of Kendallville, drove up from the rear and hit the buggy with enough force to throw Mr. Shoaff out. He was rendered unconscious. The horse fortunately did not run and the child was uninjured. Mr. Shoaff landed on his head and back and injured both badly though no bones were broken. Bowman rendered all assistance possible, bringing both the man and child to their home and remaining to find the result of the physician's examination. Mrs. Shoaff felt that she would be able to give her husband all attention needed, but his recovery is slow and he is suffering much pain as well as from the shock, so it was deemed best to remove him to the hospital. Mr. Shoaff is a pioneer resident of Allen county, and his acquaintance is large and his friends are many.

SERVICE FOR ALL IS BEST

longer a war of expeditions, but is a case of nation against nation. Men, women and children are equally drawn into its vortex. The women and children being forced into industry and fed on half rations in order to supply the men at the front. War has become an immensely democratic business. It needs the full effort of every member of the community, directed along the lines most necessary to be served. General Bridges, while unwilling to be drawn into a discussion of specific American questions, talked most freely of the difficulties which had beset England when at the beginning of the war she converted herself from a peace to a war basis and began the immense increase in her army from a small force to one of the largest in Europe. "No Officers to Train." "The source of greatest difficulty," said General Bridges, "was the sending to Europe of practically our whole trained army as an expeditionary force. This robbed us of all training officers for our new armies and it was only through returned wounded officers and the withdrawal of others that we were able to build the skeleton for our new forces. At the same time we allowed most of our better class youths, university men in many cases, to enter the ranks, which withdrew them from the officer class and placed that responsibility on far less well equipped persons. The wastage of the best blood of the nation was enormous. "It is my opinion that if it had not been for Kitchener's immense personality we should have had conscription within a few months. If Lord Roberts' proposal for universal service had been enforced, we should have saved enormously, not only in men but in industrial efficiency. The great majority of army officers would have done anything to have gotten rid of the volunteer system with which the country was at first saddled. "Eight Months to Train Divisions. General Bridges estimated eight months as the necessary time to train a division. Individual recruits, however, may be made fit to go to the front in a short space of eleven weeks, provided they are distributed in proportions of fifty amongst two hundred trained men. War service is at least five times as valuable a training as peace service, he estimated. "Artillery must be in great preponderance," General Bridges said, "before an attack can be initiated. The bayonet, however, is still essential to finally rout the enemy out of his trenches. I estimate that the present successes on the western front are due to a British preponderance over the German artillery of at least 3 or 4 to 1. There is absolutely no doubt as to the outcome of the war; the only question is as to its length. "Praise for French as Fighters. General Bridges commented briefly on the difficulties of making good fighters in a democratic nation full of personal freedom and lacking military experience. The French bourgeois, in the general's opinion, makes the ideal soldier because war has been almost an instinct in his blood since the days of Napoleon. General Bridges praised the French army in the highest terms and said that there had grown up between France and England, former enemies, a feeling that was more than friendship and that was almost a love match. General Bridges will consult with all American army officers and has a mass of detailed information to place at their disposition. It is possible he may also meet the military committee of congress.

RECRUITS TO BE SWORN IN

were present at the examination conducted Tuesday afternoon. The major will swear the successful candidates into service. Went to Decatur. Captain Ray McAdams, commanding officer of Company E, went to Decatur, Tuesday afternoon, where he will assist in swearing in a large company organized in that city by Charles Dunn, a previous service man. It is stated that there are nearly 150 recruits awaiting to be examined and mustered into service.

Recruiting Continues. Recruiting in Company E and Battery D continues slowly and both organizations have nearly reached war strength. However, many men will have to be discharged on account of dependents which will cut a big hole in the number.

Late Tuesday afternoon no orders of any kind had been received by local officers. They refuse to make any statements as to when they expect to depart for the mobilization point. Sent Ninety-One.

Ninety-one recruits were sent from the Fort Wayne station, on Monday. A goodly per cent of that number was from Fort Wayne. The home city of the northern Indiana recruiting station is improving in its enlisting spirit, Captain Ryan says.

Officers' Reserve Corps. Orders have been received by Capt. George Byrns from the war department asking that he use all efforts in having men within a radius of fifty miles of Fort Wayne enlist in the officers' reserve corps. He was also appointed examining officer. Young men who qualify for this branch of the service will go to Fort Benjamin Harrison on May 8, where they will be taught the military game. After attending the school at this place they will be given an examination to receive a commission in the army. This is an excellent opportunity and it is believed many will avail themselves.

Organize Training Camp. The Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver club is considering the feasibility of organizing a training camp to be placed at the disposal of civilians so that a military training somewhat along the line of that obtained at Flatshurg and other camps, although on a much smaller scale, can be obtained by Fort Wayne citizens without going away from town.

The club members are anxious to find out how much use will be made of such a camp, and would like to have anyone interested send his comments to either E. A. Wagner or G. R. Gawdon, in care of General Electric company.

Darwin Myers, of Home avenue, and Lloyd Henton Allen and Maurice Rohan, of Highland, left Monday to go into training for the coast artillery branch of the regular army.

A special train with about a dozen coaches filled with soldiers passed through Fort Wayne Monday evening, going west on the Nickel Plate railroad.

geography. Such is the confidence of the French cabinet in M. Vianet that they gave him no written instructions. Joffre's fellow members in the mission had an opportunity during the voyage to come into intimate contact with him. Although social in his attitude Joffre is a silent man by habit. He joined in the conversation at table by occasionally telling anecdotes of the battle front. Sometimes he would unexpectedly utter a judgment upon an important phase of the military situation in Europe. His habit was to listen to the talk about him, smile appreciatively and sometimes add a remark. The marshal has been known to listen in silence for five hours to a general's exposition of a situation. Something About Joffre. Those who have worked with Marshal Joffre find the distinguished quality of his mind to be equilibrium of faculties. He likes to assemble the facts and by a stroke of logic reach to the heart of a problem. A paper will be submitted to him. He will read it without remark, laying it upon the table, take it up the next day, strike out, reduce the remainder to an admirable condensation. Thus, his orders on the battle of the Marne do not make altogether four type written pages. Joffre kept his small staff very busy on the ship working on documents having to do with his presentation in Washington of aspects of the military situation. Neither he nor his staff have been taking a holiday. The marshal is prepared, if President Wilson should ask, to try before him the exact military situation. He will, if requested, indicate what, in his judgment, America might do.

Old Warrior Glad to Be Here. "I look forward with extraordinary interest to the experiences I am likely to have in America," said Marshal Joffre to the staff correspondent of the Associated Press, who accompanied the French mission. "First of all I shall meet your president, whom we have learned to look upon in Europe as one of the greatest statesmen of our time, great in his gifts of leadership, in his practical every day wis-

BRITISH ENVOYS BUSY

Washington, April 24.—Arthur James Balfour, British foreign secretary spent today in consultation with other members of the British commission on means to dispose of the enormous amount of work which has already developed.

Officials of all the American administrative departments having to do with conduct of the war have indicated to the British information which would be of value, and Mr. Balfour personally is trying to work out the means of securing and distributing the results of England's experience to the best advantage. Invitations have been received from all parts of the country asking Mr. Balfour or other members of the commission to visit, but at present the British officers do not intend to take any time away from the capital. Mr. Balfour, deeply appreciative of the welcome, is nevertheless so completely the directing head of the commission it might seriously cripple his conferences with the government here if he left town. Mr. Balfour took luncheon today with Henry White, former ambassador to France, and an acquaintance of many years' standing, and passed the afternoon meeting officials. In the evening will come the formal dinners by Secretaries Lansing, Baker and Daniels to the diplomatic military and naval officials respectively, afterward the pan-American reception.

raised arbitrarily, although natural causes contributed. Pronounced price inequalities were found in different parts of the country.

Commission's Findings. The principal findings of the commission are:

That in most marketing territories the Standard companies are dominant. That the Standard companies have maintained a distribution of territory in marketing gasoline, and that no substantial competition in the chief petroleum products exists among the Standard companies.

That the absence of competition is due to a community of stock ownership.

That the facts disclose advances in prices of gasoline and differences in prices, corresponding to Standard marketing territories which could not be explained except under the conditions charged.

That the combination of pipe line with other branches of the industry has tended to establish and perpetuate monopoly.

That there is no conclusive evidence of collusion among the Standard companies in violation of the dissolution decree.

Remedies Proposed. The commission recommended these measures as necessary to remedy conditions:

A law providing for the reopening of the anti-trust cases on the application of the attorney general by a bill of review for the purpose of obtaining such modifications of decrees as are required by new conditions.

Legislation to abolish in certain cases common stock ownership in corporations formerly members of combinations dissolved under the Sherman law.

Effective limitation of common ownership of stock in potentially competitive corporations by withdrawing the power of voting and control.

Legislation which while recognizing common ownership would fix upon such common owners the responsibility for the acts of each of the several subsidiary companies which prevent competition.

Segregation of ownership of pipe lines from the other branches of the petroleum industry.

Congressional enactment to fix standards for gasoline.

Federal collection and publication of accurate statistics and information concerning the industry.

Conditions in the gasoline industry as uncovered by the investigation are declared to be:

Gasoline marketing is divided into eleven territorial divisions at least nine of which are said to be under Standard Oil domination.

Stockholders of the Standard companies to a great degree are the same individuals or interests, with more than half of the stock of the various companies in their hands.

Leading officers of the Standard companies hold considerable in two or more companies.

Standard Oil refineries produced more than sixty per cent of the gasoline output in 1915, sold about 65 per cent of the total marketed and held more than 70 per cent of gasoline stocks.

"Correspondence of the different prices in 1915 with Standard marketing territories," says the report, "itself points to arbitrary price-fixing. But the arbitrary character of the inequalities in price is conclusively demonstrated by the facts that as between most of the territories there were no such differences in demand and supply."

Wholesale gasoline price increased between 75 and 85 per cent in 1915, says the report. Retail prices kept close behind them. The price increased demand and scarcity of the product played in the increase is shown in figures giving the increase in demand 38 per cent in 1915, and the production 7 per cent below the year before. The Standard books show large earnings, says the report, as also was evidenced by the enhanced stock market value of Standard securities.

stem the tide against them at this vital spot, but have made additional progress east of Monchy-le-Reux and near Rouex. The solid nature of the British gains, despite the violent German efforts to nullify them, is shown in the report of another particularly heavy counter attack delivered this morning on the village of Gavrelle, on the Arras-Domai road, captured yesterday, which the British successfully withstood. All the German counter strokes were delivered "with great determination and regardless of losses," says the British report.

Along the Aisne and in the Champagne the French are playing their part in the great battle by keeping up a heavy artillery fire while preparing for their next important infantry movement. Incidentally, in local operations they improved their positions at some points, notably in Chemin des Dames plateau.

In Mesopotamia the British are continuing their victorious progress up the Tigris valley. After fighting a hot battle with the Turks south of Samarra, seventy miles northwest of Baghdad, they occupied Samarra station, making important captures, including sixteen locomotives and 255 railway trucks. The pursuit of the Turks is being continued northward on the Tigris.

Sofia reports the repulse by the Bulgarians of a British attack in Macedonia between the Vardar and Lake Doiran, which followed drum fire preparation.

The little news that trickled across the German frontier indicates that the authorities have gained the upper hand over the strikers by the drastic method of militarizing the munition industry and forcing strike leaders into the fighting ranks. It is too early and information is too meagre to say whether these stern measures of repression have definitely crushed the startling storm of discontent which has swept over the German empire.

DISCOUNTS ALLIED ADVANCE.

Amsterdam, April 24.—Major Morant, writing in the Tages Zeitung, says that the results of the French offensive are hitherto completely unimportant. Major Morant writes:

"The possession of single portions of terrain such as trenches, villages and borders of woods, no longer plays a decisive role, in deeply echeloned and fortified zones. The aim of the German defense is, even at the cost of abandoning the dead together with war materials and portions of positions, to maintain our own strength while destroying that of the enemy and preventing him from attaining his strategic aim, which is to break through. For this purpose it is necessary to keep the fighting lines mobile."

The writer considers that by yielding at some points the Germans may force their opponents to fight without the support of their heavy artillery and consequently expose them to destruction by the German infantry and artillery fire. These tactics, he claims give repeated opportunities for German counter attacks with reserves, who are outside the range of the enemy fire. He continues:

"Tactical success in modern battles is not judged by the gain of single portions of terrain or the amount of booty, but depends on the complete physical and moral disorganization of the enemy, owing to their loss of strength through the destructive efforts of artillery fire. This aim has been attained by the Germans in the gigantic struggle on the western front. The first and greatest attacks of the English and French failed, being choked by the blood of the attackers. Further attempts will be made to break through, and fresh fighting is ahead of us, but our troops look forward to it with undiminished confidence."

CITY DRAFTS RICH AND POOR TO TILL SOIL FOR MORE FOOD.

School boys and girls of Excelsior, leaving their games, cut seed potatoes for planting in the municipal gardens.

(Staff Special.)
Excelsior, Minn., April 24.—Excelsior has adopted the conscription idea to raise more food. All available land has been conscripted and all available citizens drafted to work the land.

The plan is the newest thing in the matter of helping win the war by raising more food, and is working successfully. It offers an idea for other cities.

Leading citizens of Excelsior saw the city was facing food shortage and high prices. They formed a committee and began conscripting land and gardeners. Every man able to handle a hoe, who did not enlist in the army or navy, was drafted.

The committee listed all unused land in and near the city, took census of every man, woman and child, and from this list excluded those who had backyard gardens or were physically unable to work in a garden. It assigned a tract of land to each of the rest.

Wealthy inhabitants have bought seed for the poorer folk. Mrs. August Berg, mother of six children and wife of a man dying of cancer, got an acre of land, eight bushels of seed potatoes, and the town's leading men are helping her get her garden planted.

Business men take their garden tools instead of golf club to office and store and after work make a bee-line to the municipal gardens.

The richest man in this city wouldn't dare sit on his front porch these evenings or play golf. His neighbors would call him a "slacker!"

The rich man's wife has discontinued playing bridge; she's taking canning lessons. So is her daughter.

T. W. Little, of the agriculture station in St. Paul, was secured to give daily lessons on gardening and canning.

High school students stay in after classes and cut seed potatoes for the city's garden service army.

The cabbage and tomato vine are supplanting the rose and lily in Excelsior.

Leading citizens are acquiring technique with the hoe, and housewives are figuring on the chance of stocking their cellars so generously, winter visits to the grocery store will be rare.

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME SLIM

Put persons will be interested to learn that they may easily reduce their weight without starvation diet or strenuous exercise. Eat all you need, but chew your food thoroughly, so that you will not overtax your assimilative organs, get fresh air and take a few drops of oil of korein four times a day.

Oil of korein (five drops to the capsule) may be obtained from the druggist. This preparation is absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and is purposed (in connection with the other simple directions) to reduce fatty accumulations in the system.

If you would like to obtain a test of oil of korein, free by mail, with an interesting booklet, write to: Korein Company, 100 C. Arcade, East 28th street, New York, N. Y. The free booklet is entitled: "Reduced Weight Happily," and will delight you. How to reduce pursty abdomen, double chin, large limbs, obese hips and other overgrown parts of the body.

Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight. Footsteps become lighter, the skin more firm and smoother in appearance, work seems easier, and a more buoyant feeling takes possession of the whole being as superfluous and unhealthy fat disappears.

If you are ten to sixty pounds over normal weight, you should give this treatment a trial. You will probably find that it is just what you need. A steady and very satisfactory reduction may be expected.

KENDALLVILLE NEWS.

Kendallville, Ind., April 24.—Mrs. John Weldy died Monday morning at the Lakeside hospital, following an illness of a few hours. She had been taken to the hospital for the purpose of undergoing a caesarian operation. However, the physicians were unable to operate, as her condition had become so critical, and she gradually weakened and died. The decedent was thirty-three years of age, and was born in Angola. She had been a resident of Kendallville for four years soon after her marriage to John Weldy, he having purchased the Raber drug store. Her death was a great shock to her many friends. Surviving besides the husband are her mother, Mrs. John Y. Burkhardt, five sisters and three brothers, including Mrs. Frank Relly, Fort Wayne; Mrs. Sheldon Roberts, Franklin, Ind.; Mrs. C. Funds Cut to Half.

From the day in which it was decided that the sum of $225,000 would be ample to give Fort Wayne a municipal assembly hall of a size, appointments and architectural character that would answer every public need and reflect credit on the community there has been a train of events that constantly decreased the purchasing power of that much money.

To begin with, the sum decided upon as sufficient was determined by the probability that nothing would have to be spent for a building site. Public opinion declined to accept any situation that the city itself had to offer, either on the municipal ground along Clinton street or in any of the parks. Thirty-five thousand dollars already has gone for a site that itself is inadequate for the purpose, though the location is most eligible.

Since the financial plans were made the costs of labor and building materials have constantly risen. They are higher today than ever and the prospect seems certain that the peak has not been reached.

All things taken together, it is no exaggeration to say that an assembly hall possible of realization from the funds available can at best be but 50 per cent. of the building that was in mind when the project first took definite form. Will such a result be a realization of the public ambition and enterprise that gave impulse to this project and dictated an almost unanimous declaration of purpose when the bond issue was voted on?

We believe there ought to be delay of this enterprise until normal times and conditions return. It will deprive Fort Wayne of the use of the assembly hall for a period, but what the community has made shift to get along without for decades it can get along without for another year or two. The gain will be great and disappointment will be escaped.

Doing Well-Do Still Better

Fort Wayne is responding well to the country's call for greater food production, but the response should be general. This is the one material and direct way in which everybody can add something to the nation's resources of defense in a crisis when defense will be put to the test. Only the strong young men can go to the fighting line. Only those who have money can invest in bonds. Only the wealthy have incomes that can be conscripted. But everybody can do something toward increasing the food supply.

It should be borne in mind that America, in common with the rest of the world, has a serious food shortage. The necessity of greater food production was acute and perfectly clear before the advent of war made an increase of foodstuffs an imperative condition of national security. Now that war has put the nation under stern compulsion to defend itself in every way that can add to the national security, increase of food crops transcends the mere question of economic wisdom and becomes an inescapable duty of patriotism.

This task of duty is not one that entails any sacrifice. Every man and woman and boy and girl who engages in this work will get the benefit of it. Those who merely raise food crops for their own consumption will save money by it and those who raise food crops for the market will make money by it. Every pound of food thus produced will add that much to the country's defensive resources and make America stronger and greater and more useful to a whole world that is suffering from the shortage of food.

Fort Wayne is doing well, but must do still more. Those who have soil of their own and are able to cultivate it should do so. Those who have soil and are unable or unwilling to work upon it owe the use of it to those who will make it produce.

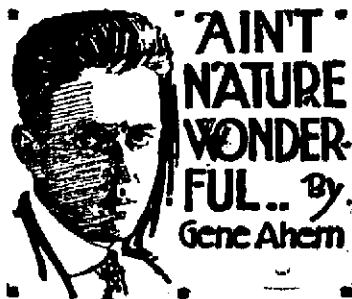

Germany's future will be determined largely by the character of the counsel that the ruling powers accept in this crisis of war and politics. If the word of the Reventlows is to stand above the aspirations and demands of the great mass of the people in whom the spirit of democracy has been stirred and quickened, the future will not be happy for the people nor secure for the dynasty.

A good many years ago a certain great citizen said that America was so fertile that "if you but tickled it with a hoe it laughed with a harvest." That same land is still just as ticklish. Try it.

THE MYSTERY MYSTERIOUS.
(Chapter Two.)

"Smyth!" The word came as a whisper as Lawrence Idareasy, the great detective, lifted the almost empty flask to his lips again. "Have you a blotter?" Smyth dropped the wheelbarrow and fumbled through his pockets. "No," replied Smyth. Idareasy looked weary. "But here's an ink blot," rejoined Smyth as he searched the lining of his cap. "That will answer the purpose," silently answered Idareasy in a hoarse voice. Quickly the great detective put the pick in his right hand pocket and took a malted cake from out of his left hand. In a few short seconds Idareasy had the disguise on. "Hand me that gyro camera in my

LEADING MEN ASK WAR PROHIBITION

Say Grain Used in Making Booze is Needed for Food Purposes.

Washington, April 24.—If the action of the democratic caucus favoring war prohibition threw the liquor interests into consternation, as the report goes, it also brought to the prohibition ranks a large number of prominent and influential men who are in favor of the dry policy during the war on strictly business and economic grounds.

"I am firmly convinced," said F. A. Vanderlip, of the National City bank, of New York, "that a national prohibition measure would be of transcendent importance in its effect upon national spirit, conserving and increasing our food supply, releasing labor for other productive channels when the need is acute. The plants could be quickly turned to industrial uses for which the need is so pressing."

Howard Elliott, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad said: "Favor national prohibition during the war. Effect on health, efficiency and economy would be very great."

David R. Forgan, president of the National City bank, of Chicago: "Prohibition during the war would help meet the food crisis, promote health and efficiency. I am for it."

Gov. Brumbaugh, of Pennsylvania: "Absolutely for war prohibition. Conditions demand it."

Gov. Alexander, of Idaho: "Experience demonstrates prohibition one of the greatest economic measures. And very much for it."

Gov. Catta, of Florida: "National prohibition would prevent serious diseases in army, save food and increase production."

Gov. Bilbo, of Mississippi: "The crisis of war demands every man at his best. I am for national war prohibition."

Gov. Capper, of Kansas: "Patriotism demands it."

Gov. Harris, of Georgia, has called a conference of all governors to meet in the city of Washington, May 4th to consider what action the states should take to meet the food crisis, and fortify for the strain that war will impose on all their resources.

GLAD TO LEARN OF IT.

April's changeable weather causes colds that lead to expensive doctor bills—bills that could be avoided if the cold were checked in time. C. Smith, 1421 12th St., Augusta, Ga., writes: "I got one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and my cough and cold is about well. I was glad to learn of a great medicine like that." Foley's Honey and Tar enjoys such a splendid reputation that it is often imitated. Of course, no substitute or imitation is as good as the genuine. Dreier Drug Co.—Advertisement.

BY A GARDENER.

You will find it advantageous to grow small quantities of certain specialties which will add to the attractiveness of the family fare. Among these may be mentioned okra or gumbo, mustard greens, and parsley.

Soups, stews and gravies may be improved by a little okra. Gumbo soup can become a meal, almost, by itself. Cut into slices and spread alternately with rice and tomatoes in a casserole, with butter, in which curry powder and salt has been mixed. Baked three hours, it is an appetizing dish.

The young pods of this plant are the part used. The best pods are grown on young plants, but if the pods are removed before they are allowed to ripen, the plants will continue to produce them until killed by frost.

The seeds of okra should be sown in the open about the middle of May or may be started in berry boxes in the house before then.

A row 30 feet long will do for the average family. The seed should be planted an inch deep and sown about two or three inches apart. When plants are about two inches tall thin to about a foot and a half apart, letting the healthiest plants stand. The pods may be gathered the day after blossoms fall. The pods are best when about an inch long.

Mustard greens may be sown thickly and the leaves are soon ready for picking. Sow again in late summer for fall greens.

Parsley, too, may be sown thickly, in rows or scattered broadcast. This may be grown between rows of late vegetables, and may follow early vegetables for a late crop.

Swiss chard may be sown early in May, in rows three feet apart, thin to 14 to 18 inches. Leaves and stalks may be boiled like spinach or the stalks may be used alone, when they are about 14 inches tall.

RABBIT TRAPPING HAS BOOM IN AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, Australia, April 24.—Rabbit-trapping and exportation of refrigerated rabbits has experienced a boom as a result of the war. Heretofore the rabbits have been a curse to Australia and millions of pounds sterling have been expended in an effort to eradicate them.

Lately, however, the commonwealth authorities have been taking an active interest in rabbits for consumption both in Australia and abroad. The view that the rabbit is a pest which should be extirpated is not being encouraged. Steps have been taken by the government to have the poisoning of the animals suspended, and trappers are being urged to maintain the output for consumption.

Undoubtedly this policy is a result of the war strain upon food supplies in Great Britain and among the other entente allies. A month or two ago the British government notified the commonwealth government that it had decided to buy the whole of the surplus of Australian refrigerated rabbits for the season of 1917. The commonwealth will involve about $2,500,000. Last season Australia exported 10,298,000 pairs of rabbits, showing the extent of the supply which Great Britain has contracted to take.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Rose Aiken, of Decatur, Ill., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stiegel, of Jones street.

Mrs. Elmer Rath, of Dayton, O., and little daughter, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Ida Rothschild, of Jackson street.

Mrs. Julia A. Lange and daughter, Juliette Marie, returned Monday evening from a three months' trip through Florida, via New York city.

Miss Elizabeth Feller, of Washington boulevard, is to leave on Wednesday for Lansing, Mich., to spend the summer.

Miss Elinor Carpenter, of 441 East Taber street, has returned from an end of the week visit in Kokomo and Peru.

Mr. Youngs, of Lakeland, Florida, who had been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Pixley, has gone on a business trip to Buffalo and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Evans have returned to Toledo after a few days' visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kuhns and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Bond.

Mrs. Jack Schless, of St. Joseph, Mo., is expected in the city on Wednesday, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Marx Frank, of Washington boulevard west.

Mrs. E. Rosenthal and daughter, of Washington boulevard west, have as guests the grandchildren of the family, Miss Jeannette Brunswick and Robert Rosenthal, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Taylor are planning to go to Ann Arbor, Mich., to attend the May music festival which will be held the first week in May.

The Twentieth Century club luncheon will be held on Thursday, at the Wayne hotel, with Mrs. W. K. Wilder as toastmaster. The club numbers twenty-six active members.

Miss Marian Cutting, of Indianapolis, is visiting Miss Josephine Henderson, 554 Columbia avenue, for two weeks, and is here to attend several social affairs of the present week.

Miss Sue Koehler, of Maumee avenue, entertained a few friends at a dinner party on Monday evening in honor of two visitors, Messrs. Gates Harper, of South Bend, and Philip Eickelberry, of Chicago, who are on their way to the Aero training camp at Ft. Thomas, Ky.

The dancing party at the Anthony hotel Tuesday evening appears to be the most important social event of the week. Very clever arrangements have been made by the Sophie E. Wright circle, who have the party plans in charge.

In the way of black and white decorating and many costumes to carry out the two colors promise originality and beauty of design. Many people have decided at the last moment to go.

One of the loveliest of before-the-wedding parties was the one Miss Vera Nipper gave on Monday evening at her home in Wallace street, to honor Miss Mary Eckrich, who is to wed in May. The much favored colors of pink and white were expressed in many roses, baskets of candy, pink candles in tiny crystal holders, pink ice cream with white custard, white cake with pink frosting and a corsage of roses for Miss Eckrich. Miss Eckrich was also showered with gifts. The evening was spent principally in visiting with some variety in the way of music and games.

Participating were Misses Nora Klotz, Loretta Eckrich, Bernadette Eckrich, Ernest Drenup, Edna Stuebe, Miss John Polry, Mrs. John Eckrich, Mrs. Clara Klotz, Mrs. Arthur Harris, Mrs. Ed Wakelee.

A Country Party.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Oswald, who live on Lilly Grass road, not far from the city, were given an agreeable surprise party on April 20 by friends of the neighborhood, who learned the day was the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald. There were present to enjoy the anniversary gathering Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schulte and family, Mr. and Mrs. Will Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lowther, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pange, Mr. and Mrs. George Honauer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Honauer, the Misses Lizzie Stolle, Alma and Esther Kariger, Bertha Henning, Myrtle Bayers and Messrs. Chalmers and Carl Schneider, Wilford Honauer, Will Beineke, Otto Meyer, Harper Honauer, Will, Edwin and James Oswald.

How to Gather and Cook Dandelions

(By Lucile Brewer and Helen Canon, New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell University.)

The dandelion has a long stout taproot that may extend twenty inches or more into the ground. For this reason it is an exceedingly hardy plant; drought does not affect it.

Dandelions gathered after a rain or early in the morning while they are damp with dew are best.

The young leaves are always more tender than the old ones, and they keep their color better.

Near the surface of the ground, the dandelion root is topped by a crown from which the leaves radiate. The leaves of this crown are exceedingly good, somewhat resembling asparagus. Even if the leaves are old, the crown is good. When the leaves are pulled, the crown is left behind; therefore, when dandelion greens are gathered they should always be cut, not pulled, in order that the crown may be obtained.

Imperfect leaves should be discarded at the time of gathering, because they are generally tougher than the others, and there can be no uniformity in the cooking if they are allowed to remain in the lot.

Dandelion greens are as difficult to clean as other greens. They should be plunged into a deep pan or bucket of cold water and should be rubbed thoroughly between the hands. If the leaves are to be used fresh and uncut as a salad, care should be taken to prevent breaking them. They should be lifted from the first water and washed in clean water at least three more times. They should then be drained and wrapped in a damp cloth. If they are not to be used immediately.

On account of a bitter flavor it is generally best to blanch dandelions. An easy way of doing this is to tie the leaves in a large piece of cheesecloth, plunge them into boiling water, and let them boil five minutes. They should then be removed, plunged into cold water and drained.

If they are to be cooked for immediate use, they should be cut or chopped, placed in a kettle, covered with boiling water, and allowed to cook until tender, generally from 15 to 20 minutes.

Look for special dandelion recipes in our next issue.

A NERVOUS STUNT.

McLallen and Carson Close Act With a Thriller.

But few men would seriously object to having as complete a bit of femininity as Miss Carson, of the team of McLallen and Carson, hanging onto him with her arms about his neck under ordinary circumstances, but not many would care to essay the trick with which these two clever skit artists close their snappy little act at the New Palace. Locking her hands behind McLallen's neck, this ravishing beauty simply hangs on while he whirls round and round centrifugally, finally lifting her feet into the air, and as McLallen whirls Miss Carson's body swings to a horizontal position and is kept there by the terrific speed. The pull must be terrific and requires an uncanny sense of balance to overcome. The team's skating act is a real novelty effort on the rollers.

Florence Hughes and a company of juvenile stars impersonating great theatrical stars of the moment, provide twenty minutes of happy diversion in the playlet, The Lawn Party; Tanganyika, Warfield, Mantel, Cohen, etc., are all impersonated. Eddie Foy, considered far game by all imitators, for once is omitted. Among the others on this bill are Conkey and Dunlevy, the black face comedians, in some reminiscences; of minstrelsy; Fernaine, the concertina wizard; Jack Basil and Dick Allen, in a comedy skit, Recruiting, and the Clown Seal, a trained fish with human intelligence.

PROMINENT WOMEN DOING RED CROSS WORK

Interest is Far Beyond Expectations of Those in Charge.

Leading Fort Wayne women are actively engaged in Red Cross work and the interest that is being manifested is far beyond the expectations of those in charge.

New classes in the making of hospital supplies are to be seen at headquarters every morning and afternoon and the progress that is being made insures the success of the movement in Fort Wayne.

Men of the city are also showing greater interest and are voluntarily walking into headquarters every day to deposit their dollar entitling them to membership. With this sort of spirit being shown it is thought certain that the securing of a base hospital for Fort Wayne will be easily accomplished.

Members of the hospital supply class Monday afternoon were Mrs. Oscar Fox, Mrs. C. M. Niezer, Mrs. Ed Gilman, Mrs. Roger I. Fisher, Mrs. E. C. Miller, Mrs. Guy Scott, Mrs. Edwin J. Fisher, Mrs. James Shields, Mrs. Hannah H. Mohr, Mrs. Clem App, Miss Helen Magee, Miss Margaret Smith, Mrs. J. M. Van Camp, Mrs. C. A. Stockbridge and Mrs. R. L. Spald.

Tuesday morning's hospital supply class included the following: Miss Sadie Fleming, Mrs. Frank Stouder, Mrs. R. L. Magee, Mrs. H. H. Gortner, sheerest materials, the finest laces, and the most delicate embroideries are employed.

Little coats are cut on straight lines and are made of washable materials. Hats and bonnets are made of white lawn, shirred into shape. And white half hose worn with black patent leather slippers complete a small girl's costume for most occasions.

To make up somehow for the general simplicity of such dresses, the stunning coats $19.75, $25, $29.50 for modish suits

GET ONE HOUR EACH DAY FOR THE GARDEN

Allow Employees to Quit an Hour Earlier.

Without reducing the pay whatsoever the Perfection Biscuit company has ruled that its employees can quit work an hour earlier than usual and go home and do their garden work. This order goes into effect April 25 and will continue until May 4. This is the first company in the city which has decided to co-operate with its employees in regards to raising garden produce.

The statement as issued by the company is as follows: "The United States government and the governor of the state have called for co-operation with the National Food Relief committee by planting and cultivating gardens of vegetable food products. This movement is being promoted throughout the entire country and we should consider it a patriotic duty to respond.

"In order that each of our employees who have any gardens may get their planting in at once we will shorten each day's work one hour with full pay from April 25 to May 4, inclusive. We trust everyone will join in the work to increase the food supply and help to reduce the cost of living."

How to Gather and Cook Dandelions

(By Lucile Brewer and Helen Canon, New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell University.)

The dandelion has a long stout taproot that may extend twenty inches or more into the ground. For this reason it is an exceedingly hardy plant; drought does not affect it.

Dandelions gathered after a rain or early in the morning while they are damp with dew are best.

The young leaves are always more tender than the old ones, and they keep their color better.

Near the surface of the ground, the dandelion root is topped by a crown from which the leaves radiate. The leaves of this crown are exceedingly good, somewhat resembling asparagus. Even if the leaves are old, the crown is good. When the leaves are pulled, the crown is left behind; therefore, when dandelion greens are gathered they should always be cut, not pulled, in order that the crown may be obtained.

Imperfect leaves should be discarded at the time of gathering, because they are generally tougher than the others, and there can be no uniformity in the cooking if they are allowed to remain in the lot.

Dandelion greens are as difficult to clean as other greens. They should be plunged into a deep pan or bucket of cold water and should be rubbed thoroughly between the hands. If the leaves are to be used fresh and uncut as a salad, care should be taken to prevent breaking them. They should be lifted from the first water and washed in clean water at least three more times. They should then be drained and wrapped in a damp cloth. If they are not to be used immediately.

On account of a bitter flavor it is generally best to blanch dandelions. An easy way of doing this is to tie the leaves in a large piece of cheesecloth, plunge them into boiling water, and let them boil five minutes. They should then be removed, plunged into cold water and drained.

If they are to be cooked for immediate use, they should be cut or chopped, placed in a kettle, covered with boiling water, and allowed to cook until tender, generally from 15 to 20 minutes.

McLallen and Carson Close Act With a Thriller.

But few men would seriously object to having as complete a bit of femininity as Miss Carson, of the team of McLallen and Carson, hanging onto him with her arms about his neck under ordinary circumstances, but not many would care to essay the trick with which these two clever skit artists close their snappy little act at the New Palace. Locking her hands behind McLallen's neck, this ravishing beauty simply hangs on while he whirls round and round centrifugally, finally lifting her feet into the air, and as McLallen whirls Miss Carson's body swings to a horizontal position and is kept there by the terrific speed. The pull must be terrific and requires an uncanny sense of balance to overcome. The team's skating act is a real novelty effort on the rollers.

Florence Hughes and a company of juvenile stars impersonating great theatrical stars of the moment, provide twenty minutes of happy diversion in the playlet, The Lawn Party; Tanganyika, Warfield, Mantel, Cohen, etc., are all impersonated. Eddie Foy, considered far game by all imitators, for once is omitted. Among the others on this bill are Conkey and Dunlevy, the black face comedians, in some reminiscences; of minstrelsy; Fernaine, the concertina wizard; Jack Basil and Dick Allen, in a comedy skit, Recruiting, and the Clown Seal, a trained fish with human intelligence.

PROMINENT WOMEN DOING RED CROSS WORK

Interest is Far Beyond Expectations of Those in Charge.

Leading Fort Wayne women are actively engaged in Red Cross work and the interest that is being manifested is far beyond the expectations of those in charge.

New classes in the making of hospital supplies are to be seen at headquarters every morning and afternoon and the progress that is being made insures the success of the movement in Fort Wayne.

Men of the city are also showing greater interest and are voluntarily walking into headquarters every day to deposit their dollar entitling them to membership. With this sort of spirit being shown it is thought certain that the securing of a base hospital for Fort Wayne will be easily accomplished.

Members of the hospital supply class Monday afternoon were Mrs. Oscar Fox, Mrs. C. M. Niezer, Mrs. Ed Gilman, Mrs. Roger I. Fisher, Mrs. E. C. Miller, Mrs. Guy Scott, Mrs. Edwin J. Fisher, Mrs. James Shields, Mrs. Hannah H. Mohr, Mrs. Clem App, Miss Helen Magee, Miss Margaret Smith, Mrs. J. M. Van Camp, Mrs. C. A. Stockbridge and Mrs. R. L. Spald.

Tuesday morning's hospital supply class included the following: Miss Sadie Fleming, Mrs. Frank Stouder, Mrs. R. L. Magee, Mrs. H. H. Gortner, sheerest materials, the finest laces, and the most delicate embroideries are employed.

Little coats are cut on straight lines and are made of washable materials. Hats and bonnets are made of white lawn, shirred into shape. And white half hose worn with black patent leather slippers complete a small girl's costume for most occasions.

AMERICANS GIVEN WELCOME TO CHINA

Party of Business Men in Study of Conditions See President.

Peking, March 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—President Li Yuan-hung extended a cordial welcome to the delegation of American business men headed by David S. Rose, former mayor of Milwaukee, who are visiting China, studying trade conditions. The Americans were received at the palace by the president and entertained at a luncheon, over which Miss Li, the daughter of the president, presided as hostess.

The Peking Chamber of Commerce acted as host to the Americans in Peking, entertained them at a number of dinners and luncheons and conducted the visitors to all the historic points of interest about the Chinese capital.

When the delegation visited President Li Yuan-hung at the palace, he delivered an address to them in which he expressed the hope that American capital would come to China freely, and develop the latent resources which offer such great returns if properly managed. President Li Yuan-hung said the United States and China, standing at opposite sides of the Pacific, were two great powers in which the people were truly sovereign. Consequently the aims of the two republics were identical, and they must work together for the advancement of civilization and the good of mankind.

Before coming to Peking, the American delegation visited Hongkong, Shanghai, Nanking and Hankow. The members of the party are: General Julian S. Carr, representing the Southern Commercial congress; Julius O. Frank, representing the Milwaukee Merchants and Manufacturers' association; Mrs. Julius O. Frank; F. P. Neal, representing the Kansas City (Mo.) Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. F. P. Neal; F. A. Landeck, representing the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association; Mrs. Harriet M. Johnston, representing the Muncie National Institute; Mrs. L. W. Neely, Muncie, Ind.; David S. Rose, representing the Chinese-American Products Exchange company; Mr. and Mrs. David S. Rose, of Milwaukee; A. R. Peterson, Jr., New York city; and Joseph H. Pang, Chicago, Ill., Chinese business agent of Chinese-American Products Exchange company for south China.

ANTWERP NEWS.

Antwerp, Ohio, April 24.—When turning a corner Sunday, the auto in which John Cleveland and sons, Earl and Mitchell, and John Majors and George Knox were riding, turned over, the latter receiving a broken arm, the others escaping with some bruises only. The injured man was taken to the St. Joseph hospital, where the fracture was reduced.

Lacy Traylor, Isaac Bolce, David Barnhart, Harry Curins, William Jordan and Earl Seelye motored to Toledo and return Sunday.

Burton Heisel, the accommodating clerk at the Grant & Co.'s grocery, went over to Fort Wayne Sunday, firmly convinced it was his duty to enlist and do his bit for his country. Not being able to get assigned to the cavalry or infantry division, there being no opening except in the light artillery, he returned home to await a more favorable opening.

Died, at her home here, after a lingering illness, Mrs. Merica Doering, aged 75 years. The deceased is another of our pioneer residents that has been called, her life having been spent in this vicinity. She was a woman of noble qualities, beloved by all, and her passing is grieved by all. Funeral from her late home, Monday at 2:30 p. m., Rev. George B. Sessions, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiated. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Miss Lizzie Brown, of Fort Wayne, came Monday for a visit with her brother, Allen Doctor, and family, out at the farm home, west of town, this week.

Mrs. Ossie Toney went to Fort Wayne, Saturday to visit friends for a few days.

Mrs. E. J. Kigar, of Fort Wayne, is spending a few days here this week, caring for her aunt, Mrs. Susan Zuber, who is an invalid, being confined to her home with rheumatism.

Jean Marlin, one of our respected residents, aged about 65 years, met with what might have resulted in a fatal accident Saturday. When crossing the street he was run down by a motor truck. The front wheels ran over his body, and when he was extricated he was found to be pretty badly bruised. He is now able to be around. Cline Majors and Ted Hawkins mo-

HOW SUBMARINES CAN REACH PACIFIC.

This shows the 14,000-mile route German submarines must follow to reach the Pacific coast, where they are now reported operating. The star indicates the German-settled southern states of Brazil, where it is possible a relay base is operated. Chile, on the west coast of South America, furnishes the American nitrate supply, which would be threatened by any considerable number of U-boats. Pacific bases are suspected on the Mexican coast or various uninhabited islands.

A True Patriot Stands Behind The "Federal Reserve" Now!

The "Federal Reserve" will protect the Nation's finances in the most trying times.

While the "Federal Reserve" is not a war fund it is a "Home Guard" of finance that safeguards the interests of every community in war or peace.

The True patriot places his money where it is a support to Fort Wayne and to every community where Fort Wayne sells the products of its industries.

The strength of the Federal Reserve System is figured in billions; those billions in reserve are made possible through the support of member banks like The First National Bank.

When you place your funds in this National Bank you not only receive Federal Reserve protection but give your support in turn to one of the most important arms of the Government.

The really wonderful thing about all specials offered by the Outfitters, is that, not only do we make home-furnishing sensations from a price standpoint, but we offer our liberal credit terms on the special prices we make. For instance we know of no occasion when such a lot of good furniture was ever offered for such a low price and DELIVERED INTO YOUR HOME ON THE SMALL PAYMENT OF $1.50. On our plan you can enjoy a home of convenience, elegance and comfort and pay for it while you have the advantage of its possession.

The Value and Why We Can Offer It to You

This entire five-piece outfit is worth every cent of $25.00. On our visit to the furniture market, along with the other score or more of stores in our buying chain, this body of buyers contracted with a prominent manufacturer to take many hundred of these sets provided his price was right. Naturally on such a big order the manufacturer's price would be cut to the lowest possible figure. Our allotment of these sets quickly sold out and we now offer our re-order.

Detailed Description of This Living Room Set

First we want to emphasize that every piece in this set is exactly like the illustration. It will look exactly like that in your home. The model is massive; the design being along the popular and dignified straight lines so prevalent in the always good mission furniture. The finish is dark brown fumed oak; the upholstery of durable Spanish Drill Leather. The chairs and rocker are roomy, arms broad and depth of seat conducive to comfort. The table has broad top and undershelf for magazines and papers.

The New 'Ice Berg' for Better Food Less Ice

Made of seasoned hardwood; extra heavy overlapping doors; golden oak finish; insulated with Bird's Patent Sheathing; ice chambers lined with galvanized sheet steel; provision chambers lined with galvanized sheet steel and white porcelain enamel on steel; genuine bronze locks and hinges; tinted woven wire shelves; corrugated galvanized steel ice rack; galvanized steel pan and pan boards; removable drain pipe; automatic drip pipe; automatic drip trap; self-retaining maple wheel casters; perfect cold dry air circulation. By the simple force of gravity, the cold air falls to the lowest point of the refrigerator, entering the provision compartment, then displaces the lighter air, forcing it up through the air flues into top of ice chamber, as shown in sectional view. When coming in contact with the ice and zinc under it, all the moisture and impurities are condensed, passing off through the drip pipe. This dry, pure air then passes into the provision chamber, again forcing the air up into the ice chamber to be again relieved of its impurities by coming in contact with the ice, thence down into the provision chamber, thereby keeping up a positive circulation of Pure, Cold Dry Air, the three necessary conditions for the preservation of perishable articles. Taken in every aspect of quality and economy in ice consumption, the New Iceberg, in any of the many models is the refrigerator you want for use this summer.

Washington, April 24.—Among the most notable figures in France are the members of the French mission, who have just set foot on American soil.

At the head of the mission is Rene Viviani, minister of justice and vice president of the council of ministers, who embodies the highest type of French democracy. He is a progressive in every sense, belonging to the independent socialist party, which includes such men as Briand, Millerand and Clemenceau. He passed the workers' pension law through parliament.

Other members of the party are: Marshal Joseph Jacques Cossier Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French armies until last December, now military adviser of the government; Vice Admiral P. L. A. Chocheprat, dean of French admirals, and an expert on submarine problems; Marquis Pierre De Chambrun, member of the chamber of deputies, and a student of international affairs; M. Simon, inspector of finances; M. Hovelacque, inspector general of public instructions, and Surgeon Major Dreyfus.

Viviani's Career.

On June 13, 1914, Viviani, who is 45 years old, succeeded Gaston Roumieu as president of the council of ministers and minister of foreign affairs. In that dual capacity he accepted President Poincare on a special mission to Russia and only four days after their return to Paris, war was declared on France by Germany. It was primarily because Viviani was a member of President Poincare's cabinet when the war broke out that he has been retained, notwithstanding the mutations of French politics, involving extensive changes in the cabinet. The French people felt that to permit him to retire might be construed an evidence of their disapproval of France's entry into the war. Besides, there was immense personal popularity for the man himself.

A Marshal of France.

Marshal Joffre is the only man in France since the close of the Franco-Prussian war in 1870, who has been authorized to bear the illustrious title of marshal of France and this distinction was conferred on him by unanimous action of the French chamber in grateful recognition of his splendid services as a military leader in what probably was the most critical moments in French history. His officers and soldiers, however, scarcely know him by the distinguished title. To them he has been "Our Joffre" or "Grandpa," since he led them to victory on the Marne and finally turned the tide of the German invasion.

Yet these familiar nicknames never conveyed to the French mind any sense of weakness. Beloved as he was by his soldiers, Joffre is in fact a strict disciplinarian. His main concern, after making all his dispositions to secure victory, has been the protection of the lives of his men. This was illustrated in a small, but important manner early in the war, when he ruthlessly disregarded the traditional French love for the famous red trousers and had them discarded for the present blue uniform. Common sense is rated as his distinguishing characteristic. He never permits himself to become excited under the most severe strain.

Found Joffre Serene.

In the darkest days of the war, in August, 1914, the minister of war paid a hasty visit to Joffre's headquarters, then located in a small house at Romilly, behind the Marne.

The German progress was still in full swing, yet the minister came back to Paris buoyed up with hope and sure of ultimate victory. For he had found the great general calm, serene and absolutely confident of the ability of his army to check the German invaders at that point, a promise abundantly redeemed in his subsequent victories. Joffre was commander-in-chief of the French army at the beginning of the war and he remained in that position until December last, when he gave place to Gen. Nivelle to become marshal and military adviser of the government.

In responding to the call of active duty, his services are placed at the disposal of the American people, whom he comes to advise in the best way of organizing, disciplining, equipping and perhaps transporting to Europe the greatest army which the country has ever called into being.

The marshal was born in 1852 at Rivesaltes, in the Pyrenees, of parents in the middle station of life. At 17 he became a student in the great French military school, the Ecole Polytechnique. The Franco-Prussian war in 1870 found him a sub-lieutenant in the artillery defending a Paris fort. After the war he devoted some time to engineering works. His thorough mastery of military science, brought him rapid promotion and in 1911 he was vice president of the superior war council, chief of the general staff and practically he pushed the 1913 law for three years military service, which is now conceded to have been the salvation of France.

To Cut Duplication of Railway Service

Chicago, April 24.—Duplication of passenger service by different railroads between the same points at practically the same time is to be eliminated as far as possible if plans announced by operating officials of a number of the big trunk lines in conference here today can be successfully worked out. The elimination of unnecessary trains is for the purpose of conserving the facilities of the roads so that the best possible service be at the disposal of the government and also to economize by reducing operating expenses.

Whether the change will be permanent has not been determined, as this is said to depend on how workable the plans are after being tried.

ASK CLOCK TO HELP GARDENS

Daylight Hour from Council.

APPEAL TO LOYALTY OF CITY TEAMSTERS

Railroad Men Will Give
Noon Hour for Hoeing
Potatoes.

Aid of the old family clock is to be sought in the city garden campaign. Another hour of sunshine for the sprouting potatoes and another hour for hoeing between the winding rows in the evening would be like stealing a forced march on the enemy, members of the food relief committee believe.

A committee of five "plant a lot" enthusiasts will petition the city council, Tuesday night to turn the hands on grandfather's clock ahead an hour and thereby foot the old man time out of 154 hours of daylight between now and the last of September.

Members of the committee for appealing for another hour of sunlight from the council are R. B. Hanna, S. F. Bowser, Superintendent of Schools J. N. Study, professor Louis Dorn, F. S. Hunting and Theodore F. Thiene.

Advantage in the principal of moving the clock comes in the hour of daylight which clerks and workmen would attain by going to work an hour earlier in the morning and quitting an hour sooner in the evening. Men who now leave the stores and shops at 6 o'clock, would be free at 5 o'clock under the new system. Of course, they would be forced to greet the dawn an hour earlier in the morning.

"It would be like the dear old farm," says one of the committee. "We could hear the birds sing in the morning and greet the sun before he becomes a furnace of fire. There would be refreshing air in the morning and an hour at night to get back to the soil."

Not a teamster reported to the food relief headquarters, 310 South Clinton street for service Tuesday morning, despite the effort made on Monday to induce men with horses to assist in the cultivating campaign.

Frank Hilgemann head of the food relief committee, wrote a personal letter to all teamsters of the city, whose names he could procure, Tuesday. He asked them to report at a meeting to be held at the food relief office on Wednesday evening. He urged them to appear for work before that time if possible.

Patriotic appeal is made to owners of work teams, in the communication from Hilgemann. The men are told that they owe it to the community and to their own families to assist in preparing the soil for better crops.

Teamsters will be well paid for their work. The city council will appropriate a fund for meeting expenses of cultivating the grounds of the city. Effort will be made to induce teamsters to quit their present lines of work for two days and allow their horses to march before the plow in a peaceful advance for the cause of humanity.

Noted as a Financier.

M. Simon, inspector of finances, has an enviable reputation in France as an authority on finances. For a long time he was stationed in Mexico trying to adjust the extensive financial interests of French citizens in that country. He is one of the best known in financial circles of the United States.

M. Hovelacque, inspector of public instruction, is well known in educational circles in America. He is a graduate of the highest French university and is a great admirer of American institutions, particularly of the public school system. He has paid more than a dozen visits to the United States, the last one a year ago, making a special study of educational problems.

Surgeon Major Dreyfus is not the famous Major Dreyfus whose case nearly disrupted the French army a decade ago. He was a private practicing physician at the beginning of the war when called into military service and attached closely to the person of General Joffre, whom he has accompanied on every trip to England, Italy and elsewhere.

FRIAR BENEFIT WILL TOTAL ABOUT $200

Between $175 and $200 will be realized by the local chapter of the Red Cross society from the Friar Frolic, given Monday evening at the Palace theater, for the second time. All the proceeds above the actual expenses will be turned over to the Red Cross society to be used in promoting the splendid work that is being done here. The exact amount cannot be determined until after all bills have been settled.

The Friars worked just as hard, if not harder, to make the show Monday evening from which they personally did not receive a cent a success, as they did for the first performance given for their own benefit. Friar acts were intermingled with acts on the regular Palace bill, making the performance one of exceptional merit. The Friars are well pleased with the generous response of the public and the officers of the Red Cross society are profuse in their appreciation of the efforts of the Friar club, the members of the cast and to the public for its patronage.

I WON'T WORKERS JAILED.

Minot, N. D., April 24.—Carl J. Helmgren and A. Ganson members of the Industrial Workers of the World, arrested yesterday for insulting the American flag were sentenced in police court to twenty days in jail. The men are said to have attempted to start a fight with a navy recruit and in the conversation to have cursed the flag.

Mrs. B. M. Hutchins and Miss Levon Chapman left Tuesday for Indianapolis, where they will attend the meeting of Eastern Star's grand chapter of Indiana.

ISSUE HEAVILY OVERSUBSCRIBED

Amount Has Been Swelled from $200,000,000 to $250,000,000.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Heavy over-subscription to the first offering of the new government war securities has resulted in having the initial issue, which is in 3 per cent treasury certificates maturing June 30 increased from $200,000,000 to $250,000,000. The entire $250,000,000 thus offered to financial institutions through the federal reserve banks already have been absorbed. The determination to increase the first issue was announced today by Secretary McAdoo.

President Wilson today signed the war bond bill authorizing the sale of five billion dollars in government bonds and two billion dollars in treasury certificates.

CLARK SAYS BILL FAILS

Speaker Predicts Death of Conscription Measure.

IS OPPOSED TO BILL HIMSELF

Charge Made in House That Munitions Makers Are Pressing Bill.

Washington, April 24.—Speaker Clark opposed the selective draft and predicted it never would pass congress today in receiving a delegation from the National Security League. Several hundred petitions, bearing a million names, asking congress to adopt the administration plan were laid before the speaker. "Conscription never will pass, in my opinion," he said. "I am for letting the flower and youth of this country volunteer before we fasten the disgrace of a draft upon them. The war department is jumping around trying to bulldoze people into passing this bill, and I don't think they are going to do it."

Cites Early Example.

Representative Harrison, of Virginia, arguing for conscription in the house debate on the administration army bill today, quoted from a letter from Thomas Jefferson in 1813 to James Monroe, urging that the country "try and classify the whole of its citizenship." Representative Chandler, of New York, insisted Jefferson did not necessarily mean conscription. "The very next year after that letter was written," remarked Representative Osborne, of California, "this country not having heeded its advice, the British invaded Washington and burned this very capitol."

When the senate resumed debate, Senator Chamberlain, in charge of the bill, said he would not seek to fix a time for a vote tomorrow.

Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, offered an amendment for later discussion to establish a system of tribunals, local, state and national, to determine exemptions from draft.

A charge that conscription propaganda is being conducted by stockholders of munitions plants was made by Representative Anthony, of Kansas, republican member of the military committee. He advocated the volunteer system.

Criminal Negligence.

If the country were really confronted with invasion, he said, the administration bill "would be little short of criminal negligence," because six months elapse before the first conscript would be able to come into the training camps. Accordingly he said the committee majority was providing for immediate raising of an additional army of 300,000 volunteers and in three months would have that army in process of training or fully trained.

"Did not the secretary of war," asked Representative Kahn, "say that he would not be able to equip the volunteers within three months?"

"Oh, yes," replied Mr. Anthony, "but I consider that statement unwarranted. I reminded the secretary that he did have sufficient guns and enough equipment."

SPAIN IS UNEASY.

Madrid, April 24.—Via Paris, 5:20 p. m.—The government has sent another note to Germany on the submarine question, according to El Financiero. The cabinet is carefully examining the situation created through the attacks on Spanish ships and King Alfonso is in constant conference with the political leaders.

TO ADDRESS EXCHANGE.

Traction Company Head Will Be Entertained.

Robert Feustel, president of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, will give an address before the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange Tuesday evening. The session of the exchange is to be held at the Commercial club and will be opened with a banquet.

Besides President Feustel invitations have been extended to S. W. Greenland, J. J. Brennan, Harry Vordermark, Arthur Redderson and Fred Fahlsing, all of the traction company.

GRASS AND TREES AND WAVING GRAIN

Occupation Opens a New Era in the History of the East.

With the British Forces in Palestine, April 2.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—It is over two months since the British entered El-Arish, which geographically and historically is the gate of Palestine and the force of the advance has now put them firmly on the soil of the Holy Land.

Progress from the sands of the desert to the sown land was gradual and was marked by three separate stages. The first ended at El-Burg, bringing the troops to the region of the grass. After a year of yellow sand and green vistas were soothing and refreshing to the eyes, especially with the relief afforded by the Tamarisk trees rising between the sand dunes. The second stage was from El-Burg to Sheikh-Zoweld, marking the transition from the green meadows to a land of barley fields. Sheikh-Zoweld is a mud village, but boasts a fruitful orchard with a cactus hedge such as surrounds every place of fruitfulness in Palestine. The orchard's blossoms were a joy to the eyes of thousands of men who had seen no sign of spring for two years past.

THREATENS THE PRESIDENT AND GOES TO PRISON

Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—Christian C. Lucke, said to be a German sympathizer, pleaded guilty to having made threats against President Wilson when arraigned in the United States district court today. He was sentenced to one year and one day in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. His threat was made some time ago as he was walking along a street here. It was overheard by a mail carrier and Lucke's arrest followed in a few days.

MAY RESUME ATHLETICS.

Cambridge, Mass., April 24.—An intimation that intercollegiate sports may possibly be resumed by Harvard university next fall is contained in a statement to Harvard athletes issued by Fred W. Moore, graduate treasurer of Harvard athletics. Mr. Moore urges students to take part regularly in some form of outdoor sports, "for the benefit of both of next year's teams, if there are such, and of the individual athletes."

He suggests that in the absence of the spring practice, the football men not in other sports should report for work in field events.

STUDENTS TO ORATE AT GARY.

South Bend, Ind., April 24.—The annual oratorical contest of the Northern Indiana Scholastic association will have been held May 12 at Gary, South Bend, Mishawaka, Elkhart, Goshen, Laport, Michigan City, Hammond, East Chicago and Crownpoint will have representatives entered.

RAILWAY DONATES GROUND.

Anderson, Ind., April 24.—The Union Traction company of Indiana today announced that all unused plots of ground owned by the company over its entire system were available to employees who wished to use the same for gardening purposes. A list of the plots will be compiled and applicants will be granted garden privileges free.

Robert B. Wheeler, who has been ill for a couple of weeks at his home on Crescent avenue, is reported as somewhat improved.

Mr. Miles P. Porter, Jr. will read a paper of interest at the regular meeting of the Fort Wayne Medical society in the assembly room of the court house Tuesday evening.

MAY DETERMINE ON HOME GARDEN FUND

Mayor Not Ready to Report on Exact Amount Needed.

Views of city councilmen on the fragrance and worth of back yard gardens are expected to be aired at the council session Tuesday evening. Members of the body expect to talk in a general way about the support which the city fathers should lend to the "plant a lot" campaign.

When a Sentinel reporter called the home of William Beyer, president of the council, to get particulars on the proposed discussion, the head of the council body was called from his back yard garden to the telephone. He did not state whether he is enthusiastic about the "grow more" movement.

Mayor Hoesy, who expects to ask the city council for an appropriation for carrying on the city gardening work, has not yet prepared a definite list of expenses necessary for city lot planning. He expects to carry his bill before the next council session.

A petition from the Allen County Home Guards asking for an ordinance which will provide another hour of daylight during the summer, will be presented before the council Tuesday night. Council members are divided in their opinions as to whether or not the clock should be set ahead another hour.

WILL ASK PEOPLE.

Board of Works Favors Building of Industrial Track.

Public hearing will be granted by the board of works on the petition for the installing of an industrial track from the Pennsylvania railroad in the alley between Montgomery and Holman streets to Barr street. Members of the board are in favor of the track, which has been asked for by all property owners along the way.

The board, at its regular meeting Monday afternoon, received petitions for the following sidewalks: East side of Custer avenue, from High street to Richardson street; on the west side of Holton avenue, from McKee street to Eckart street; on both sides of Zollars avenue, from Nelson street to Thompson avenue.

BIRTH RECORD.

To Mr. and Mrs. George Sutton, 50 Orchard avenue—a girl.
To Mr. and Mrs. Orville Felton, 2403 Hanna street—a boy.
To Mr. and Mrs. John Sakowicz, 1339 Horace street—a boy.
To Mr. and Mrs. Martin Baade, Concordia college—a boy.
To Mr. and Mrs. John Erwin Rothling, 465 Pontiac street—a girl.
To Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Miller, 1413 West Fourth street—a girl.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Building permits were issued to H. F. Wiegman to remodel dwelling at 313 Michigan street, $500, and to repair house at 1016 Grant avenue, $200.

Work of tunnelling beneath the Nickel Plate tracks at Combs street is being pushed rapidly forward by the Brooks Construction company. It is hoped to have the opening through the right of way by Saturday night.

WANTS CONDUIT.

Petition for a conduit beneath Glasgow avenue to connect the two buildings of the Summit City Soap works was laid before the board of works Tuesday morning. The large tunnel, to be built of re-enforced concrete, will allow communication between the factory buildings.

DEFEATS A SUBMARINE.

New York, April 24.—A vivid account of a running fight in the Mediterranean between a German submarine and a British freighter in which the U-boat was struck three times in an exchange of thirty shots apiece, resulting in an explosion aboard the submarine and its probable destruction, was related by Captain James Craddock, skipper of the steamship on his arrival today.

WEST INTO SCHOOL FRAT.

Detroit, April 24.—Earl B. Rice, 17, died in a local hospital today of a broken neck. Officials of the board of education have begun an investigation of charges that Rice sustained his injury while being initiated into a fraternity early Sunday morning.

BAIHLE HOME FROM FRANCE

Sends Message from New

ternational Fair.

A message from George Baille telling of his safe arrival in New York City from Lyons, France, was received Monday morning by Mrs. Baille. Mr. Baille sailed several weeks ago for Lyons as a representative of the Wayne Oil Tank and Pump company at the international fair held in that city.

Mr. Baille's message gave no particulars, except to tell of his safe arrival, which caused his family and his friends to breathe much easier. From the time he left this country on his perilous trip abroad with German submarines sinking every boat of every description that they came there was much apprehension for his safety.

Before his departure no assurance of protection could be given him by this government and there was also some fear that he would not be permitted to return after once he set foot on French soil. The threatened difficulties, however, were overcome without any serious international complications.

Relatives and friends in Fort Wayne had not been advised when he would leave France upon the return voyage. Because of the dangers at sea the date for sailing of vessels are no longer made public. It was not known that Baille was enroute home until receipt of the message Tuesday telling of his arrival.

Mr. Baille took a prominent part in organizing American exhibitors at the fair and was elected their chairman. Through him protest was made to the French government because of certain alleged discrimination against American exhibitors, which, however, was satisfactorily settled.

ENLISTING THE SCHOOLS.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 24.—Governor Brumbaugh today issued a proclamation calling upon all the school authorities of Pennsylvania to instill in the minds of their pupils the importance of enlisting in the "agricultural army and thus render a patriotic service to the commonwealth and the country."

One More Player Added to the Roster of the Fort Wayne Club

SIGN FIRST SACKER
KELLEY OF WESTERNNew Infielder Expected to Make Good on the Central Club.

By the signing of Mike Kelley, Irishman, firstsacker and all around big fellow, the roster of the Fort Wayne Central league club has been made larger by one. Manager Carl Vandagriff agreed to the figures asked for the initial baseman and wired him to report immediately. He has been with the Sioux City team in the Western association, having worked there throughout the training season.

Kelley was in the interstate last season with Slegfried and several other local candidates. Every one of these players are strong for him and believe he will be a valuable addition to the club. He is but 22 years old, and stands 6 feet 2 in a pair of four-bit socks.

There is an understanding that with the coming of Kelley Rooney will be switched to the outfield. He has alternated on the initial sack and in the garden for some time, and he is much a theme on the right field bank as he is on the base line. Furthermore he can swing that pill, and should be a great help as a member of a wrecking crew.

Another player who is due to show up most any time is Pitcher Cummings, star right from a season in the Thren-L. He was brought from Shreveport in the Texas league, mainly because the club refused to play in the south.

Following next Sunday's games, one with the Lincoln Life club here and the other with the Kendaerville Reds at Kendaerville, the first cut will be made and some players will land in their new homes. Monday the club will leave on an exhibition trip which will land them in Evansville on Wednesday night ready to open the season Thursday. About sixteen players will be carried on the trip and through the first couple weeks of the league season, after which the outfit must be cut to thirteen men.

STUDENTS ENTER THE ANNUAL NET TOURNEYHigh School Tennis Meet
Scheduled to Start Sec-

Entries for the annual tennis tourney of the high school are being turned into the committee in flocks. The lists were opened yesterday and are scheduled to close Friday night, at which time it is expected that all the racquet artists will have signed up. Contrary to the usual custom, an entrance fee is being charged this year. It is not very large, however, 15 cents per person per event, and the proceeds will be used to buy cups for the winners.

Singles and doubles for both boys and girls and mixed doubles will compose the list of events, with trophies up in each one. The committee composed of Woebling, Stevens, Barnett, Helen Harkins and Katherine Kampe is convinced that

CLEVEREST PUNCHER MEETS CLEVEREST BLOCKER AND LIGHTWEIGHT TITEL HINGES ON RESULT.

THE GREAT EST PUNCHER.

WORLD TITLE.

THE GREATEST BLOCKER.

KILBANE

(By Paul Furman.)
The lightweight championship of the world is again at stake.
May 1 Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, the most perfect fighting machine in the world, will meet Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion, the world's cleverest defensive boxer.

In spite of the fact that Kilbane will give away at least twelve pounds, Welsh is facing the most serious threat to his title since he won from Willie Ritchie in London in 1914.

Kilbane is the most dangerous fighter in the world today. He combines bewildering speed with a terrific punch and is one of the shrewdest ring generals the game has ever produced.

Kilbane is at his best against the greatest fighters. His greatest bouts have been against men who have threatened his title. Now they are all eliminated. Kilbane is a drug on the market in his division. He is too good for the other 122 pounders. There is only one thing for him to do—break into the lightweight division.

Johnny has fought several lightweights, including Richie Mitchell, Benny Leonard, Joe Mandot, Jose Rivers and others near the top of their class. In most cases he was returned the winner.

Welsh has been able to retain his title through his defensive tactics. A shrewd boxer, he has seldom risked an opening which his opponent might take advantage of. Only once since he won his title has he engaged in a twenty-round title bout, winning this on points from Charlie White at Colorado Springs last summer.

Welsh is not generally given credit with "packing a punch," while Kilbane's has been in evidence on numerous occasions.

His last bout of consequence was with George Chaney, who had left a path of ruined boxing reputations behind him to get a chance at the champion. Chaney lasted just three rounds with Kilbane.

Ten-round bouts have fallen into disrepute because, without decisions, it is so much easier for a couple of fighters to stall through without risking anything. Then to really try, that the public has been made the goat time after time. But this should be different.

Kilbane has everything to win and very little to lose. A defeat at the hands of Welsh would not take his title. But should he defeat Welsh he would be the holder of the title in both feather and lightweight divisions. This would mean thousands of dollars to him.

Kilbane will try. He doesn't fear Welsh. He is after that title.

Welsh will try, too. He will not take any chances on losing the sincere worth thousands of dollars a year to him.

Watch for May 1. It may be a red letter day in boxing history.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Boston, April 24.—New York took a 3 to 6 victory from the Red Sox yesterday.

Posters relieved Shore in the ninth and passed Gilhooler. High's single, Maise's double, an error and a sacrifice completed the winning rally. In the fifth every member of the Yankee infield made an error. It was "Barry day," in honor of Jack Barry, Red Sox manager. Delegations from Worcester, Barry's home; Meriden, his birthplace, and Holy Cross college, where Jack played before going to the big league, attended the game. Score: R.H.E. Joe Cantillon won't have to worry about his players being drafted. Uncle Sam doesn't want men over 50.

"Anyone who says I'm a slacker is a liar," says Jess Willard. Jess probably is safe, probably nobody would care to resent the "short and ugly."

Last night's bowling in the state tourney landed but one club in the roll of leaders. The Ideal Bakers of Terre Haute, with a count of 2,563, landed in eighth place, pushing the Berghoff Brewing association back to a tie for ninth and tenth. The Bakers started with a good big 973 and got 928 in the second. There they blew, however, and finished with a small count which kept them from a higher place.

Next to the Ideal club last night came the Kerner Colts of Logansport, with 2544. Among the ten Fort Wayne teams which bowled during the session the Bohne Hatters were high with 2526.

The schedule for today started with two-man teams at 10 o'clock this morning, and the doubles were scheduled to hold full sway all during the afternoon and evening. The schedule for tonight is as follows:

BRITONS USE MUCH TOBACCO.

London, April 24.—Despite the government's restrictions against tobacco importations, last year showed a heavy increase in the amount consumed in Great Britain. A total of 48,600,000 pounds sterling was spent last year for 130,700,000 pounds of tobacco, as against 40,000,000 pounds sterling for 126,000,000 pounds of the previous year. England's tobacco expenditure per head for the year was $5.25.

WINONA LAKE MAN DIES.

Warsaw, Ind., April 24.—A telegram was received Monday morning by C. C. Dukes in which he was informed of the death of Arlie Bendisley, formerly of Winona Lake, at Logansport. Paralysis was the cause of death.

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox (which you can get at any druggist) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After a canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement.

CITIZENS URGED NOT TO FORGET CLEAN-UP WEEK

This is clean-up week. Health officers of the city and civic organizations interested in this movement are anxious that citizens do not forget it. With the coming of the spring months the usual trend of thought runs toward house cleaning and this year promises not to be an exception.

In keeping with the plan of planting every available place in foodstuffs many unsightly fences, backyards and outbuildings can be hidden from view by planting vines and flowers. Fort Wayne citizens are urged to begin their "cleaning up" campaign at once and help make Fort Wayne beautiful and sanitary.

DOWNWARD COURSE

Fast Being Realized By Fort Wayne People.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing 'till the back is lame and weak. Other disorders may quickly follow: Dropsy and often Bright's disease. This frequently is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Fort Wayne woman.

Mrs. L. Schoonover, 521 Huffman street, Fort Wayne, says: "Some years ago, I suffered from an attack of kidney trouble. My back had been weak and lame and my kidneys were acting irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills as directed and they gave very satisfactory relief. I am glad to recommend them to anyone troubled as I was."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Schoonover had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN NAMED BY PRESIDENT

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Columbia City, Ind., April 24.—Will Lawrence, president of the Whitley County Farm Efficiency league, has completed his county organization by naming heads of various committees, who will appoint township assistants, and hold township and community meetings. The chairmen of the committees follow: Corn production, Whitley County Corn Growers' association; potatoes, G. B. Widdifield; home gardening and vegetable crops, Prof. C. E. Spaulding; fruits, Albert A. Bush; livestock, Perry Gandy, Churubusco; dairy products, Rob McNaghy; food conservation, Ladies' Auxiliary; home projects, by boys and girls, to be

In charge of the county agent, when appointed; horses and mules, Etta Horse Breeders' association; labor bureau, Supl. A. R. Fleck, until a county agent is appointed. In the last named bureau, men desirous of work and farmers needing help can negotiate and fill each others' desires.

Charles Cochran, et al., have filed a partition suit against Ira Roath, et al., through Attorneys Gates & White-leather, have instituted similar proceedings against the plaintiffs, on the same land.
Sam Ruch, of Chaffee, Mo., and his son, Walter, student in the University of Chicago law school, spent Sunday here with the former's father, Joe Ruch, and family. Mr. Ruch, a wealthy lumberman of Chaffee, is captaining a company of volunteers who will answer the nation's second call for men. Walter Ruch has applied for a place on the officers' reserve corps.
Ruben Tate, a young man 20 years of age, escaped from the school for feeble-minded youth at Fort Wayne, Sunday, beat his way here, applying to Sheriff James Bodley for a night's lodging. Close questioning disclosed the identity of the young man, who was taken back to Fort Wayne, Monday, by a warden of the home.
Will Hoose, west of the city, was interceded by an officer late Saturday evening when a local resident chided him about wearing an American flag, and called him a coward, thus arousing Hoose's indignation to the fighting point.

Fred Morsches and wife, who operate a farm west of the city, Saturday, sold a hog to a local dealer that weighed 646 pounds, for which they were paid $59.95, or at the rate of 11 cents, a high price for heavy porkers.
Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vaughn, north of the city, who has been a railroad brakeman out of Los Angeles, Cal., for several months, writes his parents that he left April 17 to accept a government position at Skagway, Alaska.
G. W. Brown, of Noble county, a resident near Merriam for nearly thirty-five years, celebrated his nineteenth birthday anniversary Sunday, and several grandchildren, and so on down to one great-great-grandchild, were present to enjoy an elaborate dinner.
Noah Stump and Lewis Wolf went to Fort Wayne to the Lutheran hospital, Monday, the former to have X-rays taken for a bone infection, and the latter to have a similar examination made for a fractured arm.
The heirs of the late George A. Pontius have sold their interest in the J. H. Kelsor & Co. drug store to Homer Eberhard, who, with J. H. Kelsor, senior partner, will manage the store from now on. Mr. Eberhard is a graduate of Purdue university pharmacy school, and has been connected with the store six years. Thomas T. Pontius, representing the Pontius heirs, withdraws from the store to manage the local Dicks-Pontius sealing wax factory.
Edward L. Lawson, blacksmith of Sweetzers, Grant county, and Mrs. Barbara Resler, of Columbia City, were wedded Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock by Rev. J. T. Dean, and they will reside in Sweetzers.

Lorber Bros., proprietors of the Modl Cloak and Suit company, who have operated successfully in the Tuttle block for four years, in order that they may enlarge, will, after May 15, occupy the Eyanson room on West Van Buren street, recently vacated by the Burget jewelry store.

CHOICE LOTS WITH A WATER FRONTAGE

Natural Beauty of Jacobs Property to Be Kept for Residential District.

Choice lots with a beautiful healthful water frontage, heretofore were only dreams of Fort Wayne people. Realization of this very thing is near at hand and before the summer has gone by many home seekers will have an opportunity to become owners of lots fronting a small stream filled with ripples, small dams and fresh water pools.

ARTHUR SHURTLEFF

The John H. Jacobs property, bounded by Centlivre park, Clinton street, Jacobs avenue and the tracks of the Fort Wayne & Northwestern Railway company, will be developed into a choice residential district. This movement is being promoted by the Wildwood company, plans for which were announced at a banquet held at the Commercial club, Monday evening.

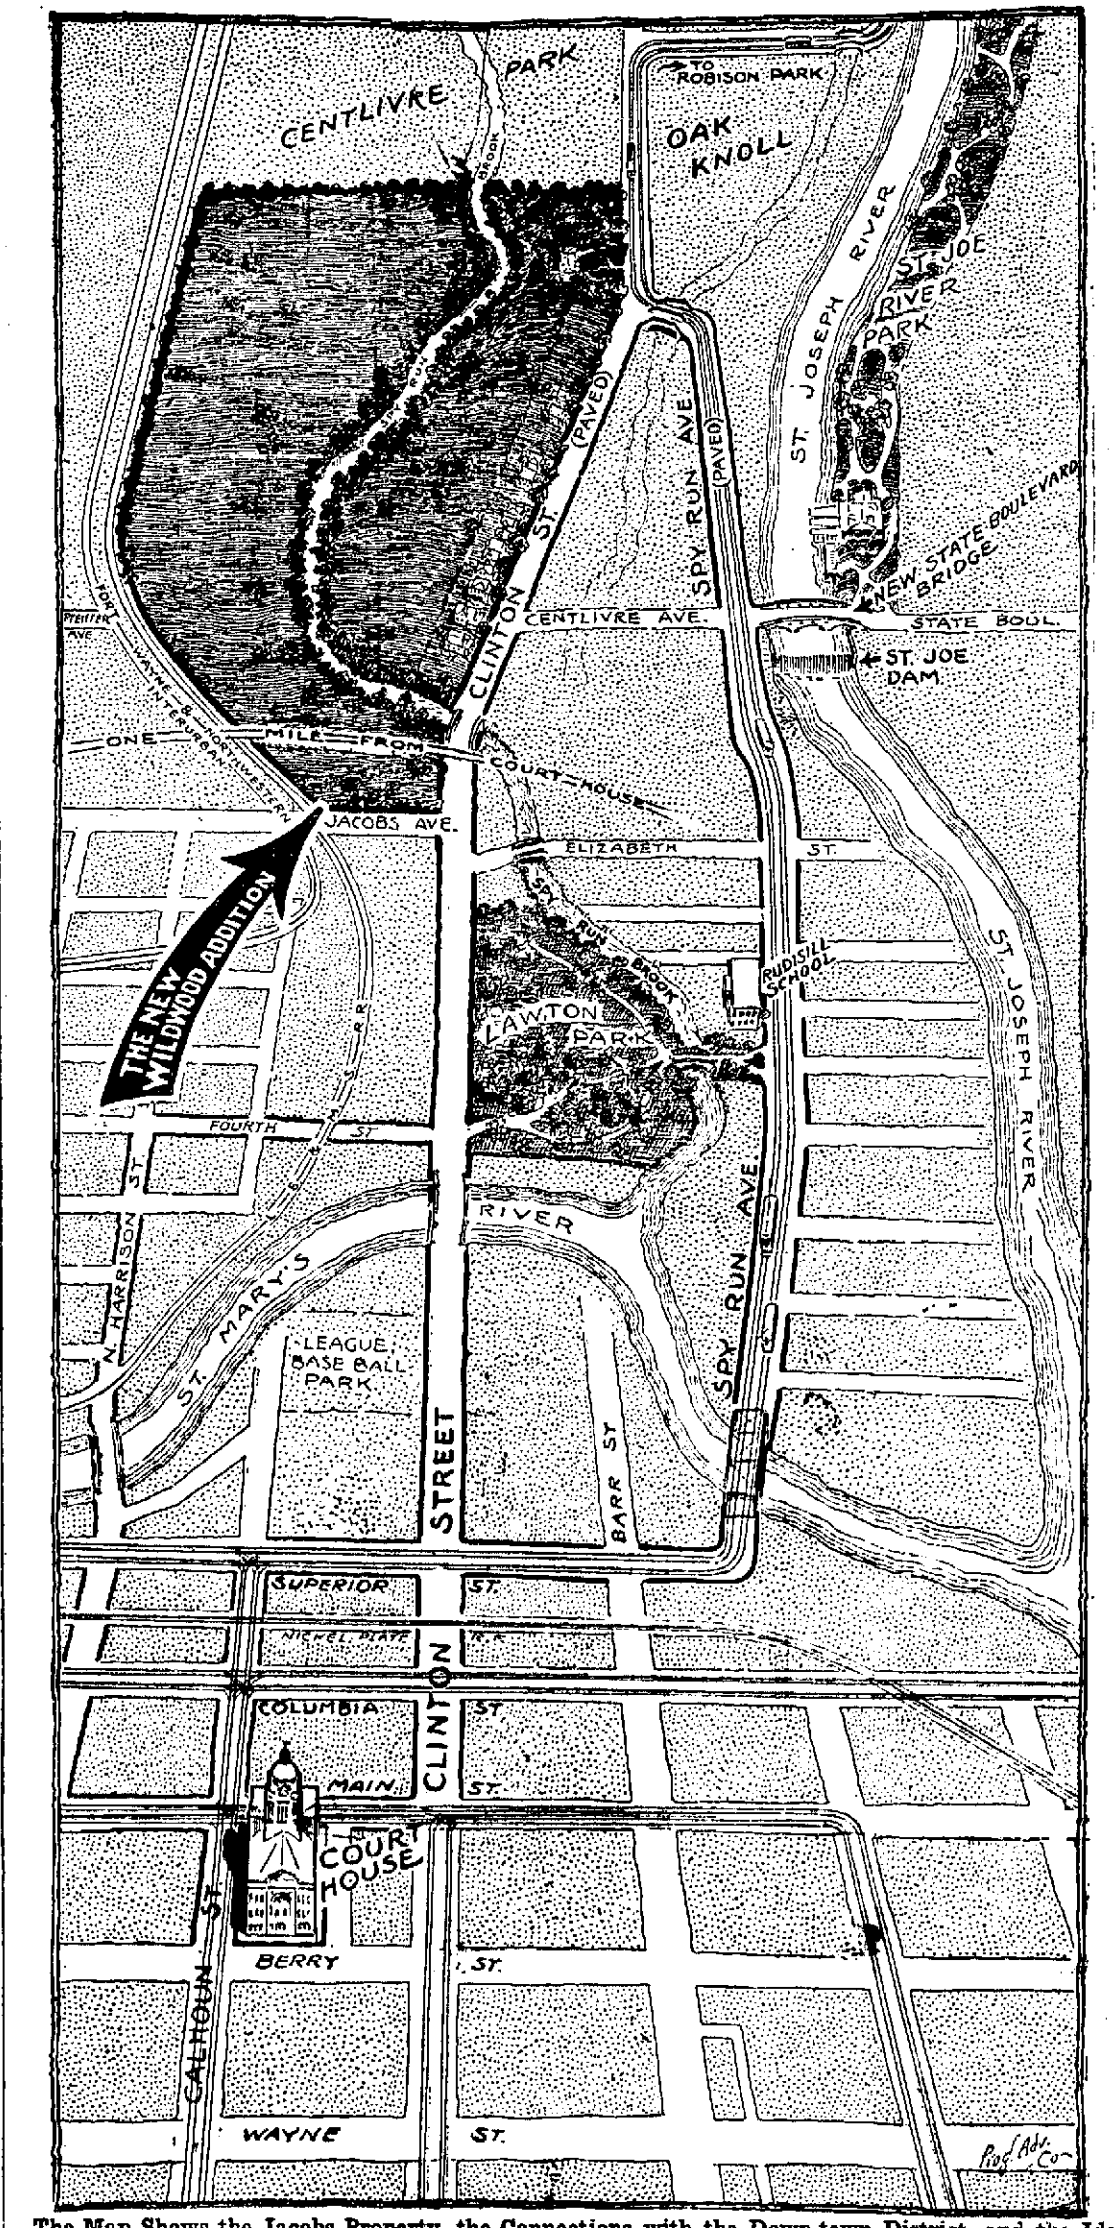

Arthur Shurtleff, the widely known Boston landscape architect, explained the possibilities of this tract of forty-six acres and by use of the stereopticon showed how other cities have developed similar pieces of land into most beautiful residential districts. Mr. Shurtleff will have personal charge of developing this new addition. Spy Run creek, which extends through the entire length of this property will be beautified and the natural beauty of the entire addition will be retained as far as possible. Mr. Shurtleff gave an address at the gathering of the stockholders which sparkled with the enthusiasm of a man who is glad to find conditions such as they exist in the Jacobs property.

E. J. Little, sales manager for the Wildwood company, provided at the meeting and as the opening event of the program he introduced Fred B. Shoff, who explained that the tract of land was only one mile from the heart of the city.

Lee J. Ninda, president of the company, spoke after Mr. Shurtleff's address and gave the practical details of the new plan. He gave L. F. Curdes the credit of being the father of the modern city planning. Mr. Ninda also stated that it was the plan of the company to have the tract developed to such an extent that the lots would be placed on sale by the middle of June this year with all improvements completed if possible.

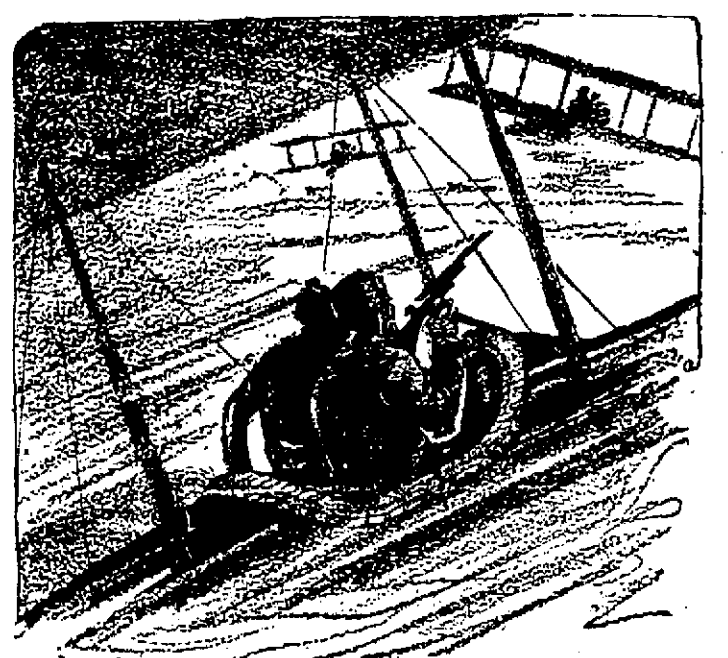

Mr. Curdes then responded to a request to make some remarks after which Walter H. Ingham, as a representative of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange, spoke in words of highest praise of the movement inaugurated by the Wildwood company in supplying this progressive city with another spot of beauty. The speaker explained that it was due to the efforts of the real estate men of this city that Fort Wayne is one of the most beautiful cities in the entire state.

THE JOHN H. JACOBS PROPERTY IS TO BE DEVELOPED INTO A HANDSOME RESIDENCE DISTRICT THIS YEAR.

The Map Shows the Jacobs Property, the Connections with the Downtown District, and the Ideal Location of the Tract.

Sham Fights, 10,000 Feet in Air, Prepare Uncle Sam's Fliers for Real War Work.

SHAM BATTLES HAVE TAKEN THE PLACE OF JOY RIDING OVER UNCLE SAM'S SCHOOL FOR FLIERS.

BY J. H. DUCKWORTH.)
Mineola, Long Island, N. Y., April 24.—Fiercely fought battles in the air are common occurrences nowadays at the army flying field, Mineola.
Sham fights, 10,000 feet up, to prepare Uncle Sam's airmen for real war is the daily program. Aerial jousting has been forbidden.
Under direction of the commander of the field, Capt. Carberry and Raynal C. Bolling, major in the officers' aerial reserve corps, thrilling war games are being practiced.
Familiar as the farmers of Long Island are to the sight of airplanes, they have been scared more than once recently in the early dawn, while on the way to New York with their garden truck, at the sight of aerial squadrons traveling at 100 miles an hour with exhausts wide open, being chased and fired upon by other flying squadrons.
So realistic are these encounters that it has looked as though German aircraft had somehow found their way across the Atlantic, as Admiral Peary has said they can, and were attempting to raid New York.
The most important game has for its object the training of men to find hostile airmen about to make an attack and to head them off.
Half a dozen swift machines are sent up with secret orders. They disappear, then, according to instructions, wing their way back by different routes.
The defenders in the meantime have gone aloft to locate the invaders.
If the defender gets above and behind an attacker before the latter has reached the hangars, he is credited with having "downed" him by machine gun fire.

PRIZES AWARDED FOR PENMANSHIP

Many Allen County Pupils Win Certificates for Good Writing.

Prof. O. L. Rogers, who has been supervising the penmanship of the county schools under the direction of Superintendent D. O. McComb, has awarded the prizes for the best writing. Miss Maud Bell Camp won the first prize of ten dollars; Miss Beale Meyers, the second, of $7.50, and Miss M. E. Stolte the third, of five dollars. The money is equally divided among the teacher and scholars.

The teachers in the county receiving honorable mention for success in penmanship are: Miss Josephine Bennett, Miss Pearl Townsend, Miss Orpha Davis, Miss Ruth Logue, Miss Florence Henderson, Miss Catherine Daley, Miss Carrie Noble, Mr. A. A. Ringwalt, Miss Estelle Waters, Miss Spohla Schowee, Miss Marie Wipshammer, Miss Milho Pratt, Miss Ethel Alster, Miss Helen Correll and Miss Adda Johnson.

NEVER SPOKE ENGLISH.

Hartford City, Ind., April 24.—German Hurlie, 86 years old, native of Germany, and a glass blower of considerable note over the country, is dead after a short illness. The widow, who is past 87, survives. Although in this country thirty-five years neither Mr. nor Mrs. Hurlie were able to speak one word of English.

Women Train to Replace Printers

Printing is another trade women are learning to be ready to take the places of men called to the colors. A New York girl is here shown learning to be a newspaper compositor.

GRACE ENDS FOR ALIEN ENEMIES TO GIVE UP ARMS

New York, April 24.—The country's alien enemies in New York are notified that this is the last day of grace allowed them to surrender weapons, munitions of war, air craft, wireless apparatus and other forbidden possessions enumerated in the president's proclamation. United States Marshal McCarty made it plain, however, that there will be no seizure and search of persons or houses except where the federal authorities have reason to believe an attempt has been made to violate the president's ruling. After today all enemy aliens found with weapons or other forbidden articles in their possession will be liable to seizure and internment without warrant and without recourse to any legal form.

MAYOR HOSEY NAMES KILBOURNE CHAIRMAN

Real Estate Man Has Charge of Examining Candidates for Army.

Edgar H. Kilbourne, real estate man and captain of the Arab patrol of Shriners, was appointed by Mayor William J. Hosey as chairman of the Fort Wayne committee which will have charge of examining applicants for training camp positions. The appointment was made Monday evening. Kilbourne will take up his duties at once. He will appoint several men as other members of the examining committee. The work of the group of men will be to stimulate interest in training service and to receive and examine applicants for the camp training. The young men who are accepted will be sent to Fort Benjamin Harrison, at Indianapolis, for three months of instruction in military technique. At the end of that period they will be given a rigid test to ascertain whether or not they are fitted for appointment as officers of the reserve corps.

MANY MARRIAGES.

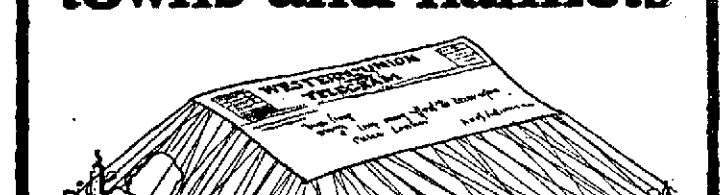

Hartford City, Ind., April 24.—Although there has been no open charge here that young men are hiding behind women's skirts to escape army service, the fact remains that since the conscription bill has been introduced in congress there has been a noticeable increase in

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

BELIEVED THEY COULD BEAT TRAIN

Failure Resulted in Accident and Death at a Bucyrus Crossing.

As a result of trying to beat a freight train at the Mansfield street crossing in Bucyrus and failing to notice the approach of the Pennsylvania Broadway limited, No. 28, Joseph E. Roberts, aged fifty-five years, was killed instantly and Homer Smith, aged twenty-three, so badly injured that he died three hours later. Roberts was a farmer and owner of a livery barn and Smith was employed by him as a farm hand. They were riding in an automobile and when they neared the Pennsylvania tracks, they saw a freight train approaching. Thinking he could beat the train, Roberts sped it to the crossing. The automobile arrived on the crossing just as the passenger train did and it was picked up and hurled aside by the engine, killing one man and fatally hurting the other. The towerman was on the ground to fix the gate lights for the night and made an effort to stop the men in the automobile by waving the lantern, but they paid no attention to him and drove ahead. The accident happened at 6:14 and Smith died at 9:27 o'clock. Conductor M. O. Ginty and Engineer Frank Simonson had charge of the train.

CONSIDERED FOOD PROBLEMS.

Fort Wayne Federation of Labor to Help Relief Committee.

One of the most interesting features of the proceedings of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor at the meeting last night was the part relating to the food relief committee movement. Delegates to the sessions of the committee will be sent to work in unison with the main committee in the movement. This decision was reached after a visit at the federation meeting last night by R. B. Hanna, Adam Rinehart, Attorney T. E. Ellison and W. F. Griener, who explained the movement and invited co-operation of the federation. I. L. Norford resigned the office of corresponding secretary because of his duties at the vocational school and a desire to take up a more advanced educational course for himself. A. C. Berger, of the Electrical Workers, was elected Mr. Norford's successor. J. J. Conway announced his resignation as a delegate from the Federation of Labor to the state meeting at Anderson, because he had been elected a delegate from the Structural Iron Workers. The federation elected the following delegates: S. W. Burgoon, Chris Hahn, J. J. Peerce, Henry J. Hoeltle and Mrs. Joseph Lacey. They went on record as endorsing the scout movement and measures intended to abolish gambling in food stuffs. The credentials of the organized "Coke and Water" union were received and the five delegates seated.

HORTON WORKS HAS FLAG.

Banner and Pole Dedicated With Impressive Ceremonies.

The children of the Nebraska school were enthusiastic participants in a flag and pole dedication at the plant of the Horton Manufacturing company, on Osage street, at noon Monday, when they sang "America" as the banner unfurled, releasing a number of little flags to float down and be eagerly picked up as souvenirs by those who witnessed the ceremonies. The pole, a well proportioned and pretty steel staff, located on the grounds near the office building, reaches seventy-eight feet above the surface of the earth and the flag that adorns it is 8x12 feet in dimensions. The staff was furnished by the company and was raised in position Saturday. The flag was purchased with money contributed by the 100 or more employees. It was pulled to its position on the pole by J. C. Peters, manager of the company, and was unfurled by Miss Eva Ery, a stenographer in the company's office. Attorney W. Hays Liville, a member of the battery, was the speaker. Battery D was present and fired a salute of three guns as the flag was unfurled. The entire program was well arranged and carried out and was one of the prettiest patriotic demonstrations of the times.

SHOPMEN TO BE GARDENERS.

Shop Management Gets Them Started in Right Direction.

The large attendance and the interest displayed in the matter at the noonday meeting in the machine shop yesterday and the one at the east car shop today indicates that the shopmen are taking hold of the proposition to cultivate the vacant ground at their homes with a view of adding to the country's food supply later in the season. At each meeting there was a big attendance and an expressed interest which was very encouraging to Master Mechanic E. E. Griest, who conceived the idea of the noon lectures and got A. J. Hutchins, agent to deliver them. He will deliver a lecture on the same subject at the Pennsylvania planing mills at noon, Wednesday. Many of the shopmen said they had available ground for gardening purposes, which was either allowed to lie idle or was used in part for flower beds. They will immediately, they said, put it out in foodstuffs, such as potatoes, beans, corn and tomatoes.

ENGINES FOR NICKEL PLATE.

Lima Works Delivers Three Big Freighters This Week.

Three more of the Mikado type of engines were delivered to the Nickel Plate at Laipis today by the Lima Locomotive works, making six delivered so far on an order for eight. The engines received today were numbered 505, 506 and 507. They are for use on the Buffalo division, which has been short on power until delivery on this order commenced. These engines are equipped with all modern improvements, including superheaters.

ATTRACTING ATTENTION.

The indications point to a "full house" at the social room of the First Presbyterian church, Thursday night, when J. T. Anthony will deliver a lecture on "Conduction and the Generation of Steam." This lecture will be the third number of the educational events in the series planned by President E. E. Griest and Secretary Pelce, of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., and it will be one of the most interesting and profitable to the hearers, for Mr. Anthony will not only tell them how to manage the furnaces in the locomotives, the shops and the private house, but will also tell them how to distinguish the good from the bad coal before using it. The association cordially invites any man interested in such matters to attend the lecture.

ORGANIZING DRILL CLUB.

The members of the Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver club who are employed in the General Electric works are organizing a drill club with a view of holding two drills each week. The first will be early next week. It is the intention to admit members of the Rifle club who are not employed at the big works if any desire to join, but it is expected that the greater portion of the club will be employees of the General Electric.

OUT ON BRIDGE INSPECTION.

The maintenance of way officials of the Grand Rapids and Indiana company started upon a bridge inspection over the line at 7 o'clock this morning, traveling on a motor car. They will make a thorough inspection and may be engaged at it the balance of the week. In the party are Division Engineer R. G. Jones, Master Carpenter H. M. Large, Bridge Inspector J. W. Carpenter and Supervisor D. R. Rico.

NEW BRIDGE OVER CLOVER LEAF.

W. S. Danes, superintendent of bridges of the Wabash, is getting ready to have a new and heavier bridge installed over the Clover Leaf road, near Toledo. The old bridge is to be replaced by the new one as soon as it arrives on the ground.

CARUSO GOING EAST.

Caruso and his band, twenty-four people, passed through the city this morning, traveling in a special car. They came in over the Wabash on train No. 28 at 10 o'clock and left over the Pennsylvania on train 40 at 12:30 o'clock. They came from Kansas City and are going to New York.

PREPARING FOR INVENTORY.

The inventory of the locomotives and cars of the entire Wabash system will be made next week and the division storekeepers and others who will be connected with the work are now preparing for it. Division Storekeeper G. T. Owens, of the Peru division, is at Montpelier and Delray in that capacity today.

HAVE ELECTRIC LIGHTS NOW.

The office of Yardmaster Charles F. Lyons and the office of Track Supervisor E. A. Blair, in the Nickel Plate yards, are now lighted by electricity and the coal oil lamps, so long in use there, have been relegated to the dump heap. The linemen have nearly completed installing the electric lights.

HAD A FINGER INJURED.

As a result of an accident at 6 o'clock last night J. T. Fox will not be able to work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop for a week or more. He was removing a conveyor from an engine, when the second finger of his left hand was caught between the conveyor and the tender and crushed.

MACHINISTS THREATEN STRIKE.

The machinists in the Conneaut shops of the Nickel Plate, the papers in that city state, threaten to strike if their demand for 45 cents an hour and the abolishment of the physical examination rules are rejected. The company offered a compromise on a basis of 40 and 42 cents per hour, which has been rejected.

SUFFERING FROM BLOOD POISONING.

From an insignificant pimple on his chin developed a severe case of blood poisoning on the face of Brakenham H. Holzworth, of the Nickel Plate. He is now improving, but will be unable to work for several days because of the malady.

HAD CALENDAR PARTY.

The Rosco club had a social Monday night, when they staged a calendar party. There was a continuous roll of laughter as the parts were acted out and the affair was one of the most enjoyable the club has given for some time.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Master Mechanic W. G. Black, of the Nickel Plate, was in the city yesterday. He resides in Chicago. C. H. Jockel, a flue welder at the Pennsylvania shops, resigned to join the hospital corps. E. F. Talley, a machinist in the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is sick and off duty. J. M. Zollars, of the Pennsylvania planing mills, is off duty on account of sickness. J. F. Roelle is not on duty at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop because of sickness. Westbound passenger train No. 1 on the Nickel Plate was in two sections yesterday because of heavy business. R. H. Foellinger has taken employment as a messenger in the Pennsylvania division storekeeper's office.

John R. Pulver, chief clerk in the shipping department of the General Electric works, is sick and off duty.

Ed R. Nelson has taken employment with Blacksmith Foreman H. C. Lepper at the General Electric works. Joseph Schwab, W. Street and L. Layer are new men at the General Electric punch press room.

Clarence Quinn, late of the Overland factory at Toledo, has taken employment as a dynamo assembler at the General Electric works.

Clair Cour and Charles Larson are new bench hands in the small motor department of the General Electric works.

G. W. McCoy, a blacksmith's helper, who had a toe crushed a week ago, reported for work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

C. A. Ezink, palmer at the Pennsylvania shops, is sick and off duty. R. A. Reim is also sick and absent from the paint shop.

Kenneth Laughlin, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, reported for work this morning, having recovered from an injury to one of his hands April 6.

Machinist Charles W. Rodenbeck, who had a foot hurt April 16, has recovered and reported for work at the Pennsylvania airplane room.

Night Crane Director F. G. Putt, who was sick nearly a week, resumed his duties in the Pennsylvania erecting shop last night.

Conductor C. F. Goodyear, who took a prominent part in the Shriner doings of the past week, reported for duty on the Nickel Plate yesterday.

Conductor G. W. Adams, who was sick, was able to resume work on the Nickel Plate yesterday. All of the patients are better, but not all are well.

C. N. Brentler, chief clerk in the Pennsylvania Central motive power office at Toledo, was in the city on business for the department today.

A. H. Korberik, general boiler inspector of the Nickel Plate, has been looking after that duty at the local round house for a day or two.

Nickel Plate Brakenham E. H. Bell has gone to the country home near Columbus City of his parents to see his father, who is quite sick.

Yard Conductor T. J. Hayes, of the Nickel Plate, is at Rome City fixing up his cottage for the summer outing campaign.

Elmer Misner, formerly employed in the Pennsylvania planing mills, has taken a position as brakeman on the G. R. & I. road.

Miss Ada German, stenographer in the engineering department of the General Electric works, is sick and off duty.

Theodore Titus, electrical engineer of the Pennsylvania Northwest system, is in Chicago on business for the company.

L. D. Nordstrom is back at his desk in the engineering department of the General Electric works after spending three days at Lake James, where he has a cottage.

Nickel Plate Fireman R. E. Dams is taking a few days' lay off to attend to some private matters. Fireman R. S. Lee is also taking a few days' rest.

Fireman W. O. Brown, of the Nickel Plate, and his wife were summoned to Peru Saturday by news of the death of her father. They will remain there to attend the funeral.

Fred T. Huston, assistant engineer of motive power of the Pennsylvania Northwest system, went to Cleveland last night on business for the department.

Gang Foreman F. H. Fell, of the receiving department of the General Electric works, added Charles Reese, R. Bachman and R. Ryan to his working force this morning.

E. Young, formerly employed at the Knitting mills, has taken employment as a rivet heater at the Pennsylvania boiler shop. Millard Dorsey is a new laborer at the boiler shop.

The whitewashing gang is at work at the Wabash shops. Today the interior of the roundhouse was coated and tomorrow the apparatus will be moved to the main shop.

Machinist William Jeffries, of the Wabash, has been transferred to Peru, Ill., to do some special work for the company that will consume about two weeks.

Frank Quinn, sick two weeks, and C. Griser, sick two or three days, reported for duty at the hand screw machine department of the General Electric works this morning.

Misses Esther Hobcock and Nora Krick are new winders in the small motor department of the General Electric works. They formerly worked in the department of Foreman Hatch.

Miss Ruth Conrad has been employed as a clerk by Foreman Jacob Ertman, of the small motor department of the General Electric works. She succeeds Isabelle Roy, resigned to take employment elsewhere.

Engineer T. E. Grubb and Engineer J. B. Maurer, of the Nickel Plate, are sick and off duty. Fireman O. K. Jensen, D. Wilford, D. R. Baurele and J. A. Wyatt, of the same road, are also sick and off duty.

Nickel Plate Conductor J. T. Murphy had to "dead-head" on No. 2 yesterday to his home in Bellevue, being quite sick and unable to take a train east. He suffered severely from an attack of indigestion.

Switchman E. M. Dutton, of the Nickel Plate, is taking a day or two off duty to look after some private business. F. H. Hickman, also a Nickel Plate switchman, is sick and off duty.

After a short rest, Brakenham George Osborne reported for duty on the Nickel Plate yesterday. He has not recovered complete health since he passed through a surgical operation for appendicitis a year ago.

G. L. Overmeyer, stenographer in the motive power office of the Pennsylvania at Toledo, is in the city visiting his relatives and calling upon his friends at the local motive power office.

Frank Green, of 1331 Brandriff street, employed in the receiving department of the General Electric works, is sorely afflicted with neuralgia and has been unable to work for several days.

Yardmaster C. D. Ross, of the N. Y. C., expects to resume work soon, after a lay off on account of injuries to one of his legs and ankle sustained in a fall. Mr. Ross has moved his family into their new home at 1429 Cass street.

Gardening and other private matters will occupy the attention of Engineers C. M. Crawford, G. A. Long and Arthur Crapper, of the Nickel Plate, for a few days. They had been working steadily for several weeks and felt that they needed a rest.

F. G. Stier, employed at the Pennsylvania erecting shop for eighteen months, and E. H. Stahn, who worked there two weeks, resigned this morning. Mr. Stier will take employment at the factory of the Western Gas Construction company.

Machinist N. J. Burch, one of the men suspended from the Wabash shops some weeks ago, has been recalled and reinstated in his old job. During his absence from the city, Mr. Burch worked for the Overland people at Pontiac.

The Gymnastic club at the Wayne Knitting Mills is interested in the Red Cross work and a movement has been started looking towards a school for education of the members in Red Cross work. Two of the members of the club are now in the night class of the Red Cross station.

Agent Ray Phillips and the employees of the New York Central depot have caused an American flag to be raised over the passenger station. Yardmaster C. D. Ross and his force have a pole ready to raise over the tower in the yards as soon as they can get a flag.

P. F. Merritt, from the Pennsylvania purchasing department office at Pittsburgh, will be in the city tomorrow on business with the division storekeepers, who are holding a meeting in the committee room at the Erie street station. Mr. Merritt was stationed in Fort Wayne a number of years and knows everybody at the Pennsylvania offices.

The track and bridge inspection of subdivision D, of the Pennsylvania, which began last week, will be finished this evening, when F. H. Mitchell, assistant master carpenter; C. R. Ladd, bridge inspector, and some of the supervisors complete the trip from Perletoon to Fort Wayne on a hand car. Mr. Zook has engaged in other work and could not accompany the party today.

Transportation has been issued to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Suter to Toledo and points east. The fact indicates that Mr. Suter, who is single, intends to get married and it is presumed the wedding will take place tonight. Mr. Suter is a pipefitter at the Wabash shops and the young man who performed the daring feat of climbing the forty-foot steel pole at the shop to put the flag rope through the pulley.

THREE FRANKFORT MEN CHANGE PLEAS

Say Guilty to Charges in Federal Court of Election Frauds.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—When three Frankfort, Ind., men charged with conspiracy to violate the election laws changed their former pleas of not guilty in the United States district court here today, the number of men from that city admitting their guilt was brought to five.

The three who pleaded today were Henry Wolf, former street commissioner; Bartlett Russell and John Gibbon, in whose homes it is charged Wolf made arrangements to buy votes in Frankfort. Three other Frankfort men, indicted at the same time, either have not pleaded at all or denied their guilt. Dr. Oscar W. Edmonds, candidate for mayor last year, has been ill and did not appear in court.

George Hart, now of Montgomery county, and Eula K. Metzger have pleaded not guilty. Sentencing of the men who have admitted their guilt was deferred by Judge A. B. Anderson.

At the same session of court a demurrer filed in behalf of Henry E. Drier, of Evansville, treasurer of the Vanderburgh county republican committee, was sustained as to the third count of the indictment, which was similar to the charges in the case recently before the United States supreme court. The demurrer, however, was overruled as to the first two counts, which are similar to the charges in the Terre Haute cases of 1913.

Drier's further pleadings, which will be filed this afternoon, it was said, would be either a plea in bar or plea in abatement.

Two attorneys representing Evansville democrats, who are to go to trial next week on charges of conspiracy to commit election frauds, were in the city today and said they were making preparations for the trials to begin Tuesday.

ARTHUR BAILEY IS FINED $50 AGAIN

Arthur Bailey, Leo butcher, was fined $50 and costs in police court Tuesday morning on a charge of assault and battery. It was alleged that he was driving the automobile which struck little Imogene Brooks and severely injured the girl two weeks ago.

Bailey was fined $50 and costs and his automobile license revoked on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Police claim that they identified Bailey because a part of his auto lamp was knocked off when he struck the child. They said he was under the influence of liquor when arrested. Bailey says that his car did not strike the child.

A damage suit for $2,000 has been filed against Bailey in circuit court by the father of the injured girl.

New York, April 24.—The executive committee of the Metropolitan Golf association has unanimously recommended the cancellation of all championship and other tournaments scheduled to be held this season under the auspices of the association. At the same time, the committee encourages informal tournaments in which entrance fees will be turned over to the Red Cross or other war relief organizations.

THE DEATHS.

POHL.

Mrs. Anna Mary Pohl, aged 74 years, widow of Joseph Pohl, died at 5:20 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Rosenberger, 503 St. Martin's street, where she had made her home since the death of her husband twenty-one years ago. The deceased had been in failing health for the past several months and had been confined to her bed for the past eight weeks. Death was due to senility. Mrs. Pohl was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church and also of the various societies of the same congregation. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mary Spoltman and Mrs. Catherine Rosenberger, both of Fort Wayne; two sons, William Pohl, of Coldwater, O., and Henry Pohl, of SOCIETY GIRLS DRIVE SPEEDY BABY RACERS.

Miss Dorothy Chadburn, of Minneapolis, with one of the miniature racing cars that are all the rage among the society folk of the exclusive Pasadena, Cal. colony. The tiny cars race at high speed and much rivalry exists among the girls whose hobby it is to drive them.

The car used by Miss Chadburn is the same in which Harry Hartz, the juvenile racing champion, won his title at the San Francisco exposition, and which he loaned to her during her Pasadena stay.

The baby racer was "clocked" recently at 50 miles an hour. Miss Chadburn has challenged any other girl driver to compete with her.

Efforts are being made by the Red Cross to arrange a meet at which the girls will drive, the proceeds to go to the general Red Cross fund.

QUIETUS PUT ON RUSH FOR LICENSES

War Department's Notice Has Put Damper on the Clerk's Business.

It may be that all the so-called slackers have now taken into themselves wives or it may be that the recent announcement from the war department that all men who were single at the time war was declared are subjects for service has caused an awful falling off in the number of marriage licenses issued.

At any rate there is some cause which has kept the youthful couples away from the county clerk's office. Not one single marriage license was issued Tuesday. Only three were issued Monday. Last Saturday, however, there was much business.

AUDITORS OFFICE BUSY.

Deputy Auditor J. H. Johnson and Jay Brown have been kept busy the past few days answering telephone calls and questions as to the ownership of vacant lots. In several cases they say that as high as fifteen people have inquired when the owner was of a certain lot. Women and men are constantly filing in and out of the office.

DESERTED TWELVE TIMES.

Charging that he deserted her twelve times since they were married in 1904, Minnie Ellison has sued William H. Ellison for divorce. She also avers that the defendant at various times threatened to kill her and compel her to go out and work for her own living. She asks that the court also restrain the defendant from visiting, molesting or talking to her at her home, 124 Wallace street. She also asks that the Brown Trucking company be enjoined from paying the defendant any of his back wages. Colverick & Hoag are her attorneys.

MARRIAGE SHORT LIVED.

Married on February 3, this year, Emil W. Fabian has sued for divorce from Mary Fabian alleging that the defendant has treated him cruelly and that it is no longer possible for him to live with her. Smith & Douglas are his attorneys.

MONEY TO GERMANY.

As set forth in his last will and testament, Michael Freimulle asks that $800 of his estate be given to his brother, Frederick, who resides in Germany.

ASSOCIATED PRESS
NO LONGER NEUTRAL

President Noyes Makes a
Fervid Address at the Annual Meeting.

New York, April 24.—The annual meeting of the Associated Press was held here today. In an address to the members at a luncheon held after a business meeting, Frank B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press, said:

"In the past it has been necessary on the occasion of war to explain the constraint the Associated Press was under to observe the strict neutrality on all controversial points due to the varied and manifold opinions of its membership.

"Today, thank God, this is no longer necessary but the contrary is true, for no trace of neutrality is coursing in our veins—but red blood and red blood alone.

"Today neutrality has been cast aside and we, in common with all true Americans, are standing with our consens to the north and these across the sea who under many flags are battling that government of the people for the people for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

"Never have the splendid ideals, not alone of our country, but of the world of democracy, been more greatly stated than on a night but a few weeks past in the capital building at Washington. Calmly, deliberately, wisely, our chosen leader has assembled behind himself a united nation, anxious to do its full part in this terrible ordeal by battle, taking its place, side by side with those others whose blood and treasure have been so freely spent, highly resolved that there shall not have died in vain.

"In every past great national crisis that we have met, God has raised up a leader truly great who has typified America, her hopes and ideals. In this day of national peril, He has not failed us.

"I give you the health of the president of the United States—Woodrow Wilson."

POWDER WORKERS KILLED.

Birmingham, Ala., April 24.—Three powder workers were killed in an explosion today in the Coalburg plant of the Aetna Explosives company, near here. The cause of the blast is not known. The victims were blown to pieces. Several were believed to have been injured. Officers of the company ordered an investigation.

AMEND ESPIONAGE BILL.

Washington, April 24.—The administration espionage bill, amended so that it would interfere in no way with newspaper criticism of the government, according to Chairman Flood, was ordered reported favorably today to the house.

Guard President
Even by Telephone

To be sure of President Wilson's safety, each guard at the gates of the white house has a telephone box from which he may call for help, if needed, by being connected direct with the president's special detective headquarters.

War Department's
Chief Chemist

DR. CHARLES E. PARSONS.

Dr. Parsons has been transferred from the bureau of mines to the war department where he is chief chemist. He is studying explosives to perfect a better powder to be used by United States troops and sailors in the war. He is famous for his work on radium.

DOUBLE TEAMS FAIL IN TRY FOR PLACES

Ten Leaders Retain Places at Close of Morning's Tourney Bowling.

Twelve two-man teams of Terre Haute Decatur and Ligonier tried to better the scores of the first ten outfits Tuesday morning. The work started at 10 o'clock and closed at noon, with more scheduled to start at 2:30.

The high total of the morning was made by Kruse and Randall, of Terre Haute, when they chalked up 1069. They were followed by Weir and Eaton with 1060.

EXPECT AN ADVANCE IN WHEAT WEDNESDAY

Cereal, Being Exported, Has Had a Raise in Larger Markets.

If wheat lives up to its late record and the expectations of Fort Wayne dealers it will figure in another rise here Wednesday. In the large market centers of the country the grain was up 7 to 10 cents Tuesday and this is always the cue for local prices to start an upward trend. The rise is attributed to the extra large amounts being exported at the present.

Outside of there being a possibility that wheat would rise in another twenty-four hours, nothing out of the ordinary occurred Tuesday. The business in the retail department was somewhat more slack than usual and the receipts on the wholesale market were light. Twenty loads were received at the city scales, seven being hay, five corn and the other eight oats. The hay sold at $14 to $15 a ton. This is $1 lower on the bottom price than that of Monday. The corn brought $1.53 @ 1.55, while the oats sold for 73¢ to 75¢.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 24.—Values took a decided upward swing today in the wheat pit, influenced largely by unfavorable advices regarding foreign crops. There were also reports that much Illinois winter wheat was being plowed up. Opening prices, which ranged from 1½¢ decline to a like advance, with May at $2.31½ to $2.33, and July at $1.98 to $1.99½, were followed by sharp gains all around.
Corn firm up with wheat. After opening 1½¢ off to a gain of 1½¢ the market scored a general rise to well above yesterday's finish.
Oats reflected the strength of other grain.
Advances of hogs and cereals carried provisions along.

the strongest features of today's early dealings, advances ranging from one to one and one-half for equipment and munitions to two and three-quarter points for Ohio Gas and almost four points for Industrial Alcohol. United States Steel rose a material fraction and gains of a full point were scored in associated industrials. American Tobacco's advance of 5½ points marked a partial recovery in that stock. Rails were featureless at irregular changes.

Shippings, Motors and Oils were again the objects of the attack after the first half hour's rise, some of those issued falling under minimum prices of the previous day. Alcohol and Utilities also forfeited the greater part of their gains. U. S. Steel lost all of its advance, but Bethlehem Steel new stock held more stubbornly. Trading broadened and corrections became more general toward midday, when copper showed further signs of weakness. A two-point rise in New York Central and a point decline in "So" were the only noteworthy variation among the rails. Bonds were steady.

PREPAREDNESS CAUSED DARK COMPLICATION

In Shadows of Night Colored Man Was Taking No Chances.

General preparedness against the possible evils which sometimes await in the forbidding shadows of night caused a lively row in the region of the "jail flats" Monday evening.

Leslie Smith, colored waiter, was having an "argument" with his wife, near the corner of Calhoun and Eureka streets, when Harry Cook, turnkey at the Allen county jail, passed that way at 9 o'clock. Cook thought that he saw Smith strike the woman. Cook paused.

"What do you want in my family affairs?" inquired Smith as he started towards Cook.

Cook was prepared. Smith was also guarding against a possible attack, he told in police court, Tuesday morning. Cook struck Smith and Smith struck Cook. John Stucking, colored, wearily approached and caught hold of the extremity of Cook's coat tail. He kept Cook from doing destruction.

Officers Smith and Bishop ran to the scene. The waiter did not know that they were patrolmen, he told. He was taking no chances. He tried to fight the combined forces until he was overpowered.

On the way to the police station Smith, the negro, misunderstood the attitude of Station Master Fred Fry. He struck at Fry, it is said. Fry retaliated and hit Smith a blow which broke a bone in Fry's right thumb. Smith was fined $15 and costs and Stucking $5 and costs on charges of disorderly conduct in police court Tuesday.

Severest Sentence.
 Judge Kerr imposed the most severe sentence he has ever doled out Tuesday morning. He fined William Morris, a colored youth, $350 and costs on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. The negro had will be at the state farm for just a year.

Morris was claimed to have attempted to hold up another colored man near the county jail, two weeks ago. He was bound to the circuit court on a highway robbery charge. Since that time the other negro has left the state and could not be secured as a witness. Morris said he would plead guilty to carrying weapons and be allowed to answer that charge. Then the judge made a new record for himself. Morris will stay at the farm until the entire amount of the fine is paid.

Took Tallow.
 H. A. Hager and D. Hager are charged with removing 300 pounds of tallow from the meat market of Frank Wilson, 512 Harrison street. The men are supposed to have removed the tallow in several allotments. Their case was continued on Tuesday morning.

Hunted Trouble.
 Albert Pinner, colored, thought he heard a dreadful row between a man and his wife in a house on Lafayette street Monday evening. Pinner believed from the sounds that reached his ear that his assistance was needed. He picked up a piece of gas pipe and went towards the door of the dwelling.

Prayer testified that a brick or something came flying out of the house and hit him on the face. His right cheek was badly swollen. He had been locked up on a drunk charge when he reported his story to the police. He was released Tuesday morning.

Other Police Court Cases.
 Adolph Liebenow was intoxicated on Monday in three hours after he was released from the county jail after serving a short sentence on an intoxication charge. He was fined $100 and sentenced to thirty days at the state farm on the intoxication complaint which he faced on Tuesday morning.

Other cases of inebriation were Richard Jamison, released, and Fred Sheldon, continued.

Wait Loring and Ed L. Cross, two young men in uniform, were charged with disorderly conduct. They were taken from a saloon by Patrolman Johnson Monday evening. They were ordered held in jail until Wednesday by Captain McAdams.

A loved one went away
 One moment when the sun was bright;
 But when he said "good-bay"
 That thrill in his voice was light.

When the night was drawing near
 The light of hope still burned,
 Till we heard a rap at the door and a voice clear
 Said: "He will never return."

Although the days for us are dark,
 For him—as he is at rest,
 The days are bright and nevermore dark,
 For his soul, in heaven, is best.

ARE TORN FROM HOMES IN MOST GENTLE MANNER

Amsterdam, April 24.—A semi-official statement issued in Berlin says the deportation of the inhabitants in the evacuated districts between Arras and Soissons has been accomplished without hardships to the civilians. The statement adds: "The transport of their belongings even delayed the transport of important war material. For this reason it was impossible in many cases to remove felled fruit trees, the wood of which represents important material for our war industries. The trees were cut down in order that their leaves in spring and summer might not afford cover to marching columns against our armies."

The male and female population between the ages of 15 and 60 were deported. Mothers with children under 15 remained with their children. The entire population of St. Quentin was transported to the rear. As far as possible they were allowed to choose their own places of abode. Objects of value were taken in charge by the German authorities.

DESPERATE CHARACTERS ARRESTED AT OHIO CITY

Had Robbed Man Near Kenton Then Threw Him from Fast Moving Train.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
 Van Wert, Ohio, April 24.—Three desperate characters were arrested last night by Sheriff Herman Gunsett and Detective George Allen at Ohio City in response to a message from Kenton. They are Percy Carr, 32, colored, and Jessie Rohr, 20, white, both of Cincinnati, and Harry Carylls, 24, of Indianapolis.

The three men left Columbus, Ohio, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on a T. & O. C. freight train. At Marysville they are charged with robbing a man and between Kenton and Marion they are alleged to have taken a blue serge suit worn by a man by the name of Dodge, who at the point of a revolver was compelled to put on the clothes worn by the colored man. Between Kenton and Lima they robbed another man of his money and underwear and then threw him from the fast moving train. He is now at Kenton with a fractured skull and his condition is said to be serious.

When the officers attempted to arrest the trio Rohr reached for his 28-caliber revolver and the weapon was taken from him before he could have an opportunity of using it. A gold watch, believed to have been stolen, was taken from Carylls. The watch was a Duher twenty-year gold case, No. 8,645,301 and fifteen jewel works, No. 16,273,647. The men were taken to Kenton today.

DRINK RULES IN RUSSLAND ARE MODIFIED

Petrograd, April 24.—(Via London.)—The provisional government has modified the rules governing the sale of alcoholic drinks by the introduction of the following regulations:

First—The sale of alcoholic drinks containing a percentage of alcohol in excess of one and a half degrees is prohibited throughout Russia.

Second—Export to foreign countries of grape wines of every kind is permitted regardless of their percentage of alcohol.

Third—In wine growing districts the sale of wines produced locally and not containing a percentage of alcohol in excess of twelve degrees is permitted. Sales of these wines outside of the wine growing districts is only permitted in towns and may be prohibited by the municipal authorities.

AUBURN NEWS.

Auburn, Ind., April 24.—Another divorce case was filed Monday when Mrs. Fildous Kendall of Butler, asked the court for a divorce from her better half, Amos Kendall, Jr., formerly of Butler, but at present his whereabouts are unknown. The couple were married in 1913 and separated in June, 1916. She charges cruel and inhuman treatment and non-support. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney C. M. Brown.

The raising of the flag at the Moose lodge last evening was attended with all due ceremonies and a big crowd was present. The band and Company K were on hand and it was the biggest celebration of its kind held in this city since war was declared.

The wedding of Miss Esther Dicklerhoff and Glen Krontz, both residents of Butler, occurred yesterday at the Methodist parsonage with Rev. P. A. Hall officiating. Both are prominent young people of Butler and they will make their future home there.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Floyd McKenna and Glenna Enrich, both of this city. They were married by Rev. Slater at the Lutheran parsonage.

Six more recruits have been added to Company K and Captain Moudy is confident that in a few days he will have the number of men required. The number that have joined Company K since war was declared is forty-nine.

Since the county superintendent of schools, Mrs. Lida Leasure, has announced that she will not be a candidate for re-election, there have been two candidates appear in the field, namely, Francis M. Merica, of Garrett, and Scott Forney, of Ashley. Mr. Merica was the efficient superintendent of the schools of Garrett for eighteen years and has a splendid record. Mr. Forney is at present superintendent of schools of Ashley and is also well known in educational circles.

Mrs. P. J. White is spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Ruehman, of Hicksville.

Word was received in this city yesterday by Mrs. Eva Kutzner, of South Indiana, avenue, that her sister, Mrs. M. A. Miller, of Angola, had passed away early Monday morning after an illness of several months from cancer.

Ferris Bower, who has been a patient at the Sacred Heart hospital at Garrett, for three weeks, was brought to his home in this city Saturday afternoon. He is improving rapidly from his recent critical operation.

Mrs. Orpha Brown and children, of Wabash, Ind., are guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Ralph Thomas, and Mrs. Dr. Graham.

Quite a number from this city have been attending the Thomas revival meetings which are in progress at the Methodist church in Garrett. "Eddie" Thomas as he is known, is one of the best known evangelists in this section and is drawing big crowds at Garrett.

H. J. Swartz, of Freeport, Ill., was an over Sunday guest of his mother and brother in this city.

A reception was held at the local Y. M. C. A. last evening for Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Pribbenow, who returned Monday from a honeymoon trip to Chicago.
